MARTIN SCHAAF

By MARY LEYDECKER

The Marin County Board of Education began wary consideration last night of the appeal of a Sir Francis Drake High School senior who was expelled for continued defiance, which was sometimes obscene and apparently encouraged by his father.

This is the first such hearing before the county board in the memory of officials, and the expulsion is the first in at least several years at Drake.

Martin Schaaf, 17, was described by school officials as a boy who stayed out of trouble for almost three years at the school. In fact, according to Dean of Boys Francis Mulholland, Schaaf was rescued by him from a "donnybrook" last spring in which other boys were teasing and beating him.

Sometime in his junior year, Schaaf, a pasty-faced, bespectacled, boy with stringy strawberry blond hair and beard, apparently began to espouse actively the "yippie" view of politics.

Schaaf ran into his first trouble with school authorities when Mulholland caught him cutting his first period class and passing out pamphlets advertising a student strike. The boy was suspended, not as one of the students who cut school to participate in the strike against the Vietnam War, but for encouraging others to join the strike and for the pamphlet episode.

This fall, according to school officials, Scaaf wasted no time in starting his political activities. For "back to school night," in September, Schaaf decorated posters advertising a football game by writing such slogans as "student power" on them.

(A school official said he later did give Schaaf permission once to put up a sign advertising a yippie meeting in Berkeley.)

Then Schaaf ran into trouble with his study hall teacher, who told him he could not sleep in class. After tearing up a pass which the teacher wrote to send him to the dean of boys, Schaaf stomped out, the teacher said.

Next the youngster was accused of instigating the painting of signs in red on school walls,

$8.5 Million Bridge Bus System Asked

Span Board Hears Idea For Fleet Of 150 Buses

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The former chief engineer of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District recommended today that the district go into the bus business immediately at a cost of $8.5 million.

The engineer, Arthur C. Jenkins of Berkeley, was hired in September by district directors to lay out a bus link for a fee of $6,000. Directors wanted his advice before they considered setting up a bus system.

Jenkins' 90-page report, presented today to the bridge board, said the annual cost of subsidizing a system of 150 new buses would be $1,411,000. This cost would include all necessary land, buildings, facilities and equipment, he reported.

The bus system would be serviced from a new facility, probably in San Rafael.

It would serve Marin, San Francisco, Sonoma and Napa counties and would be financed entirely out of bridge revenues and surpluses. No property tax funds would be required.

The name of the district would be changed to the Golden Gate Bridge and Transit District.

The buses would have air conditioning, semi-reclining highbacked seats and engines powerful enough to keep up with fast-moving traffic on Waldo Grade.

Jenkins said that the new system would be formed in close cooperation with Western Greyhound Lines, with a gradual transfer of the system from Greyhound to a new bridge district staff of 250 persons. This would include 200 drivers.

Present Greyhound drivers would have the option of working for the public system, according to Jenkins.

Jenkins said the new bus system could be in actual operation in seven months after new buses are ordered.

Greyhound long has maintained that its losses on commuter operations are excessive and repeatedly has declared its intention to drop all commute bus operations.

The new bus system, said Jenkins, would handle the equivalent of up to four lanes of additional vehicular traffic on the bridge and connecting freeways. Jenkins noted that the new fleet would be one-third larger than Greyhound's, would be far more comfortable and, under his proposal, would take commuters where they want to

OBJECT: SOFT LANDINGS

Russia Launches New Venus Shot

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today launched an unmanned spaceship toward the planet Venus. It was the second such launch within a week and the official news agency Tass said both would attempt soft landings.

Venus 6 launched today and Venus 5 launched last Sunday indicated the Russians have switched their interest to the planet Venus rather than the moon. There have been hints in the Russian press of a possible manned flight to Venus sometime in the next decade.

The United States now has no firm plans to explore Venus but plans to launch two Mariner television probes to Mars in February and March. Each will take several dozen pictures from 2,000 miles up.

Venus 6, apparently was identical with the 2,494-pound Venus 5 sent off on its 200-million mile journey earlier.

The two probes were scheduled to slide through the murky Venutian atmosphere to soft landings on the "dark side" of earth's nearest planetary neighbor about mid-May.

Soviet space scientist Kirill Kondratyev dubbed Venus "the planet of riddles" and said after the Venus 5 launch the Soviet Union wanted to learn much more about "the composition of the cloud particles, the thickness of the cloud layer, and what holds it in a constant shroud around the planet."

Nonteaching Leader Seeks Strike Sanction Withdrawal

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The chairman of the nonteaching staff assembly at San Francisco State College has asked the San Francisco Labor Council to withdraw its sanction for what he calls a farical strike by Local 1352 of the American Federation of Teachers.

The AFT local, with about 350 members from the regular faculty and part-time teaching assistants, went on strike at the college Monday.

"If the faculty can attend an academic senate meeting on campus or hold classes off campus to fulfill their contractual obligations in order to be paid and keep their jobs, can they in all justice ask the staff to give up all of these things in a fight from which the staff will not benefit monetarily or otherwise?" he demanded.

"I call for the wrath of organized labor to descend upon these pretenders and educate them," he concluded. "I also call upon the San Francisco Labor Council to withdraw its sanction of of this farce."

State's Jobless Total Declines

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's unemployment level fell to 4.1 per cent of the work force at the end of 1968, the lowest in more than a decade, the state reported today.

Employment Director Peter Weinberger said there were 337,000 unemployed, a decline of 13,000 during the month of December.

Meanwhile, total civilian employment reached a December record of 7.89 million. There was a larger upswing of employment in holiday jobs during the 1968 Christmas season.

N.Y. Turns Broadway Into 'Apolloway'

NEW YORK (AP)—New York greeted the Apollo 8 astronauts today with music, wind-whipped flags, tons of ticker tape and the roar of delighted crowds as they were paraded up Broadway, unofficially nicknamed "Apolloway" for the occasion.

As the spacemen started the parade, they passed a group of children waving a placard which said, "We love you."

And that, judging from the cheering and explosions of applause, pretty well expressed the mood of the city for the three men who orbited the moon for 20 hours.

PAPER SHOWER

Showers of streamers and tickertape began floating down from towering office buildings lining the route from the Battery to City Hall, the traditional parade route known as the "Canyon of Heroes."

A stiff wind whipping in from Lower New York Harbor caught the paper and sent it swirling into the crowds.

FAMILIES PARADE

The astronauts' wives, Susan Borman, Marilyn Lovell and Valerie Anders, rode in the second car. Their families, totaling 10 children, were in a third car, protected from the wind by a "bubbletop" plastic dome.

Ticker tape and streamers began fluttering down from skyscrapers about 20 minutes before the parade began. Hundreds of persons who work in the financial district showed up early, carrying lunches.

Four bands, and four marching platoons, representing the Air Force, Army, Navy and Coast Guard, headed the procession.

Saturday Evening Post Will Quit

NEW YORK (AP)—The Saturday Evening Post, a part of small town America for 148 years, will cease publication with the Feb. 8 issue, it was announced today.

"Apparently, there is just not the need for our product in today's scheme of living," Martin S. Ackerman, president of the Saturday Evening Post Co. said at a news conference.

He estimated Post losses for 1968 at about $5 million.

COMBINED AP & UPI

School officials today canceled a state of emergency which resulted in the peaceful, mass arrests yesterday of 286 students and their supporters during an unauthorized rally at San Fernando Valley State College at Northridge.

The state of emergency was called off following a meeting early today between school officials and militant Negro student leaders. The students also agreed to stage an "informational" rally off campus instead of on the suburban campus, 20 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles.

No one resisted arrest and some even joked with the 75 white-helmeted policemen during the roundup. There was, however, considerable swearing and shouting at the police station.

A police sergeant said it was one of the most peaceful mass arrests he had ever seen.

Leaders of the Black Students Union are seeking establishment of a black studies program, hiring of more Negro teachers, firing of "racist" faculty members and amnesty for 28 BSU members indicted by the county grand jury.

The members were named in felony counts following the Nov. 4 takeover of the Valley State administration building during which administration officials and employees were held hostage—some at knifepoint—for four hours.

In another trouble spot, four fires, the worst of which ruined a classroom and an instructor's office, were reported yesterday at Solano College at Vallejo. All were believed work of arsonists.

Damage to the classroom and office, both vacant at the time, was estimated at $40,000 by Vallejo fire department of-

Pickets Continue

SAN JOSE (AP) — Picketing by the striking American Federation of Teachers and student sympathizers moved into its third day at San Jose State College today with the campus calm and free of incidents.

HAYAKAWA TELLS ATTENDANCE DROP

Striking S. F. Faculty, Administration Differ On Class Count; Pickets Continue

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The results of two months of strikes and violence at strife-torn San Francisco State College was reflected today by diminishing classroom attendance and growing hostility toward police efforts to maintain order.

Even acting president S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, who has previously declined to discuss attendance figures, confirmed yesterday that only 50 per cent of of the school's 18,000 students are attending classes.

Members of the striking American Federation of Teachers and two militant minority groups, who have been on strike since Nov. 6, claimed the figure was much less than 50 per cent.

The teachers were warned they would be considered by college administrators as having resigned and in contempt of court for defying an injunction against their strike.

"Our attorneys tell us the state cannot declare involuntary resignations," said a union leader. "We will continue to strike."

As classes resumed, a coed was arrested when her car swerved close to several policemen crossing the main intersection near the campus. Foul-smelling chemicals were poured

Sonoma Teachers To Send Delegates To Strike Talks

American Federation of Teachers Local 1764 at Sonoma State College, will send two delegates to the statewide union meeting in San Francisco tomorrow to plan what direction strike efforts will take.

Dr. Bernice Goldmark, Sonoma State local president, will attend and has called a meeting of her local at noon Monday to report what strategy has been decided upon.

"We want to cooperate with the state AFT so our efforts to improve education will be well-planned," she said today. Her local voted Tuesday 20 to 2 to strike if reprisals are made against striking teachers in San Francisco.

Dr. Goldmark said she has been exploring ways of getting strike sanction from the Sonoma County Labor Council if such action is asked at the statewide meeting at 10 a.m. at the International Inn.

The education professor noted that there is dissention in her 30-member organization, but said most will support a strike. "I'm not aware of efforts by anyone to resign," she said.

A petition opposing teacher strikes was circulated during the Christmas holiday, Dr. Goldmark said, and was signed by nearly 80 per cent of the 140-member faculty.

"We realize that many disagree with our actions, but know that since the petition was circulated, the actions of the state college trustees have caused many who signed to have a change of heart," she said.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Finch Names Woman Key Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Patricia Hitt of Villa Park, Orange County, is the first woman to be named to a high post in President-elect Nixson's cabinet committee.

Mrs. Hitt was nominated yesterday an assistant in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Robert H. H. Finch, HEW's secretary-designate said.

Mrs. Hitt

She will head the department's community and field services, an area covering consumer protection. Mrs. Hitt is a former California Republican National Committee member.

She worked on Finch's campaign for California lieutenant governor in 1961 and served as women's state chairman for George Murphy when he successfully ran for the U.S. Senate in 1964.

Flu Deaths

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Deaths from influenza and pneumonia increased sharply again for the week ending Jan. 4, almost tripling the number expected, the National Communicable Disease Center said yesterday.

A NCDC spokesman said 1,523 persons died from flu and pneumonia during the week in 122 cities for which it keeps mortality statistics.

Only 528 deaths had been expected in those cities, leaving 995 to be attributed to the continuing epidemic of Hong Kong flue.

Burglary Denied

Raymond Bruce Edwards, 26, of Navato, pleaded innocent in Marin Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of burgling the home of David Elliott Stovel of Lochinvar Road, San Rafael, Dec. 1. Preliminary hearing was set for 2 p.m. Jan. 28.

Bricks A Killer

BELOIT, Wis. (AP) — The mantle and fireplace in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Gim Wong collapsed yesterday, killing their 6-year-old son Michael.

The Wongs moved into their home last Saturday.

Police Capt. James Mattison said the child was alone in the room when the mantle and about ten rows of bricks fell. The boy was struck on the head by several bricks, Mattison said. Cause of the collapse was not determined.

Riot Sentences

TETOVO, Yugoslavia (AP) — A Tetovo court has sentenced 79 persons, most of them Albanian nationals, to jail-terms of eight to 30 days for participating in anti-Yugoslav demonstrations here last December, it was learned yesterday.

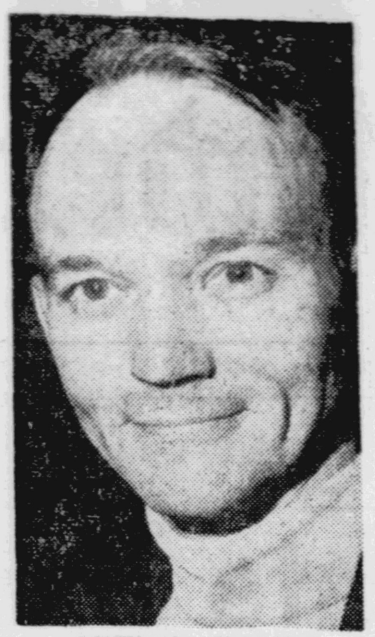
Court procedures were started against 15 other Albanian nationals for similar offenses.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said companies and other institutions had been holding meetings at which they "unanimously reached decisions on firing their fellow workers who participated in anti-Yugoslav, chauvinist riots here."

Apollo Moon Landing Team Selected

EDWIN ALDRIN

NEIL ARMSTRONG



MICHAEL COLLINS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two veteran spacewalkers and the pilot who brought Gemini 8 through the nation's only emergency in orbit will try to carry mankind to the surface of the moon, perhaps by mid-July.

The space agency yesterday named these men—Gemini 8 pilot Neil Armstrong and spacewalkers Michael Collins and Edwin (Buz) Aldrin — as the crew for the first U.S. lunar landing spacecraft, Apollo 11.

Their mission now carries the entire focus of the $25 billion Apollo program, aimed at ffulfilling the goal of a moon landing in this decade set more than seven years ago by the late President John F. Kennedy.

If Armstrong, Collins and Aldrin make it in July they would meet this goal with months to spare. Plans call for Armstrong and Aldrin to attempt the actual landing, while Collins circles the moon 69 miles above them in the Apollo command ship.

Naming of the astronauts for the most ambitious space mission man has ever planned capped a day filled with space activity in the nation's capital.

Earlier the Apollo 8 astronauts, who orbited the moon 100 times during their Christmas week spaceflight, made their first public report on that mission. They said the most impressive view they saw was the blue ball of earth rising over the chalk-white, rugged lunar landscape.

Armstrong, Collins and Aldrin will be flying the fifth manned Apollo mission. Their mission could start as early as July 11, when a moonshot launch "window" that lasts until July 22 will open.

Armstrong, who flew Gemini 8 to a safe emergency splashdown in the Pacific Ocean after a wildly-firing control rocket spun it out of control in 1966, is a 38-year-old civilian.

Collins, the spacewalker of Gemini 10, is an Air Force lieutenant colonel. He was originally on the Apollo 8 crew, but a neck operation before the mission forced him to be replaced by Lovell.

Aldrin became the world's first successful working spacewalker during Gemini 12 in 1966. An Air Force colonel, he will be 39 on Jan. 20.

Armstrong and Aldrin, the two men who will land on the moon, have spent more time than any other astronauts in the landing training vehicle which is now indefinitely grounded because of a crash. An early model of this craft crashed once before with Armstrong at the controls, but he escaped uninjured.

Two Apollo missions stand between the moon-circling flight and the moon landing. Apollo 9 next month will be the moon lander's first test with men. Apollo 10 in April or May will circle the moon, coming within 10 miles of the surface.

Tass Critical Of Sirhan Team

MOSCOW (AP) — The news agency Tass criticized the U.S. judicial system today for the "numerous excuses" it has provided Sirhan Bishara Sirhan in delaying the start of his trial for the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sirhan's defense attorneys "continue to drag out the trial," Tass said, "by using numerous excuses provided by the legal system of the U.S.A."

The Tass story was the latest in a series of articles in the Soviet press criticizing the handling of the Sirhan case.

Joe Louis Seeking His Third Divorce

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Louis, former world heavyweight champion, is seeking a divorce from his third wife, Martha. A spokesman said Louis asked his wife, a Los Angeles attorney, to seek the divorce because he finds it "increasingly difficult to provide the kind of home life his wife required."

They have been married 11 years. Both of Louis' previous marriages ended in divorce.

Hanoi Gains Added Paris Power With Sweden's Diplomatic Nod

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam's hand in the Paris war talks has been greatly strengthened by Sweden's decision today to great Hanoi full diplomatic recognition, high diplomatic sources said.

The sources said the Swedish move may soon be followed by other capitals in Scandinavia and possibly elsewhere. There was speculation Stockholm had discretely tipped off its Scandinavian neighbors before taking the decision.

North Vietnam was expected to hail the move as a massive breakthrough. But the Hanoi delegation withheld immediate comment pending instructions from its capital.

The Swedish move was certain to cause dismay in allied quarters which are engaged in a test of wills with the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong over how to organize the expanded Paris talks.

American officials said the recognition was "unrelated" to the negotiations and sought to minimize its impact.

(In Washington, the State Department said it had no comment on Sweden's decision. Washington maintains an embassy in Stockholm and the Swedish government still officially recognizes South Vietnam.

(In Saigon, Nguyen Qui Anh, the No. 2 man in South Vietnam's foreign ministry, said, "this policy has favored the Communists. We are not at all surprised at their decision.")

The Swedish announcement said, "as the negotiations in Paris are now entering a stage which, it is hoped, will be decisive for peace in Vietnam, it would appear that the time has come to establish diplomatic relations" with North Vietnam.

U.S. officials in Paris said, "we recognize the existence of North Vietnam ourselves enough to engage with them in a negotiation, even though we do not give them diplomatic recognition."

Western diplomatic quarters seriously considered today the possibility of a third party mediation to try and break the procedural deadlock blocking the expanded Vietnam talks.

Both allied and Communist sources shrugged off the idea for the present as impracticable. They believed any mediation at this point would embroil the mediator in a political quarrel far deeper than the present one over the shape of a conference table.

Free To Sail

FLEKKEFJORD, Norway (UPI) — Norwegian authorities said today three Soviet trawlers whose captains paid $280 fines for violating "military waters" in southern Norway yesterday were free to sail.

Red Battle Deaths At 191,387 In '68

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist soldiers died on Vietnam battlefields at the rate of 523 a day in 1968, South Vietnamese military spokesmen said today. The Red losses of 191,387 killed were the heaviest of the war.

The total Communist killed compared to 85,124 killed in 1967, the report said, and reflected the heavy fighting of the big Communist Tet and May offensives last year. American and South Vietnamese casualties also were the largest of the war in 1968.

The government spokesmen said the heavy Communist losses had made their fighting capability "very limited" compared to 1967.

Battle communiques today said Communist gunners overnight shelled two allied airfields, a U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division outpost and a government infantry headquarters.

American B52 bombers attempted to prevent a Communist buildup before the Tet lunar new year holiday by flying raids within 18 miles of Saigon, the closest they have bombed near the capital in 10 weeks.

The government casualty report said another 21,050 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops were captured. It said 17,500 deserted.

The strength of Communist forces in South Vietnam was placed at 300,100, a drop of 20,900 during the past year. Intelligence reports said Communist battalions today average 200 to 300 soldiers, from 50 to 60 per cent below normal.

Racing Schooner Loses Crewman, Survives Blow

HALIFAX, N. S. (AP) — The schooner Bluenose II set course for Bermuda today, minus one crewman who was lost overboard during an Atlantic storm that battered the vessel for three days.

Capt. Ellsworth Coggins reported last night the schooner's sails are tattered and her power steering is out of service, but otherwise "everything is under control." She is expected to reach Bermuda tomorrow or Sunday.

Bluenose II, an exterior replica of the famous Nova Scotia fishing-racing vessel Bluenose, encountered rough weather 350 miles south of Nova Scotia Tuesday. On Wednesday a giant wave crashed across the schooner's deck, washing two crewmen overboard.

One of them climbed back aboard, assisted by shipmates, but Neil Robitaille, 22, of Yarmouth, N.S., was lost when a rescue rope broke as the crew was pulling him up.

A NAMING CONTEST?

Nixon Gets Irish Setter For Birthday

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon is thinking of having a contest to find a good Irish name for the red setter he has not yet received as a birthday present.

The setter is a present from Nixon's staff for his 56th birthday, but is not to be purchased until after the Jan. 20 inauguration.

In Northampton, Mass., last night, Nixon remarked at a family birthday party that he might have some kind of competition to find an appropriate name for the dog.

Nixon once had a red Irish setter, but that was before World War II. Its name was King.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced that the staff was giving him another dog of that breed.

"We don't have a name yet. Mr. Nixon wants to meet the dog and judge its personality," Ziegler said. It wasn't until later that Bruce Wehelan, another Nixon press aide, reported the president-elect's mention of a dog-naming contest.

The Nixons already have two dogs, a Yorkshire terrier named Pasha, and a French poodle called Vicky.

There is the possibility of the fourth. President Johnson has said that one of his dogs, Blanco, is at home at the White House and would like to stay there after the inauguration.

"If Blanco does have a desire to stay at the White House, Mr. Nixon certainly wouldn't turn him away," Ziegler said.

Fight Language

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Moms of the South African Women's Federation don't like the rough language used on their sons by the army's regimental sergeant-majors. A congress of the federation drew up a motion calling on the Defense Department to investigate bad language during military training.

Historian's Wife Changes Name

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Historian Will Durant's wife of 55 years, authoress Ariel, finally can sign her name legally.

Until a court proceeding yesterday she had been Ida for all her 70 years, at least when she signed contracts and legal papers. The two have co-authored several books.

Once her husband was her teacher and "I was his most troublesome mischiefmaker, so he called me Ariel," she said, explaining that Shakespeare, in his play "The Tempest" named a sprite "Ariel."

Drake Student Fights Order On Expulsion

corridors, lockers and sidewalks which advocated "free dress" and "student power." After this activity, which took place one evening, Schaaf again was suspended for 10 days.

Upon returning to school, a secretary at the attendance desk reported that he repeatedly and loudly used obscene language. When she spoke to him, Mrs. Marie Casassa said that Schaaf replied, "You are upset over — but you don't mind people dying in Vietnam."

Every time Schaaf was disciplined at school, Mulholland said, he wrote to the student's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valmar A. Schaaf of 32 Crest Road, San Anselmo.

The Schaafs did not answer the letters nor come to school as requested, but Mulholland said he did talk to the senior Schaaf on the telephone.

"He told me he could only encourage his son to cooperate with us on two conditions," Mulholland explained. "One was that we would not punish his son, and the other was that if we were considering punishment, the boy was to be represented by his father or an attorney."

Mulholland said he did not agree to the conditions but told the father the youngster would be treated like any other student.

The culmination of young Schaaf's activities came on Election Day, Nov. 5, when he arrived at school with a handful of wooden matches. Teachers reported that he began handing out the matches, adding an obscene statement about the election.

Spanish teacher Audrey Keane said that Schaaf appeared at the door of her classroom, stopped her students and gave them matches along with his message.

"The election is a sham because my candidate isn't running," Mrs. Keane said Schaaf told her. "Martin seemed pleased when I took him to Mr. Mulholland's office," Mrs. Keane added. "He seemed to expect this."

Mulholland reported that Schaaf asked him if the words he had been using "turned on" the dean of boys. (At this point in the testimony, the youngster, seated next to his father, could not contain a giggle.)

After Mulholland asked Schaaf to leave the matches in his office or to go home, Schaaf threw the matches on the floor and left with an obscene gesture, according to the dean.

A morning of looking for the boy, his refusal to go to the office and a phone call to his father followed.

At this point Mulholland decided to suspend Schaaf and to start expulsion proceedings.

"I had no other choice," the dean said.

Another letter to the boy's parents brought no response to the school, but the senior Schaaf wrote to the Tamalpais High School District asking a hearing with attorney Carl B. Shapiro of San Anselmo representing the student.

The Tamalpais trustees upheld the explusion and the Schaafs appealed to the county board.

According to Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, who represented Tamalpais High School district last night, the open hearing was requested by Schaaf and his attorney. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, said the county board plans to decide the boy's fate in closed session.

With trustee Arnold T. Dolcini absent, the board began last night to act as a jury. At midnight President Glen E. Robinson announced the board had decided to recess until 8 p.m. Monday because of the hour.

Shapiro had not yet presented his case.

As indicated by his cross-examination last night, Shapiro seems to be attempting to show that Schaaf was expelled for unpopular political views and that his constitutional rights have been violated.

Patrick Aid To Minority Firms Told

William Penn Patrick, the millionaire cosmetics king, who was mentioned as a possible running mate for George C. Wallace last year, will support the Marin County Human Rights Commission program to encourage black business.

Commissioners last night applauded the announcement and immediately asked Executive Director Austin J. Thompson to set up a meeting with Patrick.

Wallace K. Shephard, field representative for the human rights department, said he had talked with Patrick. The head of Holiday Magic promised support for the program to encourage black business in Marin, he said.

Furthermore, said Shephard, Patrick will assist the secretarial classes now being conducted for Marin City girls at San Domenico High School in Sleepy Hollow.

The Marin County Human Rights Commission also:

EMPLOYMENT — Appointed Lawrence A. Mayer as special liaison to business organizations to win support for commission programs, especially in employment.

POLICE RELATIONS — Recommended hiring of William Turner, author and former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, to prepare a countywide police community relations training proposal at a fee of $400.

CONFERENCE — Authorized Bella H. Aaron, chairman of the police community relations committee, to attend a conference on human relations in Washington, D.C., Feb. 19-21.

YOUTH WORKER — Recommended that youth worker trainee Horace White be hired as a regular youth worker because he has completed his training period.

Woman Suffers Critical Burns

Mrs. Louise Harrington, 64, of Sausalito, was reported in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital with extensive burns suffered in a fire at her home yesterday.

Firemen found her apartment at 34 Currey Avenue blazing at 1:32 p.m. and found Mrs. Harrington collapsed on the floor. The fire started in an upholstered chair, possibly from a cigarette, Fire Chief Charles E. Masten said.

Fire damage was concentrated in the living room but there was smoke damage throughout the apartment, Masten said. He estimated the loss at $6,000 to $8,000.

Sandwich Tiff Leads To Shots

Three shots were fired into the air in an argument over a sandwich at the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael early today, police reported.

Police did not know who fired the shots and no arrests were made.

Police said the argument was over a bite from a sandwich and five persons were involved. Lonnie and Patrica Boggs, both 18, residents of the Bermuda Palms; Thomas Scarborough; Claude Burton and Mark Page, both of Marin City, all said the altercation was a misunderstanding.

Missing Pet Wolf May Be At Heliport

Lykaina, Sausalito's missing pet wolf, may be hiding near the Marin Heliport at Manzanita, police said today.

Police said a Marin City resident called this morning to report seeing the wolf or a wolflike dog near the heliport. Police notified Lykaina's owner, Nancy Clark, and she went to the area to seek her pet.

UNREST

ficials. Fires in restroom waste cans and on a cot in the girl's gym were quickly doused.

The college of 1,800 students has been plagued by unrest since the suspension of two Black Student Union leaders earlier this week.

An as the campus unrest continued to grow in California, the state's new lieutenant governor says he'll "have no quarter'' with campus troublemakers.

"You hear a lot of things about people there on campus to start making trouble for the sake of making trouble," Rep. Ed Reinecke, R-Tujunga, said on his arrival in Burbank from Washington yesterday. "I will have no quarter with those who are there to make trouble."

Reinecke takes over as lieutenant governor as soon as Lt. Gov. Robert Finch is confirmed as secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the Nixon administration by the Senate.

He said that troublemakers "should be treated with whatever manner is necessary to maintain peace and an educational environment on campus."

In the East, amnesty was extended again today for militant Negro students defying a court order to vacate the Brandeis University communications center.

A delegation of the mutinous students met with President Morris B. Abram who said he was extending the 9 a.m. amnesty deadline pending outcome of the meeting.

The meeting went on under the shadow of a threat by the Negroes to burn down every building on the campus located at Waltham, Mass.

The students seized Ford Hall, which houses the university switchboard and other communications facilities, Wednesday afternoon to dramatize 10 demands for improvement of school conditions for members of their race.

"It is obvious the conciliatory offer to amnesty has failed," Abram said last night after meetings with representatives of the 65 dissident students.

About 110 Negroes are among the school's 2,600 students.

Swarthmore, with some 60 Negro students among 1,025 enrolled, has been working on a program to increase the number of Negro students, staff and counselors, Vice President Joseph B. Shane said. Action by 15 members of the Afro-American Student Society took school officials by surprise.

The students took over the 104-year-old Pennsylvania school's administration building, saying they would remain until demands were met for a program to represent Negro interests in all policy decisions and amnesty for those involved in the takeover. About 30 Negroes are members of the society. School officials said classes continued and police were not summoned.

At Queens College in New York the director of a special education program, whose resignation was demanded by student rebels, today offered conditionally to resign.

The 26,000-student college reopened today without incident after student demonstrations had forced it to close for two days.

Cash Stolen

A burglar early today stole $10 from the cash register at Caruso's Bait Shop at the foot of Harbor Street, Sausalito police reported. The theft took place at about 7 a.m., police said.

One-Way Toll Made Permanent

A permanent system of one-way toll collection on the Golden Gate Bridge was approved today by bridge and highway district directors.

A 90-day test of one-way tolls, begun Oct. 19, 1968, has been a success, directors were told by Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring. Traffic is moving faster and there have been savings in operating expenses because fewer toll collectors are needed, he said.

Luehring was authorized to prepare plans to remove some toll booths to provide an unobstructed roadway for toll-free traffic. Luehring said he would have a preliminary report on the removal of booths within about a month.

Luehring said he expected his recommendation will be that the toll-free direction remain northbound. The curve at the south end of the bridge would make toll-free lanes southbound "inherently more dangerous," he said.

The board voted 13-1 to accept Luehring's recommendation. Dissenting Director John E. Nelson of Mendocino County objected that a slight decrease in revenues during the 90-day test raised a legal question of whether the district was meeting its "obligation to protect our bondholders."

District Auditor Gordon E. Dahlgren reported, however, that the annual savings in operating costs will be about $120,000 a year, more than off-setting the revenue losses.

The former chief engineer of the district, Arthur C. Jenkins, told directors today that he still believed the annual revenue loss from the one-way toll collection system would be $400.

on the floor of the library later.

The AFT, which represents 300 of the school's 1,300 faculty members, began its strike Monday. Members resumed picketing yesterday in defiance of a superior court injunction against the walkout.

The striking teachers were warned they faced possible five-day jail sentences and $500 fines, but there were no immediate arrests.

However, four militant students were taken into custody when another brief, but furious battle erupted between 200 police and supporters of the Black Students Union and the Third World Liberation Front.

More than 160 persons have been arrested in repeated clashes with police in the past two months. There have been scores of injuries and damage to property on the campus is estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Yesterday's violence was touched off when a police lieutenant used a chemical spray to subdue two Doberman pinschers held on leashes by a Negro demonstrator.

Mental Health Advisers Back Priority Plan

The Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board last night agreed in principle with mental health priorities set by a citizens' committee but made additional suggestions to the committee's recent report.

In discussing the mental health plan for the county made by a committee of the Bay Area Social Planning Commission, board members last night only considered the first part, which sets the three most immediate needs.

FOURTH TEAM

Dr. Gerald Hill, board chairman, said that the board agreed with the need for a fourth "traveling team" of psychiatric workers but felt it should not be limited to San Geronimo Valley and West Marinas indicated in the report.

Instead, the team should be centered in Fairfax or San Anselmo, he said, and should be flexible enough to treat adults as well as children.

The board also felt that increased group treatment was not the panacea that the citizens' report indicates, according to Dr. Hill, and that individual and family counseling may in many cases actually save money over a long run.

STUDY NEEDED

The third priority, a comprehensive plan for mentally retarded persons, needs further investigation, according to Dr. Hill, because some of the report's suggestions are at variance with state requirements.

The board plans to contiune discussion of the report at a meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 30 at the Civic Center. The board will present its review of the report to the board of supervisors probably next month.

Florida Jurors Convict Hippie In Double Killing

I-J Special Report

BUNNELL, Fla. — Young hippie Kit Armen Hayden was found guilty yesterday of killing a vacationing college student in a double slaying which also took the life of James Moore, 18, of San Anselmo.

A jury deliberated over four hours before finding Hayden responsible for the death of Daniel Shoultz, 18, of Solsberry, Ind., Nov. 29, 1967. Judge W. W. Wadsworth sentenced Hayden to 20 years in Raiford Prison for assault with intent to commit second-degree murder.

He said he saw a .25-caliber pistol in Hayden's hand but did not see Hayden shoot Shoultz.

Garrett, 27, of Burns, Ore., pleaded guilty to third-degree murder in Moore's death. He said Moore assaulted him.

Most important, said Jenkins, the district has the authority to set vehicular toll rates on the bridge and would be able to increase passenger car fares to encourage use of the buses.

The district also has the unique capability to balance a deficit bus operation with a profitable bridge operation.

Jenkins also suggested that that district seek whatever federal funds may be available to help finance the new bus system.

"The impending crisis has been evident for 10 years or more," said Jenkins, "but major studies have produced no substantial results and none is in sight. It now appears to be time to face realities and seek a remedy through the less-glamorous potential of mass transit system designed around the modern, efficient, flexible, and utilitarian motor bus.

"The strain of personal driving has become so great that a real potential now exists for swinging a substantial portion of the peak hour commuters to the bus system," said Jenkins in his report.

"Transportation has become the researchers' paradise," Jenkins said. "Since 1913 the subject has been researched ad infinitum."

Proposals for a second bridge to Marin County, a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge and reserved lanes for buses do not "in the least way conflict" with his proposed system, said Jenkins.

The bus system, however, "should not be looked upon as a low grade, stop-gap substitute for rail rapid transit," Jenkins said. "To the contrary, it should be accepted as an equivalent to such a rail line."

Turning to the Marin County Transit District, Jenkins noted "there has been no positive action" by the transit district in almost five years' existence.

The transit district either could dissolve itself, he said, or operate a bus system within Marin County.

Ferry boats, noted Jenkins, "under most optimistic predictions, would fall far short of providing a satisfactory solution" to transportation problems.

The 1923 legislative act which created the bridge district, Jenkins said, explicitly provides that the district may enter the transportation business.

Sailor Is Fair From Accident

Robert C. Cook, 22, of 61 Meadow Avenue, San Rafael, was in fair condition today at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital, Oakland, with a broken pelvic and broken left leg after his car smashed into a parked semi-trailer truck early Wednesday in Southern Sonoma County, the California Highway Patrol said.

The accident occurred at 6:45 a.m. at Highway 37 and Lakeville Highway when a truck pulled onto Highway 37 in front of Cook's car. The highway patrol said Cook apparently misjudged his closure rate and braked, his car sliding off the wet highway into the parked truck.

Truck driver Robert E. Washburn, 41, of Central Valley, Shasta County, said he was sleeping in the truck cab.

Council Slates Closed Session

The Petaluma City Council will go behind close doors at 9 a.m. tomorrow to discuss salaries for unclassified employees, saying that the secrecy does not violate the Ralph M. Brown Act governing private meetings of public bodies.

The Brown Act says a city council can go behind closed doors to hire, fire or hear charges against an employee.

City Atty. Edouard E. Robert called the meeting legal, saying that in setting salaries, the job performance of an individual is evaluated and requires secrecy.

"Items of that nature are traditionally viewed in the scope of personnel session and are permitted to take place in private discussion," Robert said.

Corte Madera Fill Proposal Attacked

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A $1.5 million plan to develop more than half of a 96-acre marshland parcel at the mouth of the Corte Madera Creek ran into strong opposition yesterday from state and Bay Area conservationists.

It was the fourth attempt by developer Frank M. Burke of San Anselmo to get a fill permit from the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission. As is the commission's practice, voting on the permit was set for its next meeting at 2 p.m. next Friday in the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

Burke's proposal to preserve 44.6 acres in their natural state was praised as "extremely tempting" by the director of the state Department of Fish and Game, Walter T. Shannon, but he recommended the fill permit be denied so "some means can be found" to save all of the marsh.

The marsh, Shannon told the commission in a letter, is the largest remaining in Southern Marin, and is too important to wildlife to be filled.

The commission's own consultant on ecology, however, Dr. Thomas Harvey, recommended the permit be granted. Any filling would be undesirable, he said, but the Burke plan is "a reasonable compromise."

Also opposing the fill permit were the Leagues of Women Voters of Central and Southern Marin, which urged it be denied to give the Legislature time to consider adoption of the commission's master plan.

The vice president of the Marin Conservation League, Mrs. P. K. Gilman of Larkspur, said the Burke plan would violate the commission's master plan, which allows filling "for bay-oriented commercial recreation and water-related" purposes. Burke plans light industrial development on 32.8 acres, she noted, adding that this is not a bay-related use of the shoreline.

The marsh is vital to the climate of the Bay Area, Ann H. McCorry of Greenbrae told commissioners, and once filled it cannot be replaced by a man-made marsh. Miss McCorry, who lives on the boardwalk adjacent to the Burke site, said existing sites for light industry in Marin will meet demands until the year 2100, thus there is no need to create new sites.

A representative of the Sierra Club, Harold Sharp of Oakland, testified that the club was "definitely opposed to any filling" unless the proposed use needed access to the bay.

Granting the fill permit to Burke, warned the chairman of the Council for Governmental Responsibility, Marcella Jacobson, would set a precedent for similar projects around the bay. The council is a San Mateo County citizens group.

Burke, defending his plan, said it would provide needed recreational facilities, increase public access to the shoreline, improve the appearance of the shoreline and preserve the 44.6 acres as an "ecological area." Each of these four reflect goals stated in the commmision's master plan, he said.

Burke noted he had "inquiries from seven firms interested in sites," including a boat manufacturer and a grocery warehouse firm.

His plan includes a marina, bayside park, motel-restaurant-shop area, fishing pier, light industrial sites and the preserved marshland. The only changes in the plan since its third hearing before the commission in August are addition of the motel and addition of 4.6 acres to the marshland to be preserved.

Burke failed to get a fill permit by only one vote in August. The 12-7 vote was one of the few times the commission overrode its staff recommendation.

Unlike the first three hearings, this time Burke's plan will be measured against the commission's master plan.

Quarry Land Annexation Advances

Annexation of the 75-acre Hutchinson Quarry property on the east side of Highway 101 at Greenbrae to the City of Larkspur was approved, 4-0, by the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission last night.

Commissioner Michael Wornum was absent.

John F. Barrows, executive officer of the commission, and County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker both pointed out that the rest of the open land from the quarry to San Quentin Prison should also be annexed to Larkspur.

San Rafael attorney Ronald D. Schenck, representing the Hutchinson Co., explained that some of the other property owners to the east do not want to annex to a city, and "we don't want to force the issue."

Kent B. Bathurst, Larkspur city manager, told the commission that the city was pursuing the annexation of the rest of the land eastward.

The Marin Local Agency Formation Commission also:

PIONEER PARK — Approved the annexation of Pioneer Memorial Park and Pioneer Cemetery, a total of 6.7 acres, to Novato Sanitary District. The area adjoins Simmons Lane at Virginia Avenue.

WEEKS — Approved the annexation of the Raymond E. Weeks property at 949 Tiburon Boulevard and two adjoining lots to the Tiburon Sanitary District. The lots are now served by septic tanks.

ARRIGHI — Postponed action until Feb. 6 a request by Joseph Arrighi to annex his 1.5-acre lot in the Lomita Park area to the City of San Rafael. The Arrighi property is at the corner of Auburn Street and Woodland Avenue, and is part of the U-shaped bowl formed by Auburn Street. Zucker asked for a delay because the county is working on redevelopment of the area.

RICHARDSON — Received a report from Alfred O. Pratesi, president of Richardson Bay Sanitary District board, that the district was opposed to consolidation of sanitary districts as recommended by the Brown and Caldwell report on countrywide sewage needs.

Saving Lives

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The founder-head of the South African Suicide Prevention Center, formerly known as Suicides Anonymous, says his organization saved the lives of 12,000 would-be suicides in the last eight year. Sam Bloomberg also noted there is a comparatively low suicide rate among non-whites.

Bay Regional Proposal Gets First Criticism

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The first official reaction to a legislative committee's proposal to form a regional government in the Bay Area was voiced here yesterday by the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission — and it wasn't good.

BATS' objections centered on the committee's proposal that formation of a regional government be put to the voters in a referendum next year. BATS, in a report prepared by its study group on organization and planning, said existing regional agencies regulating bay fill and air and water pollution were formed simply by a vote of the Legislature, and that a referendum "would be a radical departure."

Some BATS members, however, are known to fear that regional government may never be formed if it requires a public vote. Regional government proposals consistently have failed when put to a referendum, they noted.

Practical politics, however, reportedly led the Joint Committee on Bay Area Regional Organization to include the referendum in its proposal last month. The committee, composed of eight legislators, reportedly felt that its proposal would pass the Legislature only with a referendum — to get the monkey off the Legislature's back.

Regional government is opposed by many local governments and existing agencies — which fear they will lose their powers — but a referendum would allow cautious legislators to approve it on the ground that the voters should have a chance to decide the issue.

The BATS report did not come to a vote of the full commission yesterday, but was postponed to the next meeting at 9:45 on Jan. 23 here in the Hotel Claremont.

Sonoma County Supervisor Leigh S. Shoemaker won the delay, arguing his fellow supervisors needed time to review the study group's report. Eighteen of the commission's 39 members are on the study group that prepared the report.

Their report also objected that the referendum would delay formation of a regional government for two years, whereas the Legislature could form one this year. Also, the committee proposal did not provide for "interim arrangements" to continue transportation planning and regulation of bay fill for the two-year gap, the BATS report objected.

BATS' own proposal for regional government, adopted in November, urged that BATS and the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission continue until a multipurpose regional government is formed.

The BATS report also objected that the legislative committee was "unduly timid in not suggesting the inclusion of certain regional functions now managed by existing single-purpose agencies, such as air pollution." The committee's proposal left inclusion of such agencies to some later date, and concentrated first on forming a regional government.

Chicken In A Bucket Pole Sign Booted

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee is against chicken in a bucket when the bucket is atop a 20-foot high pole in the parking lot at Col. Sanders Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurant at 56 Red Hill Avenue.

Committee members Wednesday night approved a new sign around the top of the restaurant building, but rejected an application by the Marveon Corp. to put a replica of a bucket of chicken atop a pole in the parking lot, reported Robert Golcher, city building inspector.

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee also:

CARPORT — Postponed until a special meeting at 6 p.m. Monday action on an application by Charles F. Herndon to build a carport at 299 Brookside Drive.

SIGN — Postponed until Mondah action on an application by Stanley Feingold for a free standing sign for the Essex Square Building, 412 Red Hill Avenue, with comment that the proposed 39-foot high sign was too high.

POST OFFICE — Approved a tile facing for the tower of the former Safeway store at 121 San Anselmo Avenue, which will be remodeled to serve as the new San Anselmo Post Office.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

12:58 p.m., San Anselmo — Smoke from an electric toaster caused minor damage to a wall and kitchen ceiling at the home of Mary Stovsky, Apt. 3, 835 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

1:32 p.m., Sausalito — Mrs. Louise Harrington critically burned in fire in her duplex apartment, 34 Currey Avenue, which started in upholstered chair, possibly from cigarette; damage estimated at $6,000 to $8,000; cause under investigation.

1:44 p.m., San Rafael — Brush fire burned are 10 by 10 feet under tree at 311 Mission Avenue; cause unknown.

2:14 p.m., San Rafael — Spark from welding torch ignited gasoline vapors at Triple S Auto Service Center, 1837 Fourth Street, $3,000 damage to a car and $1,500 to shop contents; no injuries.

Large School

NEW YORK (UPI)—Enrollment in the New York State University system totals 159,400 students this year, an increase of 21,000 over the last academic year. In addition, there are 100,339 part time students this year. There are 63 State University campuses now conducting classes across the state. Four new locations were opened in 1968.

Parking Needs Tied To Drake Widening

A special hearing of the San Anselmo Planning Commission, punctuated by one brief shouting match, last night failed to result in what the meeting was scheduled for — a recommendation on the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The city council on Dec. 10 unanimously reaffirmed that it favored widening of the boulevard from the Hub to the Fairfax City Limits, but referred the matter to the commission for a recommendation on how the widening should be done.

The shouting match involved one of about 20 property owners from the Yolanda Drive area who, according to one resident, attended the hearing to make certain that reconsideration wasn't given to widening Center Boulevard.

City officials said B. J. Wood, 47 Yolanda Drive, was demanding only that possible widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard be discussed, that he and commissioner Philip S. Heinecke began shouting, and that commission chairman John F. West also began shouting in an attempt to quiet the two.

Leitzell said the city council last fall informally obtained a consensus among its members that Center Boulevard should not be widened.

Leitzell said the commission concluded at last night's four and one-half hour session that widening of Drake Boulevard without parking would not be best in long-range planning, but that it undoubtedly would offer relief from heavy traffic.

The commission also felt that widening of that street would result in strong pressure to rezone that area from single family residences to multiple residences or commercial.

Four Labor Positions

Secretary of labor - designate Charles P. Shultz announced the lineup and insisted there was no significance in the absence of union leaders. He said there are more top jobs to be filled and, "It may well be that there may be a union person."

Dr. Godffrey H. Moore, a vice president of the National Bureau of Economic Research in New York, was named to become commissioner of labor statistics.

Dr. Arnold Weber, professor of industrial relations and director of research at the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business, was chosen to be assistant secretary for manpower.

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Koontz, first Negro president of the National Education Association, was named director of the Women's Bureau.

Library Board Official Resigns

Mrs. Helen dreyfus, chairman of the Mill Valley Library Board since 1966, resigned last night because the family has moved outside the city.

Mrs. Dreyfus was appointed to the board in June 1966. Last October she was named president of the California Library Association.

The board also approved a preliminary budget figure of $134,000 for 1969-70 to be submitted to the city manager. This year's budget was $117,000.

The board agreed to allow groups using the gallery to serve cookies and coffee or tea during a trial period.

Dr. George J. Langmyhr, chairman of the medical committee of Planned Parenthood World Population, will speak to the medical advisory committee of the Planned Parenthood Association of Marin at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael.

Dr. Langmyhr has served on the faculty of medicine at the University of Toronto.

The local association also plans a day-long conference at Shelter Cove on Jan. 18. Rev. Charles Gompertz, rector of the Church of the Ignacio, will be installed as association president at the conference.

Driver Injured In Car Swerving

A San Anselmo man, swerving his truck to avoid hitting a deer running across the road, was injured today when the vehicle overturned in a ditch, Ross police reported.

The accident occured on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and El Camino Bueno. Max Wolf, 49, of 26 Laurel Avenue, driver of the truck suffered cuts and scrapes of the legs and was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The deer was hit, according to witnesses, but ran away after the accident.

Drunken Driving Fines For Three

Three persons were fined in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

David Frank Cozik, 39, of 50 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, was fined $422 and placed on six months' probation. Sheriff's officers arrested him March 24 on Tiburon Boulevard.

Mary Ellen Hatcher, 31, of 27 Old Landing Road, Tiburon was fined $100 and placed on six months' probation. Sheriff's officers arrested her, also on Tiburon Boulevard, on Oct. 26.

Betty June Flowers, 46, of 1 Shelley Drive, Mill Valley, was fined $210 and placed on a year's probation. California Highway Patrol arrested her April 27 on Reed Boulevard.

HERO — A 1/c James Ringseis has been awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal for preventing a suicide attempt on the Golden Gate Bridge last year. He held a woman who threatened to jump until police arrived. Ringseis is assigned to the Fourth Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Refinery Strike Begins To Pinch

RICHMOND (UPI) — The effects of the nationwide oil industry strike were starting to be felt in Northern California today.

Hardest hit was Loyalton, a tiny Sierra Nevada community, where propane gas used for heating was being rationed by a dealer who was running short.

Robert McDonald, manager of Sierra Propane Co., said with rationing to hospitals and homes with invalids, his supply could be spread out over several days. The mountain town usually experiences freezing temperatures at this time of year.

A few independent service stations also reported supply problems, with one at Lafayette in Contra Costa County shutting down because of the shortage.

Court Requested To Back Firing

The Novato School District board filed suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday, asking for confirmation of their firing of James David Kimmel, the high school teacher accused of possessing marijuana, using students to purchase the weed and resisting arrest.

The district fired the science teacher Nov. 18, charging him with immoral conduct in that he reportedly used or possessed marijuana and engaged in conduct with students which "Tends to encourage illegal and or immoral activities."

The action, filed by Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, asks for a court ruling that the firing of Kimmel was justified.

Kimmel has petitioned the school board for a hearing to appeal his dismissal.

Firemen Seated In Mill Valley

New officers of the Mill Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association were installed last night by City Councilman George Wickham.

Knife Wielder Hijacks Jet, Claims He's Red

MIAMI (AP)—After a side-trip to Cuba, 72 holiday-bound tourists flew on to Nassau today, leaving behind in Havana a knife-wielding man who said he had just completed a Communist mission and was fleeing the FBI.

An Eastern Airlines spokesman said the only passenger who failed to return from Cuba was listed on the manifest as "Mr. R. Bohle." He gave no hometown when he bought a ticket, but told a stewardess he was from Indianapolis, Ind., and had attended Purdue University.

Stewardess Joyce Jernigan said the hijacker told her his name was Ronnie and he hated the United States.

"He said he was running from the FBI and that he was a Communist who had just completed a mission," the 21-year-old blonde from Miami said. "He didn't say what the mission was about.

"He held a seven-inch knife in my side the whole way" to Havana," Miss Jernigan said.

Miss Jernigan said she was in the rear of the plane when the hijacker, pretending illness, asked if he could sit beside her.

"After he sat down, he said: "I hate to tell you this, but we're going to Cuba,'" Miss Jernigan related after she returned to Miami. "I said, 'No, we're not.' But he said: 'Oh yes, we are.' and pulled out that big knife."

The hijacker took over the Boeing 727 jet shortly after it departed Miami for the Bahamas. The flight to Cuba was brief. The crew and two passengers—Mr. and Mrs. Keith Thrash of Little Rock, Ark.—returned to Miami about four-and-one-half-hours later.

Thrash, a retired Air Force major, said he was permitted to come back aboard the hijacked plane because of a heart condition. He was en route to Nassau for a life insurance company convention.

The other passengers returned on different planes early today. Another Eastern plane then whisked them on to Nassau.

Haco Boyd, the mayor of Little Rock, Ark., said: "They gave us the blue plate special treatment."

He said the trip was "an experience," but "under the circumstances, I didn't like it. I don't like one individual to be able to do something like this. The government ought to do something about it."

Boyd said the hijacker was "a rather decent looking person, except for his nose and his mouth which were a little weak."

"They treated us like kings," Ron Ownbey of Russellville, Ark., reported. "They flat layed it on. They wined and dined us and tried to show us the better parts of Havana."

Horses were probably first trained to do work more than 5,000 years ago.

Sirhan Jurors Face Secret Questioning

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some questioning of prospective jurors in the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan trial will be conducted behind closed doors, the defense says.

Grant B. Cooper, one of three lawyers defending the 24-year-old Jordanian charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, revealed plans for the secret questioning during an impromptu news conference yesterday at the end of the third day of Sirhan's trial. The trial was in recess today. Jury selection is expected to start Monday.

Cooper said Judge Herbert V. Walker wants prospective jurors cross-examined individually in the privacy of his chambers in areas "of a sensitive nature."

Cooper defined as sensitive any questioning about opinions prospective jurors might have on Sirhan's guilt or innocence—"What they may have seen on television or read in the newspaper."

But Cooper said questions about the death penalty would be asked in open court. He said the secret questioning was "unprecedented in this jurisdiction."

Sirhan appeared for the nine-minute court session, then retired to the judge's chambers with defense attorneys and prosecutors to hear private testimony from radio newsmen about publicity in the case.

The defendant was dressed in a new blue-gray suit and tie. He was accompanied by two guards.

While the judge spoke in opening the session, Sirhan turned in his chair and, eyebrows arched, searched the rear row of the courtroom for his family, who did not attend.

The name giraffe comes from the Arab word zarafa, meaning both a "creature of grace" and "one who walks swiftly."

BLAZE DAMAGES STATION

Smoke rolls from the Triple S Auto Service Center at 1837 Fourth Street, San Rafael, after a welding torch ignited gasoline vapors yesterday and started a blaze which damaged an auto and the interior of the shop. Damage was estimated at $4,500. The fire started at 2:14 p.m. No injuries were reported.

Shrubbery Care Plan Is Backed

The Greenbrae Property Owners Association board has agreed to push for county maintenance of shrubbery along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, reported Richard R. Dresel, president.

Recently the association lost its bid to have the county pay half the cost of installing a guard rail and sidewalk along a stretch where there have been three traffic deaths in three years.

Directors, meeting Wednesday, also discussed plans for the association's annual meeting, tentatively scheduled for Feb. 6 at the Greenbrae School with Supervisor Peter Arrigoni Jr. as the speaker.

Directors also voted to reduce the annual dues from $5 to $4, Dresel reported.

Stricter Animal Control Is Backed

Mariner Cove Improvement Association directors have backed the Corte Madera Town Council's call for stricter animal control, reported William J. Ridyard, president.

"We support the town in its endeavor for animal control, Ridyard said. Directors, meeting Wednesday, also discussed plans for the association's annual meeting in April, he noted.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Amended Charge

Lawrence Boyd Kolb II, 23, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to an amended complaint of battery on a 56-year-old Greenbrae resident July 30.

Judgment was scheduled for 10 a.m. Feb. 21. Kolb, of San Francisco, originally was charged with burglary of the woman's home, and assault with intent to rape her.

Garage Remodeling Held Frivolous Waste

Spending $1,889 to remodel a garage for a new fire department pickup truck when there is a satisfactory building 37 feet away is "folly," Councilman W. James Dawson declared last night at a meeting of the Ross Town Council.

"It's frivolous," Dawson said as he outlined the reasons he opposed the plan suggested by Councilman Roy Farrington Jones.

Dawson estimated it would take a man only 4.4 seconds to walk to the nearby garage, which is now used free by firemen for their personal cars.

He maintained the $1,889 figure, mentioned as the low of three bids on the project, was not high enough because the city would also have to bring the building up to code.

However, even the $1,889 figure would mean almost two cents on the tax rate, Dawson said.

Natalie G. Lewis, agreeing with Dawson, called the garage remodeling a "luxury." "I think this out of line," she commented, noting there are several things that have been budgeted that haven't been done, such as painting the town hall.

Jones contended it was imperative that the pickup be as close as possible to firemen because it is used for emergency resuscitator calls and for some brush fires.

He said the work would include removing the two existing doors and installing a single overhead door to make the entrance wide enough for the pickup.

Jones also maintained it was up to the city to continue providing garage space for firemen's personal vehicles.

"It seems a very simple but unfortunate task," he said.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen agreed with Jones on the necessity of the work and the council agreed it was a standoff since the fifth member, Jack Carney, was absent.

The matter was put over to the next meeting, 8 p.m. Feb. 13 at the town hall, for a vote by the full council.

The Ross Town Council Also:

HOME OFFICES — Delayed for one month a decision on whether to continue allowing home offices for doctors, dentists and musicians because a council committee of Jones and Mrs. Lewis, assigned to study ordinances from other cities to see how a stricter ordinance could be drawn for Ross, reported they had just received the other ordinances.

CODES — Set the next meeting, 8 p.m. Feb. 13, as the date for a public hearing on adopting up-to-date uniform building, mechanical, plumbing and electrical codes.

BURNING HOURS — Reaffirmed last month's decision not to change burning hours but agreed to work on letting residents know a permit is required for all burning the year-round.

DOGS — Received several letters of complaint about dogs running loose. Mayor Allen reported a letter requesting patrol of the town's public areas was sent to the Humane Society Wednesday.

Vietnam Hero Plans A Return

DETROIT (AP) — Williams James, a Marine sergeant with a chest full of medals, tells his mother he's going back to Vietnam because he "feels responsible for the kids fighting and dying over there."

"I'm not hunting for medals," said James, who has served two 11-month Vietnam tours. The 24-year-old sergeant has won the Silver Star, three Bronze Stars, the Purple Heart, the Navy Unit Commendation Medal, two presidential unit citations and several other medals.

In a letter to his mother, Mrs. Christine Fritz of Detroit, he said, "Everybody is proud of me — I know that you are too, mom."

Sonoma Puts Off Bridge Appointment

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmens' Association decided last night to wait another month before nominating a member of the group to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board.

Several city councils were prepared to place names in nomination at the meeting at Los Robles Lodge, but others requested more time to select a nominee.

The association decided that all names must be submitted to the mayors' executive board by Feb. 13 and a vote will be taken at 7 p.m. that day at a general meeting at the Sonoma Valley Country Club, Sonoma.

At the insistence of Petaluma Councilman Phillip L. Joerger, the association will have at least two persons to pick from for the nomination.

In other business last night, Dale W. Leuhring, general manager of the bridge and highway district, reported that the district's problems were not shared solely by Marin and San Francisco counties. "By the year 1990 there will be 500,000 people living in Sonoma County and a good rapid transit system for commuters will be necessary," he said.

Seymour Kashin, general manager of the Marin County Transit District, also spoke of the transit dilemma as a "North Bay problem."

"Even if only 10 per cent of the 1990 population of Marin and Sonoma counties commutes to San Francisco, that will mean 100,000 people daily," Kashin said. He told the group that deficits in mass transit should not be considered seriously because the needs of the public must be met.

George Kovatch, Sonoma County planning director, called for cooperation with Marin County "because we are on the threshold of urbanization." He reported that only 7,700 now commute outside of Sonoma County for employment.

"We must use this opportunity to determine our destiny," Kovatch told the city officials. "In our planning we must come up with creative programs that give more emphasis to mass transportation."

The Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmens' Association also:

HAYAKAWA — Approved a resolution introduced by Rohnert Park Councilman Warren Hopkins showing support for San Francisco State College acting president S. I. Hayakawa for "trying to keep peace."

HIGHWAY 12 — Gave support to efforts of State Sen. Randolph Collier to have Highway 12 improved and a bridge constructed over Napa Creek for a more direct route from Sonoma to Sacramento County.

TRI-COUNTY — Heard report from Neal D. Smith, county administrator, on efforts toward establishing a tri-county government to include Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties. He said such a government would mean that Sonoma and Napa would have to withdraw from the Association of Bay Area Governments. Smith said officials at the Department of Housing and Urban Development have indicated requests for federal funds made by the proposed new group would still have to be processed through ABAG.

Japan To Build U.S.-Style Jets

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government today approved a nine year plan to produce 34 F4E Phantom jet fighter planes in fiscal 1969 and build a fleet of 104 Phantoms by 1977.

The defense agency decided late last year to make the American twin-engine supersonic jet its mainstay fighter. Cost per plane will be about $5.5 million.

The planes will be built under license from the U.S. producer, McDonnell Douglas Corp. Mitsubishi Heavy Industries Ltd. is the main contractor.

Heart Patient Dies In Houston

HOUSTON (UPI)—The second longest living heart transplant patient in the United States, Henry Jurgens, died yesterday at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Jurgens, 58, of Beatrice, Neb., had no obvious ailment, but became weak early this week and his condition gradually worsened, a hospital spokesman said.

Jurgens' death left 40 survivors of heart transplant surgery around the world. There have been 109 such operations on 107 patients. Two persons, both now dead, received two hearts.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Republic Corp. Sets Plans For Stock Split

Directors of Republic Corp., Beverly Hills have announced a three-for-two split of the common stock, payable Feb. 6 to shareholders of record Jan. 30.

At the close of the company's fiscal year last October there were 4 million shares outstanding. Previously, in March, 1968, shareholders approved an increase of authorized common stock from 6 million to 10 million shares.

Republic Corp. operates commercial and industrial enterprises in communications, electronics, plastics, metals, graphics, promotion specialties and film processing. Divisions are located nationwide and the company employs more than 6,500 people.

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO. net sales are expected to approach $8.2 billion in the fiscal year ending Jan. 31. This would represent a more than 11 per cent increase over last year.

GOLDEN VALLEY LAND CO. stockholders have agreed to a merger with Southwestern Research and General Investment Co. of Phoenix. Golden Valley, one of Arizona's largest land developers with offices nationally, has sold more than $50 million dollars worth of Arizona home and business sites since its organization in 1959. John H. Rawitzer of San Rafael is former president of Golden Valley Developers, the sales "arm" of the business. Southwestern Research has also announced the signing of a contract to acquire Midwec Corp. of Nebraska, all of the stock of Dynamic System Electronics Corp. of Tempe, Ariz., the Hobo Joe Restaurant chain and Cine Logistics, Inc.

COMPUTER TIME-SHARING CORP. of Palo Alto has reached an agreement in principle to acquire Systems Analysis, Inc. of Los Altos. Computer Time-Sharing is an electronic data processing firm. Systems Analysis does extensive programming in engineering and other areas.

DIVERSIFIED METALS CORP. of St. Louis is acquiring American Leisure Products Co. of Pawtucket, R. I. for an undisclosed number of Diversified common stock. There is a proposed name change to Diversified Industries, Inc. American Leisure Products operates 80 leased toy departments and 79 leased sporting goods departments in 21 major discount chains in 22 states.

UNITED STATES STEEL CORP. has formed a new subsidiary company offering worldwide professional engineering and consulting services in steelmaking and related technical areas. The new company, USS Engineers and Consultants, Inc., has as its president J. Donald Rollins, who has been president of U. S. Steel's American Bridge Division since 1961.

AMERICAN CEMENT CORP., Los Angeles has sold 8,300 acres located near Snowmass-at-Aspen, its all-season recreational community in the Colorado Rocky Mountains for more than $5 million. The purchaser is Aspen Panorama Properties, Inc., a new corporation formed to develop part of the recreational complex.

LAURENTIDE FINANCE CORP. will begin operation of an affiliate company to be known as Laurentide Thrift, Inc., with locations in East San Jose, Concord and San Francisco. The San Francisco operation will specialize in mail loans to executives and professional people.

ENGS MOTOR TRUCK CO., San Francisco has opened its new headquarters at Toland and Jerrold streets, as one of the largest truck sales and service facilities in Northern California. The new $500,000 installation has 27,000 square feet under roof on a 2.5-acre site. Engs has been located at 18th and Folsom streets and has operated in the Bay Area for 29 years.

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS, INC. preliminary and unaudited statement for November indicates a loss of $1,141,000 compared to a loss of $116,000 last year. Net loss amounts to three cents per share.

FEW OUTWARD CHANGES IN VOLKSWAGEN

Volkswagen's station wagon for 1969 comes in both seven and nine-passenger models, with or without a sliding steel sunroof. Refinements this year include electric defogger and defroster systems, improved dust-proofing for the engine compartment and added insulation to reduce engine noise level inside. In Marin, Volkswagens are sold at Mill Valley Volkswagen and Leon C. Felton Co., San Rafael.

Bank Lists Gain

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — The Bank of Tokyo of California has reported per share earnings after taxes of $4.36 in 1968, up 74.2 per cent over earnings of $2.50 per share reported in 1967.

Geyser Well Making Steam For Electricity

BAKERSFIELD (BW) — Geothermal Resources International, Inc. has announced it has brought in a new steam well in the geysers area of Mendocino County, which is producing steam at a rate capable of generating 10,000 kilowatt hours of electricity, or enough power for a city of 25,000 population.

The well is the first brought in under the company's accelerated drilling program started in mid-October following a commitment by Systems Capital Corp., Philadelphia, to invest up to $36 million in a joint venture for GRI.

Wall Street Slows For Weekend

NEW YORK (UPI)—Normal pre-weekend, evening-up operations brought pressure to the stock market today in moderate turnover.

Steels were mostly higher, reflecting the spreading price hikes on nickel stainless steel product.

Motors generally traded in narrow ranges despite the heavy production schedule planned for this week. Chemicals moved in both directions.

Cities Service was a firm oil issue much of the session. The aerospace group showed scattered strength, but airlines and rails were narrowly irregular.

Several electronics issues gave up more than a point, with IBM among the losers. It had added 4 in the previous sessions.

Bank Of America Has Banner Year

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Bank of America scored record gains in earnings, deposits and loans during 1968, president Rudolph A. Peterson has announced.

On a consolidated basis, net operating earnings reached a new high of $146,162,000, or $4.26 per share, an increase of 12.2 per cent over last year's earnings figure of $130,269,000, or $3.81 per share, adjusted for the 20 per cent stock dividend paid in 1968.

At yearend, deposits totaled $21,502,892,000, an increase of $2,402,954,000 over last year's deposit figure — up 12.6 per cent. Loans increased by $1,183,921,000 to $13,357,902,000 — up 9.7 per cent.

Total resources reached $24,163,336,000, an increase of 12.6 per cent.

Airline Adds Three Roundtrip Schedules

SAN DIEGO (BW) — J. Floyd Andrews, president of Pacific Southwest Airlines has announced the addition of three daily round trip flights between Hollywood/Burbank, San Jose and Oakland.

Seven daily round trips will be available between the cities beginning Jan. 17.

LTV Dividend

DALLAS (BW) — Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., will pay a quarterly cash dividend of $1.25 per share on its Series A preferred stock Feb. 1 to stockholders of record Jan. 20, it has announced.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Building A Company Retirement Program

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. In my company I'm the trustee for our employees' retirement fund. We started this last year, buying 1,400 shares of Enterprise Fund. Early in 1969 we'll have $13,000 to invest. Is there anything better for our purpose than this mutual fund?—D. T.

A. Since you picked the fund reporting the highest percentage gain in net asset value for the past five years, and the second highest for 1968 through September, I can't name a better fund judged by performance standards. Yet, for 1969, I think a better policy would be direct investment in several top-growth areas in compliance with your state laws regulating investment procedures for fiduciaries. A few such for your consideration are Consolidated Foods; Continental Illinois National Bank; General Electric; International Paper; Sears, Roebuck; Standard Oil of New Jersey, and Transamerica.

Q. What can you tell a retired couple about the merger of Pickands Mather into Diamond Shamrock? We received 45 common and 50 pfd. of PM in 1966 in exchange for Interlake Steamship. Dividends amount to about $100 a year.—F. M.

A. If you want to hold a promising growth situation, you should go along with this merger. You'll receive 36 shares of Diamond Shamrock common paying $1.40 annually — some improvement over the payment on PM common—and 11 shares of the new DIA common. The latter will pay nothing until December, 1972, when it will qualify for the dividend rate then effective. Chances are this will be higher than now because of DIA's regular dividend increases.

Your 50 preferred shares will be exchanged for 50 of a new convertible preferred on which Diamond Shamrock will pay the same annual dividend of $1.15. If, however, maximum income is important to you, I'd suggest sale of Pickands Mather, which shows a 40 per cent paper profit on your original investment, and purchase of utility shares yielding 5 per cent, or one of the preferreds mentioned this week. Your average yield now—and continuing after the merger—is less than 4 per cent.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Two Ice Show Associates Take Over Restaurant In Tiburon

There has been a change of ownership and operation at the Boardwalk Restaurant in Tiburon.

The Weitzel brothers, Ted and Bing, have sold to Dick C. Lane and Johnny L. Williams, who are contemplating a number of new innovations.

Dick has been a controller for the Ice Follies and Johnny has been an Ice Follies performer. Both are young, ambitious and out to see what they can accomplish with their own ideas in the restaurant field. They still have outside interests.

If you remember the Boardwalk, there are a coffee shop and an inside dining room. The coffee shop is being named The Footlight, and for the time being that will have to do also for the dining room for want of a better one. It may get its own sobriquet later.

This is a breakfast, lunch and dinner operation, with food service from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. through the week and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Menus have been changed. The dinner carte offers a choice of steak and lobster combination, steak, chicken saute sec, veal scallopine, sweetbreads, filet of petrale sole, butterfly prawns and chopped sirloin wrapped in bacon. Prices are in the moderate range, from $2.95 to $4.25 for the complete dinner.

Since Dick and Johnnie are showmen, look for something different to happen here, but not all at once. We'll keep you posted as changes occur.

SOMETIMES IT PAYS to pass over the menu selections you most frequently order and pick something different. If it's not shown on the menu, ask. You may be able to get it.

If a place happens to be better known for, say, family-type service than as a purveyor of those dishes associated with haute cuisine, this does not signify it is incapable of serving them. You may even find them right under your nose.

Obviously this doesn't apply to all restaurants, but if you know the chef's reputation and capabilities, make use of them as well as those of the maitre d', who is chief liaison agent between kitchen and dining room.

At Dominic's in San Rafael, there's a new combination that should have interesting possibilities. First, there's head chef Pierre Giavina, who is the closest I know to a prototype of what the typical French chef should look like. He has been well trained in the cooking schools of France and Switzerland. And now there is Leo Cantayre, who heads Dominic's dining room staff under manager Mario Brenta. He presents the same photogenic image in his role as Pierre does in his.

Put these two Frenchmen together and you're likely to find a few changes in the new menu soon to be published. There already are some additions to the rather extensive wine list.

Meanwhile I'll recommend the tournedos Rossini on the present menu; the escargots, which are not, but are prepared gently and without overseasoning, and Leo's crepes Suzette, which are quite capable of testifying favorably in their own behalf.

THE CRYSTAL ROOM bar and lounge at 3500 Northgate Shopping Center is being sold by George Lucchesi, Frank Tarantino and Peter and Caesar Taverna to a new corporation called GEPA, Inc., headed by Ellis E. (Gene) Page of Corte Madera. The transaction is being handled by Harry Abras of William Timmer Realty.

Gene, who probably will take over Monday, was formerly in real estate (for some time with Tamarin Realty) but has had considerable experience in both the bar and food service business.

He plans to keep the same name, but changes in the Crystal Room's operation may be made later. For the time being at least, it is operating seven days a week and it now opens at 11 a.m. instead of at noon.

STARTING TONIGHT, the musical entertainment at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa in San Rafael is being provided by Marin's widely known accordionist Al Stone. He will be there three nights a week, from 7 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and from 6 p.m. on Sundays.

THE NEW Golden Palace Chinese restaurant next to Knot Inn on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, has now fixed its hours of service at 11:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays and from noon to 8:30 p.m. on Sundays.

Restaurant owner Hing Lung seems to be getting his biggest play on Chinese food, but some American dishes also are served.

CONGRATULATIONS to Gregory and Mary Alyce Seubert. It was just five years ago this month that they opened Gregory's Restaurant in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera.

It was a struggle at the start, but they stuck to the operations tenaciously and made good. Very good, I might say.

FRED CHERRY has a new schedule for his Cafe Bon Vin in San Anselmo; trust him to think of something interesting.

During his first three months he established a 10-course, nine-wine dinner, developed banquets, parties, wines of the month and some things I have forgotten. Now he's embarking on another phase of food service.

Starting next Wednesday night at 8 p.m. and each Wednesday night thereafter one of the classic provincial dishes of France will be served in the authentic "all you want" tradition complete with hot bread, salad, cheese, coffee and a specially selected wine. Featured next week is "cassoulet" (it rhymes with Chevrolet), a combination of savory ingredients long favored by the people of Languedoc in the south of France.

Preceding the dinner will be a "wine discovery tour" starting at 6:30 when a number of unusual wines selected by Cherry will be sampled and discussed. Cost of the dinner is $4 and the tasting $2, but with Fred's peculiar style of addition, they seem to come out at a $5 total. Reservations are recommended.

EUGENE LACKENBACH'S PIES must be especially good at the Country Club Restaurant in San Rafael when someone breaks in to swipe them — and doesn't touch anything else.

MARIA'S PUEBLO in San Rafael is now serving Spanish pork chops, Spanish chicken and Spanish meat loaf.

THE DUKE (Duke Ellington) opened last night at Bimbo's 365 Theater-Restaurant in San Francisco for a seven-day engagement. There are three shows nightly at 8 p.m., 10 p.m. and midnight, with dancing from 6:30 p.m. Ellington probably has won more musical polls than any other artist and he continually takes top honors for his bandleading, arranging, composing and piano playing.

THE PATHFINDERS are resuming their regular Tuesday luncheons in the Magnolia Room at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, next week on Jan. 14. Hostesses are members of this volunteer service group.

Featured will be special soups, casseroles, hot breads and fancy homemade desserts, with a different menu each Tuesday. Hours are from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tab is $1.25 to $1.50 per person, including beverage. Profits go to the benefit of the center.

Special arrangements for club and party luncheons can be made by calling the center's office. Next Tuesday's luncheon, by the way, may be a sellout as several tables have been reserved by regulars.

Gertrude Stein Art Collection Donations Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Five persons who recently acquired Gertrude Stein's famous art collection are going to give part of it to the Museum of Modern Art.

The gift will be from David Reckefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and chairman of the museum's board of trustees; publisher John Hay Whitney, a vice chairman; William S. Paley, trustees' president and chairman of the board of the Columbia Broadcasting System; New York banker Andre Meyer, a patron.

Miss Stein's collection, which she acquired early in the century, was composed of 38 works by Pablo Picasso and nine by Juan Gris.

The museum said yesterday that details of how many paintings would be given to the museum and when had not been worked out.

They were purchased from the heirs of Miss Stein who died in 1946.

MUSEE D'ART INTERNATIONAL

Your guests will enjoy Marin's best banquet facility where the finest foods, wines, and liquors are served amidst the warmth and beauty of our collection of paintings by contemporary European Masters. This outstanding gallery originated by Herbert A. Crocker and William H. McDevitt is now one of the largest in the U.S. It combines the pleasure of a museum where your guests can enjoy browsing through an excellent cross section of the trends and techniques of contemporary oil painting with the advantages of an art gallery where the serious buyer can find high quality at exceptionally good values. This combination of cuisine, service, and atmosphere will assure your party of being a truly memorable occasion.

Musee d'Art International is available for groups from 125 to 600. Dominic's L'Escalier Room accommodates guests from 20 to 125 and the elegant Chart Room for groups of 10 to 26.

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

That EXCITING spot in San Anselmo

Step-by-step the plan unfolds . . . to make Cafe' Bon Vin more and more deserve its reputation as "the most interesting restaurant in the Bay Area."

A weekly visit to the Provinces . . . Now, every Wednesday at 8:00 p.m., one of the great classic Provincial dishes of France is served at Cafe' Bon Vin in the best authentic "all-you-want" tradition—complete with hot bread, salad, cheese, coffee—and a specially-selected wine. First dinner (January 15): the legendary "Cassoulet" of Languedoc, a province of southern France. Price: $4, which includes a special wine. There will be only one seating, so reservations are a "must"!

A "Wine Discovery" Tour . . . Starting at 6:30, preceding the dinner, a number of rare, distinctive, or unusual wines selected by Fred Cherry will be sampled and discussed. Cost of the tasting: $2 (or you may enjoy both the dinner and the tasting at the special price of $5.

Back to Paris the rest of the week . . . except Monday and Tuesday, when we are presently closed. Le Champagne Gala—10 courses, $9.75 (reservations required). Le Grand Diner—6 courses, $5.75. Le Petit Diner—4 courses, $3.75. Wines are optional, though few guests miss the opportunity to sample from three to nine wines with their dinners—each personally selected by Fred Cherry for the particular course it complements. (A third of the dishes were specially created to bring out the virtues or particular wines!)

A NOTE OF VICTORY

Support Of Center Is Withdrawn

The Strawberry Recreation District board had withdrawn its support of the Sausalito Associates' plan for a $25 million development in Richardson Bay, and called instead for development according to the county master plan.

The board voted Wednesday to withdraw approval of "the concept of a development of Richardson Bay in the nature of that plan by Sausalito Associates in favor of development of the area in line with the existing master plan of the county, and to recommend to the county implementation of that master plan."

In October, the board stopped short of endorsing the Sausalito Associates plan, but noted that "something of that nature would be appropriate." Sausalito Associates' plan is to fill 17 acres near the heliport for a convention center-hotel-marina.

The board re-elected Arthur R. Senter as chairman. Carl L. Schaefer was elected vice chairman; James K. Garner, secretary and Manuel K. Lehua, property manager.

Contractor Joseph DiGiorgio of San Rafael was told to postpone resurfacing the district tennis courts until March 1 when weather is better.

Hearing Held

Richard Deem, 20 of 814 Hacienda Way, San Rafael, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a misdemeanor charge of petty theft for allegedly stealing a 29-cent black rubber lizard from the San Rafael Toy Shop, 933 Fourth Street, Wednesday. His case was continued until Wednesday for plea.

College Seeks Bigger Role In Marin City

The College of Marin wants "to participate more fully and effectively" in serving Marin City and is seeking suggestions for educational programs from the community.

Eugene A. Farrar, director of community education for the college, brought this message last night to a joint meeting of the Marin City Council and the Marin City Community Services District board.

The college seeks to promote dialogue and understanding and is interested "in taking more active participation to assist you," Farrar said.

One possible program might be "a college head start program to encourage students to go to the College of Marin," Farrar commented. "Possibly there could be a summer recreation program or perhaps an arts and crafts program." The college also would consider setting up classes in Marin City if there is a need and interest, he said.

When Farrar said the college wanted to hear what programs the community wanted, the council referred the matter to its educational committee.

Farrar announced there will be a six-part lecture-discussion series entitled "Concern, Commitment and Communication in Crisis" starting Jan. 20 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

Rev. Samuel Banks Jr., pastor of Village Baptist Church, Marin City, and Dr. William H. Pemberton, Mill Valley psychologist, will be discussion leaders, Farrar reported.

Sessions will be on Mondays 7:30-9:30 p.m. for six weeks, ending Feb. 24 and there isn't any charge.

Topics will be: first week, "The Continuing American Revolution: Where Do We Go From Here?" second week, "Love and Hate-War and Peace Talk;" third week, "Soul Talk-Honkie Talk-Too Much Talk?" fourth week, "Blame Games," fifth week, "Educating Each Other: Telling It the Way It Is," sixth week, "Where Do We Go From Here: Blueprinting the Future."

Charges Pending Probe Of Fire

Craig James Gomez, the former volunteer fireman arrested for suspicion of arson in Sausalito yesterday, was released in Marin Municipal Court later when the district attorney said he will not charge the youth, pending further investigation.

Gomez, 19, of San Francisco, who is a former member of the Sausalito Volunteer Firemen's Association, was arrested on suspicion of arson and burglary after a fire broke out at 2:44 a.m. in the supply room of Central School.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest Zunino said in court that no complaint will be filed pending an analysis of substances confiscated by police at the fire scene.

Sent To Napa

Arnold Julius Caesar Leon of 904 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, was sent to Napa State Hospital on an emergency commitment Tuesday night after he was taken to Marin General Hospital suffering from an overdose of methamphetamine (speed), sheriff's officers said.

Marin City Business Outlook Gets A Boost

The Marin City Council and the Community Services District board last night approved an agreement which could lead to commercial development in Marin City by a local coporation.

The agreement on use of commercial land was reached by the locally formed Development Corp. of Marin City and the private California Development Corp.

The local corporation plans, with federal financing, to construct a neighborhood shopping center at the entrance to Marin City.

One of the hurdles was the fact that the California Development Corp. was under contract to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency to develop the eight-acre site.

Through the agreement the local corporation will have development rights on a one-acre site for one year and an option for an extra year on an additional 1.5 acres for expansion.

Attorney Richard M. Adams, representing the California Development Corp., said "We applaud the creation of a local corporation, the first to participate in the development of Marin City."

California Development Corp. intends to work with the community and "we think this is a constructive step and only the beginning of many to be undertaken on behalf of the community," Adams said.

The local corporation could, if it desired, sponsor a low to moderate cost housing project and even could consider assuming ownership of the Oak Knolls apartments, now held by California Development Corp., Adams said.

The agreement between the two corporations is still subject to approval by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, which has the final say on development of the commercial property, which is owns.

Ulysses J. Montgomery of San Francisco, consultant to the local development corporation, said if the agency approves, the corporation would file for a Small Business Administration loan.

Daniel Hayden, a corporation director and council member, said the intent is to house "the existing businesses in Marin City and a few others that existed in the past."

He mentioned a market, cleaners, beauty shop, barber shop, automatic laundry, coffee shop, music store, medical-dental office, legal office and billiard parlor as prospective tenants.

The community services district board vote on approval was 3-0, with Directors Orpha Elmina Barnes and Doretha L. Mitchell absent.

Council members absent were Barbara Douglas, Susie Edwards, Helen Washington, Ephorn Freeman Jr. and Perison Knighten. The council vote for approval was 8-0.

The Marin City Council Also:

FAMILY PLANNING — Postponed until its next session at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 23 at the Manzanita Community Center discussion on removal of the family planning clinic from the community.

NEW CAREERS — Heard an appeal from Wallace K. Shepherd, field worker for the Marin County Human Rights Department, for support of a New Careers program in Marin advocated by Dr. Arthur Pearl, a professor at the University of Oregon, and asked for more information about the program before taking action. Shepherd said Pearl's program is opposed by the county administrator's office, which has proposed its own.

Fossil Whale Remains Found

STANFORD (UPI) — The skull of a prehistoric whale, estimated to be 15 million years old, has been found embedded in soft sandstone near Stanford University.

The discovery was made on the bank of San Francisquito Creek by Dr. Charles Repenning of the U.S. Geological Survey in Menlo Park and Larry Barnes, paleontology student at the University of California in Berkeley.

Barnes and a team of students planned to excavate the skull today and take it to the Berkeley Museum of Paleontology for study.

New Year Tradition

Opportunity Council Authorizes $5,000 For Planned Child Center

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council has authorized spending $5,000 to support the proposed San Rafael Child Care Center.

Approval hinges on whether the center is finally approved and on whether the Marin County Board of Supervisors provides financial backing.

The board, meeting Monday, received a proposal for continuing the Head Start program. The major change from the current program is proposed incorporation of New Careers, a program being studied by the county to give minorities a chance for employment with a future.

The proposal will be voted on at the next meeting at 8 p.m. Jan 22.

A weekend study session for the board was planned for Jan. 10, 11 and 12 at White's Memorial Retreat in Mill Valley. The session, planned for the many new members, will concentrate on instruction on how to dentify priorities, how programs can deal with the problems of the poor and the role of the board as a policy-making group.

Eight representatives of the poor have been named to the board and one more will be elected, EOC officials said. The council has now fulfilled federal requirements governing the number of poor on the board.

The new members are Marie Delloue of the Mill Valley-Corte Madera-Larkspur Community Action Group; Gail Theide of the San Geronimo Valley Consumers Cooperative; Teveia Clarke of the Welfare Rights Organization;

Charlette Stewart and Deanne Hawkins of the San Rafael Mothers Group; Ruth Greene of the Novato Head Start Child Care Parents; Ozell Gibson of Hilarita Housing; Gary Prather of the Novato Citizens Group; and Yvonne Allen of the Head Start Policy Advisory Committee.

The Venetia Oaks Senior Citizens will elect a representative at a meeting Tuesday to complete the slate.

Other positions open are the board of supervisors representative and the Marin County Labor Council representative.

Democrats Plot Power Struggle

SACRAMENTO (AP)-California lawmakers were home today for their first long weekend of the 1969 session with rebellious young Democratic senators plotting a power struggle with the upper house Old Guard.

The Assembly and Senate met briefly yesterday morning and adjourned until Monday afternoon, following the tradition of three-day weekends early in the session.

A group of young stnators, led by San Francisco Democrat George Moscone, will return next week armed for an attempt to break up the traditional nonpartisan club-like way in which the Senate has been run for years.

Moscone, a first-term senator, told a news conference yesterday he would seek election at a caucus Tuesday a Democratic floor leader with the goal of "a stronger identification of party programs and ideals."

Moscone served as floor leader and caucus chairman during 1968, but the Senate continued in the firm control of a coalition of oldtimers—both Democrats and Republicans—led by President pro tem Hugh M. Burns, a Fresno Democrat.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Legislators take their first long weekend of the 1969 session with rebellious young Democratic senators plotting a power struggle with the upper house Old Guard.

THE ASSEMBLY
Bills Introduced

Compact — Ratifies California-Nevada Interstate Water Compact creating five-member commission to administer allocation of water rights between the two states; AB 58, Chappie, R-Cool.

Disturbances — Requires state college or university officials to hold hearings on expulsion of students or dismissal of faculty members who engage in acts of force or violence likely to interfere with peaceful campus conduct; AB 59, Ketchum, R-Paso Robles.

Flags — Makes it illegal to publicly display the flag of a foreign country with which the United States is at war when such display might provoke a violent breach of the peace; AB 64, Fenton, D-Montebello.

Local — Allows local government to prohibit certain public acts, demonstrations or exhibitions not expressly prohibited by state law; AB 61, Wakefield.

THE SENATE
Bills Introduced

Boardinghomes — Permits state allowance for boardinghouse care of aged persons whose physical or mental conditions require such care; SB 52, Alquist, D-San Jose.

Campus — Makes it a public offense for any nonstudent or any person not employed to go onto a state college or university campus to interfere with peaceful conduct of the campus; SB 51, Whetmore, R-La Habra.

Foster — Changes limits on state aid for foster care of children to insure an adequate number of foster homes; SB 53, Alquist.

Russ Newsmen See SST Flight

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's TU144 supersonic jetliner made its second flight yesterday, climbing, banking and diving as Soviet correspondents observed from another aircraft, the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda reported today.

Correspondent Vasily Peskov said the plane resembled a bird. The plane made its maiden flight Dec. 31 but has not yet attempted supersonic speeds, Pravda reported.

The correspondents were allowed to take photographs during yesterday's flight and talk with the test pilot afterwards. Foreign correspondents were not invited.

NEW HOME OF DERVIN FORD

SILHOUETTED AGAINST the sky atop a hill above Paradise Cay, Mrs. Ralph Tierney prepares for whatver sport the family decides to participate in. With the hunting season closing she probably won't be needing the fishing pole over her back this weekend. She will need the shotgun supported by her right hand and the equipment under her left arm. Three of the four family dogs await a command to go. The Standard Poodle, left, is good for flushing and pointing ducks but refuses to retrieve even though he loves to swim. He is Eleanor Tierney's dog and not interested in hunting with others.

IT'S SERIOUS business to clean a gun of any kind and Mrs. Ralph Tierney expresses this seriousness as she readies her shotgun for a hunting trip. Being game, not trophy, hunters keeps the Tierney family busy year round as they alternate activity on the marshes and uplands with bay and ocean fishing. The hunting season ends this weekend but the Tierneys will remain involved with the sport as they work on equipment and hunting grounds.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Tickets Go On Sale For Fashion Shows

By MOLLY MARIN

Junior League of San Francisco has begun the general sale of tickets for its two fashion shows to be held Feb. 27 at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco. The first showing will be at a luncheon and that evening the fashions will again be presented at a cocktail buffet.

Tickets may be purchased through the Junior League Office, 1 Nob Hill Circle in San Francisco. Sponsor tables are still available.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD Otter of Belvedere are parents of a daughter, Sandra Denise, born Dec. 20. The baby has a sister, Sibyl Anita, two years old.

Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Wiper of Sausalito, Wendell H. Otter of Laguna Hills and the late Anita Martha Landers Otter. Mrs. Charles El Bruff of Berkeley is the baby's great grandmother.

VISITING MR. and Mrs. Jack Baker in Corte Madera are their daughter Pamela and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmes of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, and their sons, Bruce, 5, Leon, 3, and Andy, 1 year old.

The Holmeses have been living in Riyadh for 18 months, where Howard is a pilot with Aviation Development Consultants.

The Holmeses will leave at the end of this week and spend a week in San Diego with Howard's parents before returning to Riyadh.

MR. AND MRS. Richard L. Paige of Ross hosted a small dinner party at Oreste's Restaurant in San Francisco Saturday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. MacCormack who are visiting here from Boston.

MR. AND MRS. Herbert Leonard Dunner Jr. will be honored at a reception Jan. 18 at the San Francisco Yacht Club in San Francisco.

The party will be given by Mrs. Dunner's (Arville Sisi Bagge) parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer Bagge of San Rafael, shortly after they return from a trip to Las Cruces Palmilla in Baja, Calif.

BRIDE-ELECT Patricia M. Eckhard of Mill Valley will be honored tonight at a shower to be given by her maid of honor, Janey Clark of San Francisco, at the Mill Valley home of her mother, Mrs. Edward Clark. Some 30 guests have been invited.

Patricia, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry William Eckhard of Mill Valley, will become the bride of John Stewart Wieben on Jan. 18 at the Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley. The future bridegroom, son of Col. and Mrs. John Douglas Wieben, presently in Germany, is attending the University of California at Irvine.

Ruth Brown Is Engaged To Ed Flynn

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Foster Brown Jr. of Kentfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Edward Joseph Flynn Jr.

Ruth and Edward are both in their senior year at the University of California, where Ruth is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. She made her debut at the Marin Debutante Ball in 1965.

The future bride is the sister of Philip III, Ted and Elizabeth Brown and the granddaughter of Philip Foster Brown of San Rafael. She was graduated from Katharine Branson School.

Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Joseph Flynn of Pasadena and the brother of Catherine and Louise Flynn. He was graduated from Notre Dame Boys' School in the San Fernando Valley and has served in the Marine Corps.

MRS. RALPH TIERNEY

Northern California Home To Outdoor-Loving Woman

By GRACE HENDERSON

For a woman who didn't know what venison looked like before her marriage, Mrs. Ralph Tierney of Tiburon has come a long way in adapting to the life of a sportsman. Beginning with a background in a non-hunting family, Eleanor Tierney has come to make the great outdoors of Northern California her second home.

Telling of her breaking-in period to hunting and fishing, Eleanor referred to her husband, saying, "He was smart, taking me fishing for striped bass on the mud flats first, going all over the bay in a scull boat. When it came to camping, Ralph made me feel important, telling me to enjoy myself while he did the work. It was a rest for me. Looking back on it now, I realize how he trained me to love the out-of-doors. And after getting a taste of the outdoor life, I am insulted now if left home."

The couple have never hunted outside California but they hope to someday.

Mr. Tierney is production supervisor for the Colgate Palmolive Company in Berkeley, a post he has held since graduation from college. His sister, Mrs. C. D. Madsen, lives in Tiburon, as does Mrs. Tierney's mother, Mrs. Jack Walker.

The Tierneys have two sons who hunt and fish. And the younger, Dan, is also interested in his mother's competitive sport of tennis. He is ranked number six in the Northern California boys 12-year-old division, making him the youngest ranked boy tennis player in Marin County.

Tom, 14, is learning to reload shotgun shells and has a room in the basement of the family home on Paradise Drive where he works at this chore. The fact that both boys are required to pay for their own shells, eliminates the temptation to shoot just for the "fun of it," said their mother.

Nobody in the family shoots just for the sake of shooting and no game is killed just for the thrill of killing, she said. All game is sought for just one purpose — food.

When deer season opens in August the family begins their hunting. Game is becoming more scarce as seasons come and go but the Tierneys continue to bring home their venison every year. The quest for deer overlaps with pheasant season which, in turn, overlaps with duck season.

From February through July family efforts are directed toward mowing tules and repairing duck blinds at the ponds located near a cabin the family shares with three other families in Colusa County. The five-bedroom house provides headquarters for the family while hunting ducks and pheasants and for relaxing weekends.

"There's something going on all the time," said the blonde sportswoman.

In discussing variety and preparation of game, Eleanor remarked that she will not eat a "diving" duck and prefers those fed on rice. Her favorite recipe for cooking Colusa County ducks is the one she uses every Sunday. This is her method:

"Do not stuff the ducks. Simply put two on a skewer over the rotisserie and baste periodically during the 45-minute cooking time with bottled French dressing—it needn't be expensive."

During the off season the ponds at the cabin provide frogging. At other times the Tierneys drive to Pt. Reyes where they go abalone hunting off Elephant Rock. When low tides come, Eleanor and Tom can often be found near Strawberry digging for cockles.

Being locally-educated people, the Tierneys are familiar with available areas for outdoor activity and express satisfaction with being a part of "Marvelous Marin."

Eleanor enjoys recounting experiences over the past few years that include being lost and then finding her own way back to camp, thanks to a blue tic hound. Sensing her confusion he left her long enough to retrieve her jacket shed earlier in the day, she said. She had thrown the garment on the ground planning to pick it up on her way back. With this clue she was able to find the trail and camp.

Then there was the time Mr. Tierney arrived at the cabin only to discover he had forgotten his gun, left in its place at home.

Four dogs live at the family home, one a standard poodle that loves to swim, flush and point but refuses to retrieve fowl (that's Eleanor's); one a weimeraner (Ralph's); one a combination collie and cocker spaniel; and one a miniature fox terrier.

Both Tom and Dan have completed the official Hunter Safety Course required for minors to earn permit cards needed in obtaining hunting licenses. House rules at the Tierneys include no guns removed from gun cases except for hunting trips; no showing off of guns to neighborhood friends; and absolutely no backyard shooting. All rules are compatible with true sportsmanship, important to the family.

Thus Eleanor Tierney and her family have learned to love the world of nature and to treat it with the same respect they show one another. And other men might do well to take a lesson from the method used by Ralph Tierney in introducing his wife to the sport world.

Sandra Shields Will Be Bride In March Ceremony

SANDRA SHIELDS

A March wedding is planned by Sandra Leigh Shields of San Lorenzo, formerly of San Rafael, and Michael Lewis Richards of Wasco, Ore.

Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Shields of San Lorenzo and the sister of Susan and Sharon Shields. Mrs. Edna Hill of San Rafael is her grandmother.

Sandra was graduated from Arroyo High School in San Lorenzo and attended Chabot College in Oakland. She is employed with the Accounting Service Co. in Oakland.

SALLIRAE HOFF

Melton-Hoff Wedding Set In September

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Henderson of Long Beach have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mrs. Sallirae Hoff of San Anselmo to Keith D. Melton of San Rafael.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Queen Anne High School in Seattle, Wash. and attended Portland State College in Portland. Mrs. Hoff is employed as a secretary in San Francisco.

Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Melton of San Rafael and the grandson of Mrs. John Hoffman of Santa Rosa. He was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is attending City College in San Francisco. He is a member of the Olympic Club.

A September wedding is planned.

THE KID-CUSHION FLOOR

Klyces Mark 50 Married Years

Melvin Harvey Klyce, member of a pioneer Mill Valley family who with his wife Mabel celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage on Jan. 1, is an authority on the building that went on in Mill Valley as that town grew from a village to its present population of 12,000.

He has been a designer and builder of residential construction throughout Southern Marin ever since he started learning the building business from his father, Harvey A. Klyce, who came to Mill Valley in 1895.

"I attended the old Summit grade school — now gone — that was built by my father," he says," and the week after I graduated from Tamalpais High School I was on the job with my father and have been working ever since.

"IN THOSE DAYS," he reminisced, "you cold build a five-room house for as low as $2,800 to $3,000, but it was as difficult to get that much money then as it would be to get $30,000 today."

He is still working and maintains an office in his home. "I'm proud of the fact that I have never built the same house twice," he says.

Born in Mill Valley, Melvin moved with the family into the house his father built on Throckmorton Avenue, where his mother, Carrie Gray Klyce, lived for more than 60 years. For many years the only living founder of the Outdoor Art Club, she was one of Mill Valley's best known residents until her death last year.

Melvin and Mabel also moved into the big family home six months after their marriage and lived there until they started building in 1920, not far away, their own home, starting with an existing four-room cottage, which they expanded to 13 rooms, including a huge cathedral-ceiling family room on the top floor. They have lived there ever since then.

Melvin's sister, Mrs. Marian Andre, still lives in the old home on Throckmorton. Another sister and brother are Mrs. Virgil Marsili of Hathaway Pines and Herbert Klyce of Menlo Park.

MELVIN AND Mabel have four children, Harvey Lovell Klyce, who lives with his wife Barbara in San Rafael; Melvin Henry Klyce and his wife Audrey; Alfred Klyce and his wife Shoko, who live in Mill Valley; and Mrs. Kenneth Moylan and her husband, who lives in Sebastopol. There are 16 grandchildren and one great grandchild, Harvey Robert Klyce, the grandson of the Harvey Lovell Klyces.

Melvin and Mabel, who was one of seven Risinger children reared in Oakland and San Jose, met in 1915 when she was visiting a sister in Rio Vista, where Melvin was in charge of the construction of a bank building.

"It was love at first sight," she says. "We became engaged in 1917 while Melvin was with the Navy during World War I, and I worked as a telephone operator two years until we were married on Jan. 1, 1919, in Oakland with my sister Bessie Lovett and her husband Roy as our only attendants.

"FIFTY YEARS of marriage require a lot of giving and taking, and I don't know which is more fun. One of the secrets in avoiding a lot of trouble is always giving the same instructions to the children.

"Our anniversary party on Jan. 1 here at home was one of the happiest events of my life. I wished that my brother Henry, who is 95 and living in Nashville, Tenn., could have been here. Our children gave us this beautiful new color television set."

Melvin says, "I go along with whatever she wants to do, but our likes and dislikes are very much the same. Most of our interests have centered in our family."

A member of the Outdoor Art Club, Mabel enjoys playing in a bridge club that was started 50 years ago and is still active, with five of the original 10 members left.

Melvin is the last surviving charter member of the Mill Valley Rotary Club, is a charter member of the Mill Valley American Legion Post and has his 50-year pin as a member of the Mill Valley Masonic Lodge. His wife is the last living charter member of the Rotary wives' group known informally as the Rotaryanns.

Novato Graduates To Mark Anniversary Of First Class

The 10th anniversary reunion of the first graduating class at Novato High School will be held June 22 at the Marin Country Club, according to chairman Mrs. Bonnie Russell Broxton of Napa.

There were 85 in the orginal graduating class of Novato High School in 1959. These students started the high school as freshmen, having their classes the first semester at the Marion School. The second semester they moved to Novato High School. The high school grew by one class per year until the original class graduated.

Several members of the original class have become "lost" to those sending out invitations according to Mrs. Broxton. Information concerning them should be sent to her or Peter Ferrarese at Crocker-Citizens Bank in Novato.

Those missing are: Nancy Bisbee, Lynn Bristow, Dolores Cook, Joyce Erickson, Gundrun Zehenderlein Jeanne Free, Lynn Griffin, Dusty Hoerle, Bill McBride, Oleta Rains and Marilyn Welch.

ASSEMBLYMAN March K. Fong of the 15th Assembly District in Alameda County will speak at the annual dinner of the Petaluma Branch, American Association of University Women, on Monday. The dinder will be held at 7 p.m. at the Petaluma Hotel.

Mrs. Fong, who will be introduced by Petaluma Mayor Helen Putnam, will speak on "Politics in Education". She formerly served on the Alameda County School Board for 10 years, holds the doctorate in education from Stanford University and has been a teacher at the primary and secondary levels and at the University of California.

Mrs. Brand Johnson, branch president, is chairman for the program.

THE MARIN Museum of Science will hold its annual all-guild luncheon meeting on Monday at La Petite Auberge in San Rafael. Mrs. Ronald Sandstrom of Mill Valley will be director of guilds for 1969.

Other officers serving with her will be Mmes. Robert Logan of San Rafael, coordinator of guilds; George Stump of Fairfax, secretary; and Joachim Jung of Mill Valley, treasurer.

Her new officers and committee chairmen are Mmes. Paul Leal, vice president; Gary Rettig, secretary; William Adamson, treasurer; Stanley Fontez, Bargain Box; Joseph Redmond, publicity; Frank Stocking, telephone; and Will Williams, prizes.

PETALUMA MAYOR Helen Putnam will honor the women employees of Petaluma at a tea at her home Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

"I don't mean to differentiate between the male and female employees, Mrs. Putnam said," but I've always thought it would be nice to have the women get together for a social afternoon."

VOLUNTEER HOUR pins were awarded by the Ross Hospital Volunteers to Mmes. James Bonner of San Anselmo, 3,000 hours; Robert Cortopassi, of San Rafael, 2,000 hours; Carl Carlsen of San Rafael, 1,000 hours; Earl Hunter of Corte Madera, 500 hours; Elaine Brown of Kentfield, 100 hours; and Grant Hand of Greenbrae, 100 hours. Mrs. James Bonner of San Anselmo is the new chairman of the volunteer-run gift shop at Ross Hospital, replacing Mrs. Walter Carroll of Ross, who served as chairman for 10 years.

The boys of Cub Pack 36, Den 2 at Coleman School, San Rafael, were given a tour of the hospital by the volunteers this week.

WORTHY ADVISOR Susan Kimberling will preside at an election meeting of the San Rafael Chapter of International Order of Rainbow for Girls at the San Rafael Masonic Temple tomorrow at 1 p.m. Officers to be chosen are recorder, treasurer and faith. Committees are headed by Beryl Simpson, Ann Pittee and Autumn Arbo.

June Wedding Is Planned By Lorel Patrice Eager

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Eager of Kentfield announce the engagement of their daughter Lorel Patrice Eager to Lawrence Linwood Dully of San Francisco.

LOREL EAGER

Lorel was graduated from Redwood High School and is in her senior year at the University of California. She is a member of the Sierra Club.

Lawrence is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frank Dully of San Francisco and the brother of Michael Dully of Portland, Ore., and Mark Dully of Atlanta, Ga. He is a graduate of Encina High School in Scramento and the University of California and is now doing graduate work for a master's degree in city planning and urban design at the University of Southern California.

Melinda McKown Engaged To Wed Robert P. Holmes

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKown of San Rafael announce the engagement of their daughter Melinda to Robert Paul Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes of Carmel Valley.

Melinda is the sister of Mrs. Larry Ritter of Greenbrae and Mrs. William Yeo of Seattle, Wash. She is a graduate of San Rafael High School and is in her sophomore year at San Jose State College.

Robert is the brother of Mrs. Jack Copeland. He was graduated from Carmel High School and Monterey Peninsula College and is in his senior year at San Jose State.

Margaret Bagnall Will Be Wed In Summer Rite

The traditional candle ceremony at dinner at the Kappa Alpha Theta house at the University of Oregon announced the engagement of Margaret Allene Bagnall of Belvedere to Thomas A. Connelly of Los Altos.

MARGARET BAGNALL

Margi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Bagnall of Belvedere. She is the sister of Mrs. Dante M. Bonfigli (the former Nancy Bagnall) of San Francisco and Ann Bagnall of Belvedere and the granddaughter of Mrs. Clement Harry Bagnall of San Francisco.

Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank X. Connelly of Los Altos. He is the brother of Diane, Daniel, Steve, and Frank X. Connelly Jr. of Los Altos.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Redwood High School and attends the University of Oregon at Eugene, where she is a sophomore.

The future bridegroom is a graduate of Homestead High School in Sunnyvale and of the University of Oregon. He is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta fraternity. He is employed with Howard Ruth Jr. Land Development Co. in Los Altos.

Painting

Don't paint over dirt, warns the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, but dust walls and wash greasy or dirty areas before wielding a paintbrush.

Miss Mason To Be Wed

A September wedding is planned by Mattie L. Mason and Donald L. Poole. The engagement announcement is made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Mason of Corte Madera.

Mattie is a graduate of Redwood High School. She attends College of Marin.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Poole of Ross and the brother of Russell, William and Janine Poole. He is a graduate of Redwood High School and attended Santa Monica Junior College before enrolling at College of Marin, where he is now a student. The future bridegroom is employed by the Coca Cola Bottling Company of California in Novato.

Designer Predicts Bosoms' Return As The Sex Symbol

By NADEANE WALKER

LONDON (AP) — Legs are on their way out and bosoms are coming back as the sex symbol of the future, an influential young London designer predicts.

Leslie Poole, 30, is the handsome blond creator of eye-popping futuristic (and very nearly nude) fashions in the 20th Century Fox film, "World of Fashion," which had it British premiere Thursday.

"The leg has been the sex symbol for five years now, but its days are numbered. The shift of emphasis is already taking place, and in two years time I am quite certain skirts will be worn down to the ground even for daytime, while breasts will be only very lightly veiled," Poole said at a press preview of the film here.

The "World of Fashion" is a 23-minute color movie showing fashions from the 1920s to the present, plus Poole's fashions for the 1980s. French film star Genevieve Gilles—a 21-year-old former mannequin shows the fashions, wearing a different outfit every 45 seconds.

Poole also predicts that science by 1980 will so control the weather that women will have to dress for warmth. Consequently, he puts Miss Gilles into what he calls "nude body decorations." Clusters of jewels and translucent sequins decorate pink lame in an Egyptian-inspired costume.

Above all, he says, clothes should show the body in its natural beauty. To do this, he also shows Miss Gilles in a sort of diaper outfit, to go with a top that looks like a painted breastplate.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Independent-Journal Historian Florence Donnelly has written for tomorrow's Marin Magazine the story of a family that has been prominent in Marin affairs for nearly a century—the Kents of Kentfield. It's a relationship that began in the very early 1870s when Albert E. Kent brought his family to Marin. It grew in the time of Congressman William Kent, and continued to do so in the succeeding generation. It is the story of a family that has made a most substantial contribution to Marin's progress.

What must be Marin County's most unusual church choir can be seen and heard weekly at the Sunday 9:15 a.m. mass at St. Raphael's Catholic Church in San Rafael. There will also be an opportunity to hear it during San Rafael's annual Unity Octave series observance later this month. It is the folk mass group of singers and guitarists led by Barbara Quinn Riordan. And Marin Magazine editor Don Keown tells you about how they got their start in tomorrow's I-J supplement.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Hadrian VIII' Truly Mind-Gripping Play

By WILLIAM GLOVER

Rarely is the mind-grabbing, attention-gripping potential of drama so triumphantly realized as in the colorful production which opened Wednesday night to lusty ovation.

PAPAL THEME

The story, weaving between fact and fantasy, concerns a whimpering craven who becomes a Pope bent on reforming the church—and if that hardly seems a theme of broad interest, seeing is believing.

Peter Luke, a British film and TV operative, bases his script upon the writings of Frederick William Rolfe, an eccentric minor literary figure of the late Victorian era.

Devised as a play within a play, "Hadrian VII" begins — and ands—with Rolfe himself, penniless, friendless and petty in the grip of debtors' bailiffs. The central sector concerns a novel in which Rolfe dreams of himself as the archbishop of Christendom, elected by fluke after having twice been thrown out of seminaries—as the real Rolfe actually was.

OUTRAGEOUSLY FUNNY

The rest of the cast, all new for New York, fill out the stage with commensurate artistry—for the most part—under the direction of Peter Dews.

TALE OF GUILE

During the second act, installed upon the throne of Vatican City, he institutes sweeping reforms to shed all secular authority and to restore the church to "apostolic austerity." It is a sequence redolent of Machiavellian guile, full of both humorous wisdom and poignant intensity.

The papal dream ends as it inevitably must, in melodramatic fashion with stunning impact.

Among the surrounding performers, William Needles and Gillie Fenwick, in dual parts; Christopher Hewett, a Jesuit leader; Louis Zorich, chief Hadrian foe in the college of cardinals; and Peter Jobin, a youthful priest, are notable. Gerard Parkes and Miss Sydney Sturgess, do well as the Irish Protestant foes of the chance pope.

Trustee Is Due Selection Monday

The Marin County Board of Education will hold a special session at 8 p.m. Monday to appoint a trustee from the San Rafael-Dixie schools area to succeed Mrs. Adele J. Alpers.

Stanley Friese, deputy superintendent for the county schools office, said six candidates have applied for the post, and five have been interviewed. Their names were not disclosed.

One will be appointed to serve until the April 15 election. The post would then be filled until June 30, 1971, the end of Mrs. Alpers' term.

Mrs. Alpers resigned Dec. 19 because of illness.

Poitier Tops Box Office Draw In 1968

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidney Poitier has been chosen by motion picture exhibitors in the United States and Canada as the No. 1 boxoffice star of 1968 in the 37th annual poll conducted by Motion Picture Herald, a trade publication.

Poitier, who placed seventh when he first appeared among the poll winners in 1966, starred in "To Sir With Love," "For Love of Ivy" and "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" in 1968.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines, and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Camelot" — Humor and depth make this lavish screen version of a Broadway musical impressive. Superb songs and music. Love affair delicately portrayed.

"Parent Trap" — Happy farce-comedy of teen-age twins separated when infants by parents' divorce and kept in total ignorance of each other.

"Yellow Submarine" — Sparkling animated cartoon featuring special humor and music of the Beatles will appeal to those interested in new techniques of cartooning.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Bullitt" — Melodrama involves gangsters, police and an ambitious politician. Violence goes all out in blood and gore for its shock effect.

"Custer of the West" — Story of how General Custer and his 226 men met death in the Little Big Horn.

"Wait Until Dark" — Blind woman becomes captive of three criminals in search of heroin. Hair-raising thriller, very well acted. Film becomes a living experience with excruciating suspense.

BORDERLINE
(Most say Adults Only)

ADULTS ONLY

"Barbarella" —Polluted comic book world of sex, sadism and perversion is pseudo science fiction. A gilded corruption, garish thing.

Youth's Marijuana Charge Is Dismissed

The dismissal by Judge Hadden W. Roth came after Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas said the substance found in Hoag's possession when he was arrested Oct. 28 was analyzed and found not to be marijuana.

ART REVIEW

Furniture, Ceramics Form Excellent Duo

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Overworked as it is, the word handsome best describes the furniture and ceramics exhibited this month at the College of Marin art gallery.

Edward Livingston of Klamath Falls, Ore., is the furniture craftsman whose machine and hand-worked pieces are so suitably combined with the work of 16 regional ceramic artists.

The gallery's cathedral or castle atmosphere is the result of Livington's furniture, each item of which seems a lightweight, stream-lined version of Medieval furnishings. At a distance, his tall-backed chairs are throne-like, in vaulting ribs of latticed wood or in smooth, partially opened solids.

His floor standing candle holders, table and stained glass cabinet have even cleaner lines. But close-up, all reveal the intricacies of teak, oak and walnut formed into subtly changing patterns of laminated strips or, as in one rocking cradle, into a ship's system of curved and open ribbing.

The 16 artists were well chosen for the stretch of their ideas. At one end, the pots adhere totally to traditional technique and design. These evolve into the earthy but sophisticated primitivesness of John Dumas' work and the rough but amusing beauty sought by Jean Yates.

While all of these might lay at least loose claim to being utilitarian, from here, the only "useful" thing about the work is the thoughtful pleasure it provides.

The purely sculptural pieces include Michael Walsh's ornate "Tower," David Hopper's darkly mysterious blown glass growths contained in a glass box, Ruth Rippon's "President's Wives Series" of portraits bulging from brightly glazed die, plus the rather ominous symbolism in Richard H. Moquin's luster-glazed torso "Reach Out Baby," and Ron Copper's strangely ruptured sphere.

Negro Republican Parley Will Open

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—More than 100 delegates are expected to attend a one-day conference of Negro Republicans tomorrow at the St. Francis Hotel.

The group will seek a consensus on such issues as President-elect Nixon's tax incentive approach to aiding the ghettos. Arthur Fletcher, former Washington state candidate for lieutenant governor, will attend. He is now on a fact-finding tour for the new administration.

Little Theater Gains Approval

Establishment of a little theater group in Fairfax has been approved by the city's parks and recreation commission.

Persons interested in participating may reach Commissioner Conway E. Enscoe at his home, 160 Porteous Avenue, according to Eleanora Edgar, commission secretary.

The commission, meeting Tuesday, also approved specifications for painting the Fairfax Pavilion and sent the item to the city council for its approval and funding.

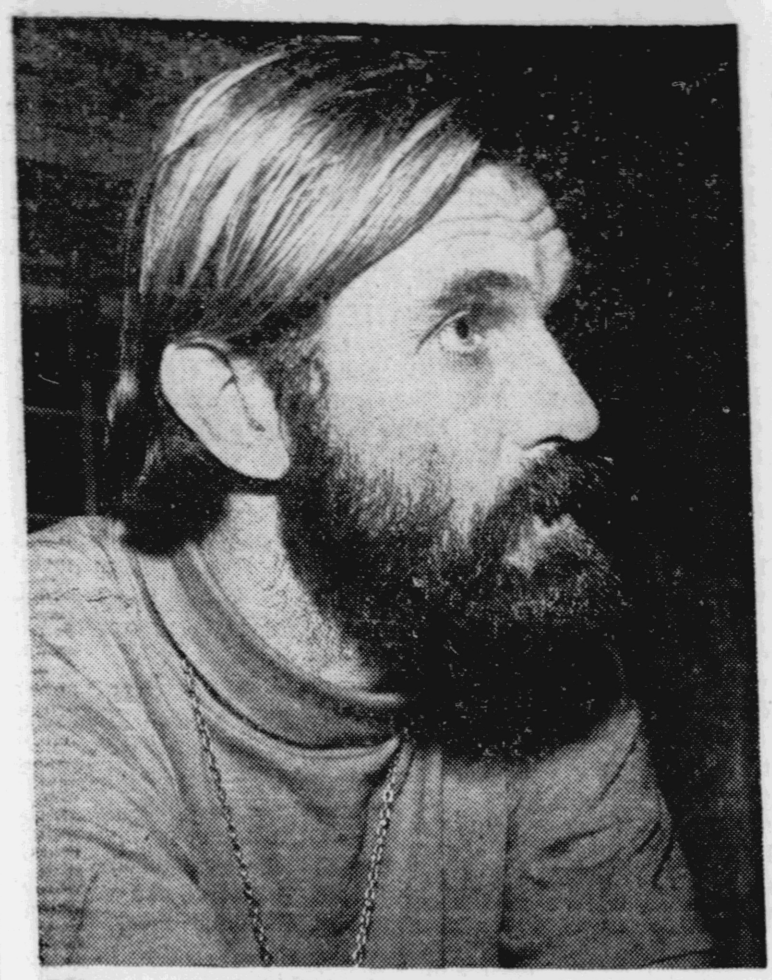
McCoy Sees Himself As Messiah



DONALD C. McCOY Jr.
Destined for something

By STEPHEN COOK

Donald C. McCoy Jr., whose offbeat life style and admitted drug use led to a police raid on his sprawling Rancho Olompali Wednesday night, returned from studies in India recently with a messianic vision.

McCoy, who is guru and rent-payer for the 55-member Chosen Family living communally on the rancho, hinted of his vision when speaking after his arrest during the raid.

"We know we are destined for something and this year is going to be the most important year of our lives," he told adults and children of his family as police searched their quarters.

"There's a new age coming. It's here. We—this ranch—are the leaders of this new age," he said.

Sheyla McKendrick, a 36-year-old divorcee who has been with McCoy since the start of his utopian colony north of Novato, who traveled and studied with him in India, stated the vision more openly while police searched her room.

SHEYLA McKENDRICK
Christmas every day

"Don (McCoy) is to lead the Western world into the new world," she said. "He will lead the way to a new world of love, peace and understanding. We will begin by probably seeing President Nixon within a month. Within 30 days, there won't be household in the world that has not heard of Don McCoy," she whispered fervently.

She and McCoy received this vision while studying in an Indian village near Calcutta with a guru named Ciranjiva, she said. The sage prepared them for their mission.

"He tuned us in keenly. He tightened us up and prepared us for this," she related.

Visions of this new world had their seeds in LSD trips, Mrs. McKendrick said.

"The first glimpse of our place in the Cosmos, the universe, was—I think everyone would agree—on our first acid trip. It awakens you. After that, you don't need it any more," she explained.

The new world will leave room for the use of marijuana, but other drugs will not be necessary, she said.

Officers searching the rancho mansion and eight outbuildings reported finding marijuana, hashish, methamphetamine, LSD and suspected heroin.

Both McCoy and Mrs. McKendrick said they envision a new way of life patterned after life on the rancho.

"Here we have love every day. Every day is your birthday. It's Christmas every day. Don't you see?" she said.

As police hauled members of the family off for individual interrogation Wednesday night, McCoy cautioned all to treat the police as brothers.

No one is bad because all men do God's will, he said. God even willed the actions of Hitler, he said.

"The world had to evolve to the brink of destruction so we'd recognize light and knowledge," the spiritual leader announced. "You can't know love and understanding unless you've known hate and misunderstanding."

As he warmed to his lecture to the family, McCoy indicated that, in the new world, each will have his place. McCoy said his own place is that of a teacher and the members of the family would do well to listen.

"I praise those who sit at my feet and listen to me. That's the way to learn," he said. "I want to talk about myself, which is another way of saying I want to talk about God. I have some insight into what God is up to."

"I had the Satori experience. I became at one with the world," said the teacher.

McCoy also explained that God sent everyone to earth for a purpose. Some men are to be bakers, some farmers, some teachers, he said.

What is McCoy's purpose on earth?

"He sent me to earth to be, well, you can quote me, a king, an emperor, a King of Kings," said McCoy.

OLOMPALI PUZZLE

Family In Jail; Children Vanish

The nucleus of Rancho Olompali's chosen family remained in jail on narcotics charges today, while sheriff's officers pondered the disappearance yesterday of all children from the communal home.

Narcotics charges, ranging from possession of marijuana to possession of heroin, were filed against 11 adults of the family as a result of Wednesday night's raid at the 450-acre ranch north of Novato.

Lt. Harvey E. Teague of the sheriff's juvenile division, who said earlier he might ask that the Olompali children be made wards of the court, reported today that he returned to the ranch yesterday to find the 28 children had disappeared.

Most serious charges filed as a result of the raid on Donald C. McCoy Jr.'s utopian colony were possession of marijuana, methamphetamine (speed) and LSD and for sale and possession of heroin by Robert Gregge H. McKendrick, 35, of the rancho.

McKendrick, sought after a search of his bedroom turned up substances claimed to be quantities of the weed, dangerous drug and opiate, was arrested yesterday afternoon in a home on Portola Way, Inverness Park.

Officers said he appeared high on a drug at the time of his arrest and possessed three small packets of a tan powdery substance. He was arraigned and held in lieu of bail set at $31,250 by Judge Hadden W. Roth.

Still sought on a charge of heroin possession is Stan Kris Anthony, also of the rancho. Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Shaw said he will seek a warrant for Anthony's arrest.

Arraigned on marijuana possession charges yesterday were McCoy, 37; Sandra Barton, 48; Sister Mary Norbert, a former Roman Catholic nun, 34; Robert John Ellison, 23; William David Candelario, 19; Walter Hanson Doyle, 22; Oleg Valeri Minakov, 30.

To be arraigned on the same charge today is Joseph John (Jo-Jo) D'Amore, 38, also of the rancho, who surrendered himself at County Jail last night when told the was sought.

Another charge alleges that Doyle, Minakov and D'Amore possessed devices for smoking a narcotic.

A bail hearing for all those in custody was scheduled before Judge Hadden W. Roth in Municipal Court this afternoon.

New Support Pledged To Boys' Club

Pledges of nearly $14,000 have been made to the Petaluma Boys' Club, directors reported last night.

They added the club will continue to operate and executive director Gil Messa will stay on.

Messa said last month he would quit if the community did not financially support the club. He later said directors' interpetation of his letter of resignation was incorrect. Last night the directors gave Messa a vote of confidence and urged him to go ahead with spring programs.

Daniel Libarle, board president, said Petaluma residents have rallied with financial support. "As of last night we had 536 pledges to donate at least $2 a month to the club," he said. More than $4,000 has already been received.

He said the new funds would be used to pay outstanding bills, but the remainder will defray operating expenses and support increased programs.

"This whole misunderstanding has been a God-send to the structure of the boys' club," Libarle said. "It woke us up to the fact that we have a lot of community support."

Frozen Food Theft

Panel Raps Transit Plan Language

The county's balanced transportation program — to coordinate land use and transit planning — must be reduced to understandable language so that laymen will know what is going on, members of the City-County Planning Council declared last night at a meeting at Civic Center.

Councilman Harold B. Wagstaff of Corte Madera was particularly insistent that simpler language be used. "If you want us to understand and be involved, get it into laymen's language," he told Albert Solnit, chief of advance planning, and Harold Rune Carlson, coordinator of the balanced transportation program.

Solnit, who prepared the report on the program, agreed that it should be made comprehensible.

"One distinction must be made," said Solnit. "The program is a planning program as opposed to the functional duties of the transit district, which is concerned with operations."

Solnit said the balanced transportation program will identify congestion areas, point out problems and provide options. He said the aim is to make land use and transportation consistent with each other.

"The important thing," Solnit said, "is that we are going to get for the first time a look at how the total transportation system will operate, given the most probable development of the county . . . the computers are not going to give the answers. They will provide data and arrange them so that judgments can be made."

Solnit and Planning Director Paul C. Zucker announced that a time schedule for the balanced transportation study will be presented to the council again next month.

The City-County Planning Council also:

APPOINT — Heard Chairman Douglas M. Merrill appoint seven members to the committee on housing and social planning, with Wagstaff as chairman.

ROSS DELEGATES — Recognized three delegates to the council named by the Town of Ross. They are Mayor Frederick [illegible] Allen, Councilman [illegible] and Councilman [illegible] as alternate.

LARKSPUR — Heard that the City of Larkspur is also considering joining the council.

NEXT MEETING — Set Feb 10 as the tentative date for the next meeting, although another date might be set because the Ross Town Council meeting falls on the same date.

Teener Tells Profits Of Marijuana

A 16-year-old Chileno Valley boy, attending Petaluma High School, has confessed to Marin and Sonoma sheriff's authorities that he has been dealing in marijuana at a 200 per cent profit, according to a Marin sheriff's report.

Juan Paul Bentley, 16, of 4669 Chileno Valley Road, booked at Marin Juvenile Hall for allegedly selling and possessing marijuana Wednesday, said he dealt in the drug to keep up with payments on his car, a 1960 Thunderbird, officers said.

He was arrested after selling an ounce lid of the leafy substance to Sonoma undercover agents Wednesday. Officers searching his bedroom found 18 more lids, which he said he sold for $15 each.

The boy, a junior in high school, said he would buy his pot in kilo quantities, then break it down and sell it to other youths, sheriff's deputies said.

He bought his last kilo "from a guy on the street" in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury District, he reportedly admitted.

He reportedly paid $145 for the brick of grass and broke it down into 30 $15 lids.

Manslaughter Charge Ordered In Stab Death

David Vaughn Busdieker, 19, who allegedly stabbed his father to death in their Corte Madera home Dec. 18, was held to answer in Marin Municipal Court this morning on a charge of manslaughter.

Judge Peter Allen Smith, in binding the youth over for trial in Superior Court, said evidence presented by the district attorney at a preliminary hearing does not warrant a charge of murder.

The magistrate set bail of $5,000 for the youth, a dishwasher in a Corte Madera restaurant.

Ex-Supervisor Blair Reported Improving

J. Walter Blair, a former Marin supervisor who suffered a stroke two weeks ago, is reported in improved condition at Marin General Hospital.

Blair was recalled as supervisor in 1961, the first time in Marin County history, after serving less than a year.

ADVISERS DIVIDED

Novato Campus Cluster College?

"Cluster college" development of the North Marin campus of College of Marin was warmly supported by faculty members last night, but trustees and members of a citizen committee expressed reservations.

The "cluster college" proposal, put forward in a report by Berkeley Johnson, assistant dean of the evening college, occupied 36 members of the Marin Junior College District Board of Trustees, faculty, and citizen committee during a meeting at San Marin High School. The group is trying to decide what kind of development would be best for the second campus.

The "cluster college" concept calls for dividing the school into a set of separate but integrated colleges, each of which would have its own library and lounge facilities and its own faculty. Students would attend classes largely within their own cluster, and each cluster might be differently oriented.

Just how it would work out for a junior college is not certain. College President Louis H. Herkenhoff pointed out that existing cluster plans are all at four-year residential colleges. "We would be in the vanguard. We would have no good model, really, to follow," he said.

Dikran Martin of the faculty, one of the strongest advocates of the plan, contended it would aid in developing "an interdisciplinary structure." Said he, "We've got to watch this lapsing into rigid department structure."

Although its advocates saw the "cluster college" as a new concept, trustee president Theodore C. Wellman and committee member Festus Adebonojo of San Anselmo pointed out that it is essentially the system used for many generations at Oxford and Cambridge in England.

Some of the objections raised were these:

Mrs. Stephen Cook of San Rafael wondered whether the clusters might result in even greater isolation of students than they suffer in large enrollment institutions.

Trustee Harry J. Moore objected to a proposal that intramural competition among the clusters be substituted for intercollegiate athletics.

Trustee president Wellman noted that if it were attempted to tailor the clusters to the needs of the students "you could wind up with 45 or 50 clusters."

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy pointed out that it is district policy that certain kinds of facilities will not be duplicated at both Kentfield and Novato campuses. This, she suggested, may mitigate against the cluster plan.

Trustee Donald K. Felt of Mill Valley feared there might be "too many compromises" in the cluster approach, resulting in too much "watering down" of the curriculum.

Committee member J. J. Rutkowski of Tiburon held that inter-disciplinary structure and making greater impact on students is "largely a matter of faculty organization" — not facilities.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers said Johnson's proposal ignored the matter of manpower utilization. He said this was vital as affecting the cost of operation.

Johnson responded, "I guess we would just assume that we would be as efficient as we are now."

Committee members stressed that they are not against innovation, although Jack Phillips of Mill Valley warned against "change for the sake of change."

Next meeting of the group has been scheduled for March 13, but Dale A. Fleming, the college's director of planning and research, said a meeting likely will be called sooner.

Nature Writer's Wife Wins Divorce

A divorce on grounds of cruelty was granted in Marin Superior Court yesterday to Patience Leydet from her husband of 13 years, conservationist author Francois Leydet of Belvedere.

Laydet, who has written "Time and the River Flowing: Grand Canyon" and "The Last Redwoods," did not contest the divorce.

"For example, the recent display which showed the cost of convenience products. I like to know what I'm paying for things like ready-prepared mixes and aerosol cleaners, even though I find myself using them a lot more now that I'm dividing my time between home and back-to-school career.

"Or it might be a comparison of orange juice and orange drinks showing the comparative cost and food value. Or a tip from the home economist on how to save on the amount of detergent in the family wash. Or a demonstration of Chinese stir-fry cooking, or unusual vegetables. Or a United Nations celebration.

Nixon Faces Problem Reminiscent Of Hoover's

"The stock market closed with a thumping loss today in fairly active trading. The drop in the Dow Jones industrial average approached the 15.54 decline of June 5, 1967 on the outbreak of the six-day Arab-Israel war. . . Higher interest rates, tight credit and fear of further restraints on the economy were cited as reasons."

On Tuesday, major banks across the United States raised their prime interest rate a quarter of one per cent, to a new high of 7 per cent. And the New York stock market story that day began: "The stock market closed with another sharp loss today as a surprised Wall Street reacted to another hike in interest rates."

These reports followed by only a few days various year-end stories quoting financial experts as forecasting an improved economy for 1969. But among such year-end roundups was a somber note from Europe, where currency troubles that threatened economic chaos during 1968 remain unsolved.

The year 1929 opened also with glowing predictions. On Jan. 2, the San Rafael Independent carried a story from New York which began:

"Checks cleared by the New York Clearing House today aggregated more than three billion for the first time in history. . . . The unprecedented clearings reflected year-end interest and dividend disbursements."

A second New York story on the same day opened:

"The stock market of 1928 smashed all records. . . . The end of the year finds America's business in ship-shape order; its credit unlimited; its captains of industry optimistic of the future. . ."

THE FIRST FLAWS in this rosy picture appeared little over a month later. Early in February, two things happened: the rediscount rate in London was raised a full per cent, to 5½ per cent, with increases in interest rates in the United States following quickly; and the Federal Reserve Board issued an ultimatum to member banks to curtail stock brokerage loans.

On Feb. 7, the New York stock market story in the Independent began this way: "Wild selling on the stock exchange in early dealings today brought the most severe break since the debacle of last December." It went on to blame the rise in interest and the curb on speculative credit.

Two days later, a New York story reported: "America's army of stock market traders saw their profits, run up in the greatest bull market in history, dwindle by about three billion dollars this week."

The market recovered somewhat from that setback, but in ensuing months its course was erratic. And on Oct 29, the bottom fell out of the market, launching the United States into a depression from which it did not fully recover until World War II.

HERBERT HOOVER, who drew much of the blame for the depression, was still awaiting his March 4 inauguration as President when the market began its antics in February, 1929.

Many years later, Hoover, in an autobiography of his White House years, laid the blame for the depression on economic disruptions in Europe, tied to the price of gold — as are the current troubles on the continent.

RICHARD NIXON will not have to wait until March to take over as President. He will be inaugurated week after next. But the financial situation as he enters office will be remarkably similar to that which faced Hoover on March 4, 1929: spiraling interest rates, uncertainty in foreign currencies, pressures on the price of gold — and disquieting reaction on Wall Street.

This will face the new President with one of his greatest immediate problems. He may well be justified in giving it precedence over more widely discussed matters, such as war in Vietnam and unrest on campuses and in city streets.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reagan Tax Promise May Not Mean Much In Long Run

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's "state-of-the-state" message, delivered to the California Legislature Tuesday, is maked by one statement which should bring some pleasure to the general public, although it could turn out to be somewhat meaningless.

"Under no circumstances," says the governor, "will I support or sign into law any tax increase.

"I believe the taxes we have now produce ample income to meet our expenses, and with careful management, they permit us to offer substantial tax reduction."

JUST WHERE the reduction is contemplated isn't detailed, but he says the present situation will permit a balanced budget, a continuation of state-sponsored local property tax rebates, and a substantial personal income tax reduction.

It will be recalled that the Legislature enacted legislation in 1968 for a $70 refund on property taxes. So far, nobody has seen the $70, and when the property taxpayers of California do get it sometime next June, or later, a good share of them will find the refund eaten up by increased local property taxes.

It should also be recalled that the Reagan administration two years ago put through a tax increase of approximately a billion dollars, which with "careful management" ought to be enough for a few years to counter any necessity for tax increases. But fiscal experts say the time is fast arriving when there will be more demands on the taxpayers' pocket-book.

ONE HOPEFUL sign in the 1969 picture is the governor's statement that he will offer legislation designed to remove barriers against employment of young people. This is a worthy objective for the administration, but it may be more difficult than it sounds.

Organized labor for years has been building up barriers to the point of confiscation of the the right to work for young people. Age limits on employment, and minimum wages for workers are only part of the laws which deter employers from hiring youth, with resultant increases in juvenile delinquency.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Metal Valued More Than Human Life

When Lebanese Arabs attack, maim and kill passengers on an Israeli airplane in Athens, the world is unmoved. But when Israel in retaliation destroys some Lebanese metal, but not life, the whole world is appalled. A holy alliance of the Kremlin and the Pope, the U.N. and the Third World, the Wall Street Journal and Pravda cry out in shock about the loss of metal.

No wonder that the youth all over the world mistrusts our materialistic generation, which values matter more than man, which value Arabian oil more than Israeli blood.

Why Was Pueblo Rendered Helpless?

After these many months, it has been such a pleasure to read good news about the Pubelo crew. Senator Russell questioning why the ship was not scuttled surprised me.

When the ship was brand new and stationed at Bremerton, Wash., Commander Bucher requested (I believe five times) in writing, destructive equipment in case of capture. These requests were denied!

The question in my mind remain. Why was the Pueblo unescorted? Why was the capture not intercepted by our planes or ships? Why were there only two or three machine guns for its defense? Why was the crew not permitted to use these guns?

An investigation into these orders which left the ship and its crew helpless victims would be even more worthwhile than an investigation of the victims themselves.

Recently an article appeared in your newspaper concerning my work as a counselor at the College of Marin. The article described our courses in group processes, called Counseling 53.

I hope you will understand the need to print this letter. It will not undo the damage of this error but it may serve to lessen the repercussions.

Transferred Resident Appreciates Courtesy

I recently wrote to three papers I used to take in California and asked what the price was to take the paper up here. The San Francisco paper quoted a price far above the price I paid when I lived in California. The Novato paper ignored my request. The Independent-Journal not only sent me the information but courtesy copies free and no additional price for my new Alaskan address, so I could see if I really wanted it.

The San Francisco paper said I'd have to pay three months in advance, etc.

Needless to say I wish to thank the Independent-Journal for their courtesy and generosity. It seems to be going out of style where other newspapers are concerned. I certainly didn't expect the free copies and am overwhelmed, and especially so, when compared with reaction to my request by the other two papers.

Thanks again. I'm also getting my favorite of the three papers I took down there. It is really great.

TRY AND STOP ME

Johnson Shows He Won't Try To Hamper New Administration

WASHINGTON — President Johnson clearly meant it when he told his cabinet after the election, "If we have to have a Republican as President, I'm going to do everything I can to help him succeed."

These are not just words. They are being matched with significant actions.

Contrary to some reports, Mr. Johnson is not going to confront Congress with any major, radical new programs, and he has made this decision for a very special reason.

He does not want to embarrass the new administration with a set of lame-duck measures which would almost certainly not be enacted and which would only cause divisive controversy.

He does not want to involve the new Congress with programs which would lock in the new President and put him in a legislative bind which would only slow up whatever he wants to do.

Mr. Johnson's tradition of keeping all options open still runs. He has directed the Budget Bureau to funnel to the White House all ideas and proposals for the State of the Union and budget messages, but my information is that a firm decision has been taken — no major, new programs.

It would be understandable and defensible politically if LBJ should lay out to Congress in his farewell message a new vista of Great Society programs, which would represent how he would deal with all the ills of the nation if he had run and been re-elected.

He could urge the Democratic chairmen of the Democratic-controlled congressional committees to make his programs the first order of business, thus trying to take the initiative away from the new administration.

He could, if his programs were defeated or stymied, turn them into a how-we-would-do-it platform to promote a Democratic Party comeback during the next four years.

My information is that LBJ is rejecting this tactic because he wants Richard Nixon as President to have full freedom to try what he believes will work best.

This does not mean that the Johnson farewell will not reflect the Johnson philosophy and will not defend the many Great Society programs already enacted. He will not only defend them, but he will urge their continuance, and will set out the principles which he feels should and will guide his party back to the presidency in 1972.

LBJ is not retiring from politics because he is retiring from the presidency. He will be playing a major role in the leadership of the Democratic Party, along with Humphrey, Edmund Muskie, Edward Kennedy and others. In the coming months there will be a lot of Democratic politicians riding the jets to Texas.

But one fact is clear above all others. Lyndon Johnson would rather see his party pitted against a successful Nixon Administration than to see either the nation or his party inherit the catastrophe of failure. This is why he is doing his part — and more — to make the transition from outgoing to incoming President unprecedentedly effective.

When you think back to the sterile hiatus between Herbert Hoover and FRD, the cold, unspoken relations between Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower, and the superficial contacts between General Eisenhower and John Kennedy, it is evident that the Johnson- Nixon transition is an achievement of great dimensions.

As an ex-President, LBJ wants to be as continuously helpful to Nixon as General Eisenhower was to him — and that will mean he isn't going to heckle from the sidelines.

To those who know Lyndon Johnson, none of this is surprising.

Four Southerners Cast Key Votes For Kennedy

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

The four Dixie solons who made it possible for the 36-year-old New Englander to wrest the key party job from Sen. Russell Long, LA., ARE:
Sen. Russell Long, La., are:

Sen. J. William Fulbright, Relations Committee, who supported young Kennedy in the secret ballot for two reasons — his opposition to the Vietnam war, and long-standing disapproval of Long on personal grounds. Fulbright, leading congressional critic of the conflict, has angrily tangled with Long on this and other issues.

Sen. Albert Gore, Tenn., member of the Foreign Relations Committee, who also backed Kennedy because of his opposition to the war, and personal aversion to Long. Gore, a member of the finance committee, of which Long is chairman, has sharply clashed with him in the committee's deliberations and on other matters.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Tex., militant liberal who has differed with Long on important economic and other legislaton. While geographically they are from the same section, ideologically they have little in common.

Sen. William Spong, rookie Virginian, a warm admirer of Kennedy's assassinated older brothers, who has a high regard for "Teddy." Like Yarborough, Spong also is ideologically much closer to young Kennedy than to Long.

UP TO 24 HOURS before the secret voting in the Democratic caucus, Kennedy had 27 firm commitments in his challenge of Long for whip. That was two short of the majority needed to win. In the final hours of the tense backstage maneuvering and electioneering, Kennedy secured the backing of the four southerners that enabled him to defeat his older and senior-ranking Louisiana rival.

Long counted on the support of the 10 Democrats on the Finance Committee, and if he had gotten it, the race might have had a different outcome.

But there were two defections in the secret balloting — Gore, who had repeatedly tangled with Long on various questions, and Sen. Fred Harris, Okla., who has become a strong Kennedy enthusiast since coming to Washington. Harris was co-chairman of Vice President Humphrey's campaign for the presidential nomination, but remained on warm personal terms with the Kennedys.

SENTAOR Long did get the backing of two finance committeemen who might have been expected to desert him for Kennedy.

They are Senators Vance Hartke, Ind., and ardent Kennedy partisan, and Eugene McCarthy, Minn., who lately has been saying he offered to throw his support to "Teddy" for the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention.

This McCarthy claim is spurious. That is not what happened. At the Chicago convention, McCarthy indignantly rejected a proposal that he switch his faltering strength to "Teddy."

New Home Owner Learns by Doing —And So Does Army, It Seems

Take a bit of advice from a freshly seasoned homeowner. Anyone who thinks the extra expenses end when he gets the deed and the key is a novice.

The big costs come first, true — down payments, closing costs and the other little nibbles one finds out about by experience.

It's afterward the unexpected costs come up, little items like appliances severly nicking the bank account, new furnace filters, fireplace tools, pruning shears, a pipe wrench, posthole digger, wood drill, leaf rake, long tape measure, paint, odds and ends of hardware and material that would supply a battalion in the field for days.

Homeowners, like married men, live longer. They have to give up all those expensive, unhealthful rich foods and exotic beverages.

Now I know what keeps the economy going — keeping the house going, that's what.

EVER WONDER what happens to good ideas? Someone tries them out. Months and months ago, Councilman (now Mayor) Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley suggested the Army beautify Mount Tamalpais by camouflaging its radar domes to blend in with the mountain and be less conspicuous to the nature-loving eye.

The Army thought it a good idea, and later reported it had come up with a dark olive color as the least conspicuous and most mountain-like.

Then, as if it had suddenly been elected vice president, the project disappeared.

Through roundabout sources we learned the other day what happened. On a recent tour of Fort Baker, Meyer met Maj. Gen. James R. Winn, commanding general of the Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command.

What ever happened about painting the domes? Mayer asked.

We tried it, the general answered, on one of the domes on the headland. When the sun hit the dark paint it raised the inside temperature so high it fouled up the electronics and radar.

And that is why Mount Tam's domes are still white. And very cool.

THE MOUNTAIN will have to come to Mahomet, the Sausalito City Council decided Tuesday.

Councilman Alexander R. Imlay complained the city had written twice to the Sausalito Arts Association asking the artists to come in and start arranging the arts festival for next Labor Day, but Albert Garvey and Co. have not responded.

"They'll come in June or July and want the space, and there'll be a lot of braying if we don't give it to them," Imlay said. "We'll be anti-art and everything else."

"Let 'em complain," councilman George Hoffman said. "It's not our fault if they're disorganized. If they don't come in . . . I'm willing to vote against them, and I'll go on record on that."

The association may be delaying because of its efforts to land the former Bayside School buildings as an art center, which would provide an excellent festival site outside downtown Sausalito.

Whatever the reason, the council agreed it will write no more letters to the association to go unanswered.

Hanging silently in the air was the threat that if the artists don't come in soon to talk, they needn't bother coming at all.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Tax Rate Comparisons Mislead; It's The Dollars That Hurt

Fusselman

Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell, like all other elected officials, has certain prescribed duties to perform, one of which is to keep the board of supervisors and the public informed of the status of the going financial picture.

One such piece of information he receives at the end of each year is from the state controller. On Jan. 3 the I-J carried the following story covering this "County Tax Rate Below Majority For California" was the heading. Here is the article:

"Marin County's basic tax rate of $2.27 per $100 assessed valuation is lower than most of the other counties in the state, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said yesterday.

"Of 58 counties 35 have higher tax rates than Marin and 22 have lower rates, according to an annual report released by State Controller Houston L. Flournoy.

"The average overall increase in the budgets of the 58 counties from 1967-68 to 1968-69 fiscal year was 15.27 per cent. Marin's increase was 7.87 per cent. Thirty of the 58 counties had a higher percentage of increase than Marin.

"WHILE MARIN ranks 18th in population, it ranks 20th in the size of the county budget the report said."

Unless there is an all around consideration of the factors involved, such reports as the state controller's, could, like aspirin, "work wonders" in relieving the pain in your pocket book each December and April when you have to shell out. But, when all the factors are considered it's like the end of aspirin effectiveness, the pain returns.

One of the biggest hoo-mallimallis of them all, whether intended or not, is this measuring by tax rate and/or by percentages. As an example, if 2 is added to 2 you have a 100 per cent increase — take 2 from the resulting 4 and you have a 50 per cent decrease — first jubilation then disappointment.

COMPARING TAX rates is completely misleading unless one considers the relative assessed valuation components and the type of activity being carried on. In a "County Comment" of May 10, 1958 (those days I bought space to express my concern), in part, I had this to say: "Your county taxes have had a per capita increase of 77.9 per cent from 1952 to 1958.

"The part the board of supervisors has control over and is responsible for has increased over 70 per cent." I was talking about your county taxes, not tax rate. I was talking about the dollars you pay out.

This year's assessed valuations, $562,030,762.

1958-59 tax rate per $100 valuation, $2.30.

This year's tax rate per $100 valuation, $2.27.

This year's property taxes, $11,963,291.

That's the way the dollar bills crumble . . . here in Marin . . . 3 cents less on the tax rate . . . around $300 million more assessed valuations . . . $5 million more taxes. No hoo-malli-malli.

Aid Increased

TEL AVIV (AP) — Jews outside the United States have increased their contributions to Israel by 12 times in the year since the 1967 Middle East War, the United Israel Appeal announced. No figures were available, but it was believed donations ran to about $18 million a year before the war.

No Progress So Far In AP Strike

NEW YORK (AP) The strike of the Wire Service Guild against the Associated Press went into its second day today.

A federal mediator scheduled separate meetings with the two sides after a joint session yesterday resulted in no announced progress toward settlement.

The news agency continued to supply its basic services in 50 states and throughout the world, including general, state, sports and financial news as well as photos and newsfeatures. The work was done by executives, exempt employees, non-guildsman and some guild members who chose not to join the strike.

The AP, in a suit filed in State Supreme Court here, sought to enjoin the United Telegraph Workers from leaving their jobs in observance of picket lines established by the guild at AP New York headquarters and at bureaus across the country. The union was ordered to show cause today why the injunction should not be issued.

The guild represents 1,313 editorial, photographic, clerical and other employees of the AP throughout the country. Negotiations have been under way fir five weeks. The old contract expired Dec. 31, but was extended six times until Wednesday night when the guild broke off negotiations and subsequently called a strike for yesterday.

The AP offered a three-year contract calling for a $250 weekly top minimum salary for experienced newsmen, photographers and some other classifications at the start of the third year. The guild's last proposal called for a $264 top minimum.

The Advertiser was unable to publish this morning and the Star-Bulletin was prevented from publishing yesterday. The Star-Bulletin was not expected to appear this afternoon.

The two newspapers and the Hawaii Newspaper Agency, which prints and distributes them, filed a charge with the National Labor Relations Board alleging the walkout is an illegal secondary boycott.

New Center

HAIFA, Israel (AP) — One of Israel's biggest community centers is rising at Kiryat Eliezer, Haifa. The $300,000, three-floor building, financed by the Pioneer Women of the United States, will contain a kindergarten, clubhouse, cultural and study rooms and a community hall.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

A Good Rule: Never Smile Before Score Entered In Pad

When you bid a makable slam with only 31 points in high cards you have good reason to congratulate yourself, but don't sprain your wrist patting yourself on the back until you've brought the slam safely home. If you save your smiles until the score has been entered you won't have to eat crow very often.

DRAWS TRUMPS

Declarer took the queen of spades, drew three rounds of trumps and then led out the ace and king of clubs. This play would work if the clubs broke normally, if either player had the singleton ten or queen, or if East had four clubs.

Unfortunately, West had the club length, and his two club tricks defeated the slam.

South was right for the first four tricks, but then he played the clubs badly. He should take the ace of clubs and then get to his hand with the ace of spades to lead the next club from the South hand.

SAFETY PLAY

If West plays a low club, declarer tries a finesse with dummy's eight of clubs. South doesn't mind losing this finesse, since then the clubs will break normally, and dummy's king will later clear the suit.

As the cards lie, the eight of clubs wins; and South then has an easy time. If West put up the ten of clubs, declarer would win with dummy's king and lead the eight of clubs to force out the queen.

EQUALLY SAFE

South would be equally safe if East had started with Q-10-x-x of clubs. In that case West would discard when South led the second club toward dummy. On seeing West's discard South would take dummy's king of clubs and return the low club toward the jack in the South hand. This would limit East to one club trick.

In short, the proper safety play in clubs would protect declarer against any 3-2 or 4-1 break of the five missing clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♥— J 10 5
♦— K Q 10 5 3
♣— 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds.

In spite of your magnificent trump support for diamonds, this is a woefully weak hand and you cannot afford to make a stronger bid.

Not So Funny

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Economic sanctions against this breakaway British colony have touched the stage. The Salisbury Repertory Players have been refused permission to produce the American musical "Funny Girl."

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Jan. 10, the 10th day of 1969 with 355 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Mars. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1870 John D. Rockefeller incorporated Standard Oil Co. in Cleveland with a capital of $1 million.

In 1966 Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri died at the age of 61, just hours after he signed a peace treaty with Pakistan over a border dispute.

A thought for the day: British author Martin Farquhar Tupper said, "Well timed silence hath more eloquence than speech."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

1. Want To Build?
Why not consider this lot in a most desirable neighborhood in Sleepy Hollow? With more than one wooded acre, you can build your own home and use the rest as an investment or for another home. The street is paved — shops, transportation and school are easily accessible and you will like it! $15,000.

2. Here's Another
If it's a larger homesite you want, have a look at this two and a half acres with a view of Mt. Tamalpais and surrounding valley. It boasts a private road. Let us help you work with the owner on some excellent financing. $21,250.

3. Interested In Income?
This valuable R-3 property is just waiting for someone to construct 15 apartment units. Existing dwelling will provide small income until you are ready to build. Located in an established apartment area in Strawberry, it is ideally suited for easy San Francisco commuting. Come in and discuss it with us. $34,950.

4. Boater's Delight
Here is the perfect family home that boasts 100-ft. frontage on a deep-water canal. Tie up to your own spacious dock — relax on your covered patio with the Bar-B-Q ready. You'll never tire of the view from all of the large rooms to your own back yard Venice! The three bedrooms, two baths and big family kitchen lend comfort to this boat-fancier's dream, close to the San Rafael Yacht Club. Most cooperative owner. $39,950.

5. Tree Top High In Los Ranchitos
Complete privacy within and without for a very large family or for two families living together. This modern two story home was designed for the owner with just that in mind. It is tremendous in every respect! The family room takes over the entire first floor — then up the stairs to a most unusual atrium suitable for dining the year around. The rest of the home includes five bedrooms and four and one-half baths, fashioned around the atrium center (which, incidentally, can be covered or open). Each room is accessible to an outdoor balcony encircling the house. The view is truly indescribable! We have just listed this one at $49,500.

6. Santa Rosa Rancho
Comfortable country living in a modern two story home situated on a knoll overlooking its own 20 acres. Decks extend the view from the 3 bedrooms. Family room, 2½ baths and 3 fireplaces add to the comfort of this charming retreat. The acreage is fenced and irrigated. Let us explain the excellent financing. $100,000.

Warsaw Braces For Major Boom

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A 300,000 population growth limit for the next 15 years has been ordered for the Polish capital.

Mayor Jerzy Majewski told a news conference yesterday the measure is being taken to insure improved living conditions within the scope of the city's housing program.

Warsaw, 85 per cent of which was destroyed during World War II, now has 1.3 million inhabitants. City planners aim to hold the number to 1.6 million by 1985.

According to the mayor, this will be accomplished by restricting new residency in the city. Generally, only those who marry a resident of Warsaw or those required by highly specialized industry will receive permission to settle here.

This, combined with the planned construction of 300,000 new apartments in the next 15 years, will assure better housing conditions, he said.

Student Target Refuses To Quit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul Rand Dixon says he has no intention of resigning the chairmanship of the Federal Trade Commission as urged by law students who did a critical study of the agency under the direction of Ralph Nader.

At a news conference yesterday, Dixon said the report calling for his resignation is "a hysterical, antibusiness diatribe and a scurrilous, untruthful attack."

The report was issued Sunday after a summer-long investigation of the FTC. The students were organized by Nader, a critic of the auto industry and government agencies.

Nader could not be reached for comment on Dixon's rebuttal.

TV REVIEW

Tom Jones Arrives In Big Style

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The mother country sent us a Welshman last night. Tom Jones, the pop singer, arrived on ABC-TV in an hour musical-variety special taped in London, a preview of his series that begins on the network Feb. 7. And the introductory hour was strictly a heavyweight show business production.

In fact, one wonders whether Jones' series can live up to Thursday night's special, or whether he has anything left over for a substantial encore. If he does, he and his show may be a force to be reckoned with American television, for his special expended many of his hit songs, among them:

"Delilah," "It's Not Unusual," "Hard To Handle," "My Elusive Dreams," "Bright Lights and You Girl," "Good News," "I Can't Stop Loving You" and "Land of a Thousand Dreams."

Jones also had superior backing all around, from the high-powered look of the production itself, to the excellent musical support of the Jack Parnell orchestra, the Squires group and the Mike Sammes singers, to the exceptional performances turned in by all his guest stars. These guests were Dick Cavett,, the Fifth Dimension, Juliet Prowse and French chanteuse Mireille Mathieu.

The Fifth Dimension was also flying high Thursday. The group sang "Up, Up and Away" and "Shake Your Tambourine," and was purely delightful. So, too, was Miss Prowse in a colorful dance production. And Miss Mathieu is a showstopper in the manner of Edith Piaf. Her face as a simple, breathtaking beauty, and her songs can send a chill through you and bring a tear to the eye.

Jones himself is something of a curiosity. Though a Welshman, many of his songs are one in what is essentially a black American style. This makes him, at once, not at all particularly British, yet efinitely international in appeal.

Work Extension On Water Lines

The Bolinas Community Public Utility District board has granted contractor D. J. Hallgren a 10-day extension to complete installation of water lines, and agreed to buy Hallgren's excess materials for $607.

The extra materials include eight-inch pipe, a gate valve and other plumbing.

The board, meeting Wednesday night, appointed Gus Johnson, caretaker for the district dump site on Lower Olema road. Secretary Mrs. Katherine E. Martin said some people are still illegally dumping trash at the site, which is intended only for garden clippings and only for Bolinas residents. The board also ordered "no parking" signs put at each end of the dump site.

The board authorized putting rock on Poplar Avenue to protect water lines from damage by rutting.

ANALYST'S REPORT

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — California's freeway system is a flop in urban areas, and only if state highway funds are turned over to regional governments will the public get the kind of transportation it needs, Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post has reported.

Urban freeways not only do a poor job of serving both commuters and through travelers, but also often ignore community values, according to his report to the Assembly Transportation and Commerce

His report will be heard by the committee at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday here in the Capitol, and is expected to spark a strong defense of the freeway system by the Business and Transportation Agency.

"The fundamental problem is to reconcile the conflict between transportation needs and community values," said Post. Community values include preservation of parks, clean air, views, homes, the local tax base, open space and neighborhoods, he noted.

One result of the conflict, Post explained, can be the sort of stalemate that has occurred in San Francisco, where the community rejected state freeway plans. "Such stalemates prevent allocation of state funds to solve transportation needs in these communities," he said.

The result is that communities unwilling to sacrifice their own values cannot obtain state and federal funds for transportation needs, according to Post's report.

Current state law also allows the state to divert gas tax contributions from communities which choose to impose a sales tax on themselves to finance public transit, said Post, on the ground that public transit reduces the need for freeways.

Thus, the voters' reward for imposing a sales tax on themselves is a loss of gas taxes they would have received if they wanted freeways instead of public transit.

The failure of the department to accommodate community values, Post conceded, is "an outgrowth of the failure to define adequately the purpose of the state highway system." And this failure to make the definition is the responsibility of the Legislature, he added.

The Business and Transportation Agency, said Post, has ignored the recommendation of the Governor's Task Force on Transportation that regional transportation districts be created. This "can only be interpreted as a strategy to retain the status quo," declared Post.

Also necessary, he said, is a "thorough investigation by a committee of the Legislature" of the agency's highway policies.

The failure of the agency to resolve the conflicts between its policies and community values, he said, leads to the conclusion that "the case for control by a regional government may be as strong as the case for continued control by a state agency reorganized or redirected to assume broader responsibilities.

"As long as freeways are free to local government, whereas alternative solutions have a cost in local taxes, the freeway has the decided advantage," Post said.

Commission Of Theologians Due

VATICAN CITY (AP) — An international commission of theologians demanded by progressive circles in the Roman Catholic Church will be set up soon.

Bishop Ladislav Rubin, Vatican secretary general of the Bishops Synod, announced the move today at a news conference dealing with the synod's extraordinary session to open next fall.

Bishop Rubin said the extraordinary synod would last "more or less two weeks" starting on Oct. 11. Pope Paul VI called the synod last month to debate the role of national bishops conferences, their degree of independence from the papacy and relations between the Vatican and the conferences.

Southern California May Get Transportation Committee Chair

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate Rules Committee is showing signs of granting Southern California lawmakers a prize that could mean more highway money—the chairmanship of the Senate Transportation Committee.

Two southern senators and one from Northern California appeared to be in the running for the position that may be vacated by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka.

Collier has been a principal roadblock to changing the division of highway money to give Southern California a larger share.

Collier, however, has confirmed he wants to swap jobs and take over the chairmanship of the Senate Finance Committee left vacant by the death of Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez.

Seeking to replace Collier are Democratic Sens. Lawrence E. Walsh, Huntington Park, and Tom Carrell, San Fernando, and Alan Short, Stockton.

All three candidates are currently members of the transportation committee, which reviews all highway legislation. That makes it a prime target for freeway-conscious Southern California.

Senate leader Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said he would like to keep the chairmanship in the north, if he "has anything to do with it."

But the south has sought for years to gain control of the committee with hopes of changing the apportionment of gas tax refunds to give it a larger share of the highway construction money.

Walsh introduced a bill Tuesday to change the split from 45 per cent north and 55 per cent south to 42.5 per cent north and 57.5 per cent south.

Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, has promised to introduce a bill changing the split to 40 per cent north and 60 per cent south, which would shift $40 million a year from the north to the south.

The Order of the Garter, founded by King Edward III in 1350, is the highest order in England, says Collier's Encyclopedia.

Pueblo Library Gift Memorial To Hodges

CRESWELL, Ore. (AP) — The crew of the USS Pueblo has sent $1,600 to Creswell High School to buy library books in memory of Duane Hodges, their shipmate who was the only fatality when North Koreans captured the ship a year ago.

Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher of the Pueblo telephoned yesterday to tell of the gift and said the crew specified that the gift should be bought for the school where Hodges graduated in 1965. Each volume will have an inscription as a memorial to Hodges, who was buried here.

Woolworth Heirs Purchasing Seals

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Dime store heirs Seymour and Northrup Knox today pushed toward the conclusion of a deal to bring the Oakland Seals franchise in the National Hockey League to Buffalo at the start of the 1969-70 season.

The Knox Brothers, heirs to the F.W. Woolworth Co. dime store fortune, announced at a news conference yesterday evening they had "entered into a contract" to purchase the Oakland entry from Berend Van Gerbig.

POOR SUPPORT

Poor attendance has left the Oakland franchise in financial trouble since the California city entered the NHL. The league reportedly has made loans of up to $3 million to Oakland to keep the team in business.

But Seymour Knox, twice burned by "premature" announcements of his sports dealings, cautioned newsmen that the agreement was subject to "several conditions," including approval by the NHL Board of Governors and the expansion of the Memorial Auditorium seating capacity.

Local hockey sources said Knox already had lined up the nine NHL votes needed for approval.

PRICE?

Knox vainly sought an NHL expansion franchise in 1965—when Oakland was accepted—and was a part of the aborted effort to bring major league baseball to Buffalo last May when the National League chose San Diego and Montreal.

Knox declined Thursday to disclose the purchase price of the Seals, but said a "substantial amount is involved—considerably in excess of an NHL expansion franchise in 1965."

Reports circulated around the NHL during the past few weeks that the Knox group, Niagara Frontier Hockey, Inc., was prepared to pay $5 million-$6 million for the franchise. The asking price for an expansion club four years ago was $2 million.

APPLICATION

Knox said his group already had presented a formal application for the franchise shift to the NHL. He said he hoped the Board of Governors would act upon the application at its Jan. 21 meeting in Montreal.

Knox said he would talk with city officials "immediately" about expanding Memorial Auditorium seating capacity from 9,800 to 16,080. The Buffalo Common Council approved such a plan in 1965 and in view of the latest development, the lawmakers were expected to reaffirm their approval at an early date.

The NHL requires a seating capacity of at least 12,500.

"We're really excited at this second chance to bring major league hockey to Buffalo," Knox told newsmen. "There are hundreds of thousands of fans who cannot see live major league hockey and I'm sure this development will be great news to them."

NEGOTIATIONS

Knox said his group went through "two months of tough and delicate negotiations" before signing the contract for the purchase of the Seals.

He indicated he would keep at least a good share of the Oakland management at their jobs after the move to Buffalo.

"They have a good organization, but are simply in an impossible situation," Knox said.

Knox said he expected Sam Ruby and Al Pastor, the owners of the Buffalo Bison entry in the American Hockey League, to join his group in the NHL. He said the Buffalo franchise would be shifted to another city and the AHL would be paid an indemnity for the loss of the Bisons.

Scottish Fly Caster Returns To 'Palace'

Peter Anderson can float a fly into the mouth of a trout from a distance of 100 feet. His technique with a trout line is flawless. His casting accuracy is amazing.

Anderson is fly casting champion of Scotland. Once again he is demonstrating his skills for Cow Palace crowds at the annual San Francisco Sports and Boat Show where he made his American debut a year ago. The show opened today and will run until Jan. 19.

Anderson was such a big hit last year that Tom Rooney, managing director of the show, brought him back for repeat performances this year. Anderson cuts a colorful figure in his clan's tartan. He is known as the kilted fisherman from Kirkintilloch.

Enjoys Chats On Fishing

Anderson isn't just a colorful character. He is an extremely capable lecturer on fishing fundamentals. But he dislikes being called a lecturer.

"I try not to lecture," he said. "But I enjoy friendly chats about fishing."

Obviously so do scores of young and old fishermen who crowd about him as he explains how he makes a trout line sing to target areas of the show's 100-foot casting pool.

The Secret Is Delivery

"Deceiving a fish into taking a lure is the basic idea of fishing," Anderson says. "All anglers understand this. The difficulty for most is delivering the lure to a spot where a trout can mouth it."

Anderson makes 100-foot accuracy casts look simple. If the show's casting pool extended beyond 100 feet, Anderson's accuracy wouldn't suffer. Distance is no problem for him. Among his dozen professional titles is a salmon spinning distance record of 106 meters (347 feet).

Attracts Huge Crowds

Four years ago Anderson drew a crowd of 18,000 to one of his talks in Edinburgh. The following year another speaker was substituted for Anderson. Only 3,000 turned out. Anderson was put back on the program and a crowd of 21,000 turned out.

Ten years ago Anderson won the British and European Amateur Casting Championship and repeated the following year in 1960. He has just turned 30. He decided to turn pro. He quit his job as Scottish sales representative for a London firm.

"It was a big decision," Anderson said. "Naturally, I'm glad it worked out the way it has."

Win Net Semi-Final Spots

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Margaret Smith Court, former Wimbledon champion who announced her coming retirement earlier this week, defeated Kerry Melville of Australia, 6-2, 6-2 and gained the semi-final round of the Victorian women's singles tennis championships today.

In the other semifinal, 18-year old Kerry Harris upset Karen Krantzcke, 6-3, 11-9, for her second straight surprise. All are Australians. On Wednesday, Miss Harris eliminated Judy Tegart, also of Australia.

Canadiens Clobber Seals, 8-4

MONTREAL (UPI)—There's something about those Canadian teams in the National Hockey League that dismantles the Oakland Seals.

The defending NHL champion Montreal Canadiens tallied four goals in each of the first two periods last night to whip the Seals, 8-4.

Ehman scored with the game 1:47 old to give the Seals a 1-0 lead but Henri Richard quickly tied the score. Hampson came back with a goal and Oakland again took the lead until Jean Beliveau, Cournoyer and Dick Duff zipped the puck past Oakland goaltender Gary Smith in the opening period.

Veteran Charlie Hodge took over in the nets for Oakland after Smith gave up five goals on 12 Montreal shots. Hodge didn't fare much better while allowing three more goals.

With Montreal leading 8-2, Hampson and defenseman Carol Vadnais tallied for Oakland in the final period.

Redwood Booters In First

Redwood High School's soccer team moved into first place in the Marin County Athletic League, upping its win-loss record to 2-1 with a 6-1 blasting of Novato at Larkspur yesterday.

Drake, winless in three previous starts, knocked Marin Catholic out of a creack for first with a 5-0 blanking at San Anselmo.

Sifford Blasts Sizzling 63 In L. A.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The cast of leading characters in today's second round of the $100,000 Los Angeles Open has something old, 45-year-old Charlie Sifford, and something new, 22-year-old Grier Jones of Wichita, Kans.

Sifford, first Negro to win a major golf tournament, came in with a first-round 63, eight under par, yesterday for a three stroke lead after 18 holes of the 72-hole tournament which ends Sunday.

Thirty-two golfers in the starting field of 144 were under par 36-35—71 on the Rancho Park municipal course. Three of them landed at 67—Jimmy Walker, a 30-year old Los Angeles "rookie" who has won only $225 as a pro; Terry Dill, Austin, Tex., a regular but not big winner on the PGA tour; and Bob Murphy, pro rookie of the year in 1967 who amassed earnings of $105,000 in 1968.

Australia's Bruce Crampton shot a three-under-par 68 and defending champion Billy Casper and eight other pros carded 69s.

Arnold Palmer who has won this tournament three times could do no better than a one-over-par 72, the same as U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino.

Sifford's 63 was one shot off the course record of 62 set by Phil Rodgers when he won this tournament in 1962 and tied by Palmer when he took it in 1966.

Sifford's nines were 35-28. He had an eagle three on the 526-yard 13th hole where he sank a wedge shot from 40 yards. He took one bogey—when he missed a three-foot putt on the third hole—and had seven birdies.

Jones, a refreshingly boyish fellow who is the father of 10-month old twin boys called Carey and Corey, had 11 one-putt greens and took a total of only 25 putts. He had six birdies and one bogey on his card of 32-34—66.

"I putted real good," he said. "I didn't sink any long ones but I made every one from under six feet."

He played in four tournaments after he turned pro last fall and when asked how much he had won, he came back quickly with the precise figure—$1,301.46. He was a finance major at Oklahoma State but needs more credits to get his degree.

Hill, 31, who earned $34,000 last year, had five birdies and all the rest pars on his card of 34-32—66. He sank a couple of whoppers on the greens—an 80-foot putt for a birdie four on the eighth hole, and a 70-footer for another birdie four on the 13th. He also had a 25-footer on the 17th and a 15-footer on the 18th.

The first-round weather was overcast with a slight chill in the air but attendance was estimated at 7,500.

North-South Senior Bowl Tomorrow

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — If tomorrow's Senior Bowl football game turns into a passing duel as expected, the outcome likely will hinge on the throwing of the North versus the receiving of the South.

That's the way the opposing coaches—Allie Sherman of the New York Giants and Charlie Winner of the St. Louis Cardinals—see it for this first play-for-pay action by 56 of the nation's top college seniors. The game will be televised at 11 a.m. on NBC. (Rosters appear on page 39.)

"Neither coaching staff plans it that way," said South coach Winner, "But these All-Star contests usually wind up as passing games.

"If that's the way it goes Saturday, there's no doubt who our key men are," Winner continued. "We've got the two top college receivers in the country in Ron Eellers (Florida State) and Jerry Levias (Southern Methodist.)

"Sellers set all sorts of records and you know that Levias; when you get the ball to him, he really knows what to do with it."

North coach Sherman obviously feels that quarterback Bobby Douglass of Kansas is the key to whether the North can make it four out of five in North-South All-Star games this winter.

"This kid is the best lefthanded passer I've seen," Sherman said. "He has a little trouble keeping his timing with new receivers, but he's going to make someone a good pro quarterback."

The North's burden rests on Douglass for the second straight Saturday since the squad's other quarterback, national offense leader Greg Cook of Cincinnati, is still bothered by the sore arm he developed prior to last week's American Bowl at Tampa, Fla.

In that game, Douglass, going most of the way, led the North to victory.

TWO SUB-PAR ROUNDS

Golf Scores Soar In Alameda Open

SUNOL (UPI) — Neither Bill Ogden nor Rich Martinez has ever done anything on the pro tour, but both have a shot now for the top prize of $10,000 in the Alameda Open Golf Tournament.

The two shot matching two-under-par 70s in the opening round yesterday to share the early lead. While a 70 really isn't much to brag about, in the Alameda it looks more like a 65 or 66. That's because Ogden and Martinez were the only players in a field of 144 to break par over the long and tough Palm course at the Sunol Valley Country Club.

Four other players—Butch Baird, Dick Lotz, Don Whitt and Rick Jetter—had even par 72s. Then, the scores rolled all the way up to 90 and the possibility existed today that the cut after 36 holes may be as high as 154, which easily could make it one of the highest in PGA history.

Whitt, playing the back nine first, went out in four-under 32 and had a chance for a real sparkling round. However, he faltered badly on the front nine and had to settle for a 40-32—72.

Ogden, club pro at Tucson (Ariz.) National and Chicago's Northshore, has been a pro for 18 years but he never has played to any regular degree on the tour. He went out in two-under 34 and came home in 36 for his 70. The round included three birds and one bogey.

Martinez joined the tour out of Laguna Beach in May 1967. Last year he won just under $9,000 and his aim is to be able to play in as many tourneys as possible this year. He went out in 35 and came home the sane way, picking up four birds and two bogeys along the way.

Whitt and George Buzzini Jr., a young pro out of Manteca, eagled the par-five, 595-yard 18th. Whitt chipping in from 80 feet away and Buzzini, who finished with a 77, bouncing in a 125-yard nine iron shot.

Bobby Lunn, who won $102,700 on the pro tour a year ago as a soph, shot a 38-37—75 that put him in a tie with 17 others. Seven players tied at 73 and 10 at 74. The 74 group included the veteran Tommy Jacobs, former amateur champ Deane Beman and Dean Refram.

Italian stars Roberto Bernardini and Dino Canonica, making their debuts on the U.S. tour, both shot 77s. Bernardini won the Italian Open the past three years and was runnerup in the World Cup at Rome in 1968.

Dodgers Sign Sogge; O.J. Gets A Manager

The two stars of the University of Southern California's second-ranked football team appeared together at a news conference to talk about the turns in their destinies.

Simpson, whose spectacular rushing won him the Heisman trophy, said he's signed a "total management" contract with Sports Headliners, Inc., of Indianapolis.

It will handle all his affairs, including negotiations for a pro contract. Simpson is expected to be the No. 1 draft choice this year.

Sogge, Trojan quarterback, is less known as a baseball catcher. But he's a good one and the Los Angeles Dodgers signed him to play with their farm club at Spokane.

Sogge said he signed as a free agent to what he called a very fair contract. "Terms were not disclosed. Said Dodger player personnel director Al Campanis: "He's an outstanding receiver with a good arm. For a catcher he can really run well."

Simpson said Barnes "will have charge of my contract negotiations, my investments, my taxes and other business dealings. I want to be in a position where I can devote most of my time to football."

Bourdase Still Leads Keglers

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Dick Weber of St. Louis trailed Ed Bourdase of Fresno by only 16 pins following last night's action in the Professional Bowlers Association $45,000 Southern California Open.

Bourdase, who has led since the ninth game of the tournament, finished the 24 game qualifying round with 5,219. Weber came from fourth place to finish in the runner-up spot with 5,203.

STEVENS

Life has its ups and downs, generally speaking, and its report of fishing hither and yon have a similar pattern for this reporter. On Wednesday of last week I suffered what must be called a relapse and by the doctor's orders spent that day and several more in a supine position, but nagged with apersistent urge to send forth through my newspaper articles the information that reached my desk.

The first concise but comprehensive report came from Bette Urbais of the Sausalito Boat and Tackle Company. I received an authentic report that the huge comfortable rock fishing boat, Blue Horizon, (worked the North Farallon Island) hoisted aboard 24 limits of big yellows and fine fat reds. The ocean cooperated by remaining flat and the temperature warm and sunny. All sportsmen partaking of the trip were able to verify their claim of fishing by the Indian complexion obtained from the sun. (This latter state of being was somewhat surprising due to the opposite weather and water conditions on the inside of the Gate).

THE RED AND yellow rock cod were to good size ranging from three to six pounds and the end of the catch included 15 of the highly desired ling cod which weighted up to 23 pounds.

NOTE: the famous Blue Horizon, working out of Sausalito Boat and Tackle, has curtailed its rock fishing trips to Saturdays only until further notice. Other days, the Blue Horizon will go for salmon.

Bette and Rick Urbais reported brief details for a four and one-half day trip on one of the beautiful sea-going cruisers, which are extremely well-appointed — staterooms, dining room, TV and radio. These luxury fishing boats are berthed at Point Loma, San Diego. For more specific information, call Bette or Rick Urbais, Sausalito Boat and Tackle.

TO THOSE WHO like to combine a scenic automobile trip with a better than fifty-fifty chance of doing battle with the fighting steelhead of the Klamath River, from below Wetchepeck to above Happy Camp, should welcome the news that the famous Klamath River is still producing steelhead to the guys and gals who have the know-how and the patience to await a run.

"River in fine shape in spite of recent storms, winter steelhead in this area now. Best results have been on fresh roe and Hot Shots (yellow and silver or red and silver lures have same effect). Fishermen with results and limits are taking fish that average four pounds each.

"BOB GOERNER of North Hollywood, limits to eight pounds.

"Dr. William Christie of Sunnyvale; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Flack of St. Helena with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lilienthal of Napa, all limited out."

and Ray Ruffels, 9-7, 6-4, 6-4 in an all-Australian final.

Major matches on tomorrow's program are the men's semifinals in which three United States players are involved, plus Ruffels. The Australian will oppose Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., the U.S. open and amateur champion, in one match while Charles Pasarell of Santurce, P.R., opposes Stan Smith of Los Angeles in the other.

Hendricks Honored

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ted Hendricks, defensive end for the University of Miami (Fla.) yesterday was named the outstanding college lineman of the year by the Washington Touchdown Club.

Jim Foor, 19, a southpaw pitcher from St. Louis who was Detroit's No. 1 man in the June 1967 free agent draft, will get a chance to make the Tiger pitching staff next spring. He won four of five decisions with Montgomery, Ala., last season.

COUNTDOWN BEGINS

Football, A Mental Game

FRT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—The rough stuff is over. The Baltimore Colts and the New York Jets will use the final 48 hours before Sunday's Super Bowl game in Miami to brush up on strategy and sharpen their mental edge.

On the matter of game psychology, New York coach Weeb Ewbank has a couple of complaints. One is that he has to keep the reins tight on his Tigers so they won't be ready too soon. The other is that nobody seems to take the Jets seriously as a threat to knock off the National Football League Kings for the first time in three Super Bowls.

Colts coach Don Shula, whose team is the three-touchdown favorite, says his preparations are drifting along cooly: "We're not chafing at the bit—yet. We don't want that until Sunday."

And the Colts one and all speak nothing but praise and respect for Joe Namath and the Jets. It would be unsporting, of course, to knock them, but it would also be foolish for Baltimore to risk getting overconfident.

"If you listen to people talk, it would be foolish for us to dress. But we're going to," Ewbank fusses.

Baltimore licked Cleveland 34-0 in the NFL title game. Ewbank said, "No AFL team was licked that badly in the Super Bowl. Yet they don't downgrade the Browns like they do the AFL."

The first two world championship games ended in 35-10 and 33-14, Green Bay victories over Kansas City and then Oakland. Until the AFL champion makes a better showing, few will be convinced the league has pulled even with the NFL. Ewbank believes his team is the best so far to represent the newer league in the championship games.

New York opened practices in Florida two days before Baltimore and Ewbank says his men were "ready last week. That's the problem, trying to calm them down. I have to caution them not to get as rough as they did Wednesday . . . they scared me there for awhile."

Neither coach is looking for a wide-open ball game. Ewbank put down any ideas of "getting rich quick" on Namath's bombing arm. And Shula says he's adding nothing more than "a few wrinkles" to the usual Colt attack because "I don't think it's a game that will be won or lost with any gimmicks. Good, hard football is what this game will be."

Wild Time In Oakland; Oaks Win

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Oaks, behind a balanced attack, rolled to their 11th victory in a row, 136-115, last night to rrun their season's record to 30-4.

Oakland jumped to a quick lead and was never headed while avenging a 134-127 setback to the Rockets in November. It also marked the fourth straight win for the Oaks without their scoring ace, Rick Barry, who is sidelined for the entire month with torn knee cartilages.

Gary Bradds, Barry's replacement, tallied 24 points, Henry Logan added 22 and guard Warren Armstrong netted 21 for Oakland.

It began when Oakland center Jim Eakins, a 6-11, 215-pounder, squared off with Bill McGill, 6-9 and 225 pounds. In a matter of seconds, Denver's other big man, 6-9 Byron Beck, dashed off the bench and joined the fray with other players and coaches.

Armstrong was quickly in the middle of the fist-swinging and landed a couple of punches on Beck's head, leaving a welt under Beck's right eye.

COMEBACK AT 23

Matson To Make Return

Matson, who started in a stock brokerage training program in Houston last week, has given up the idea of playing either professional football or basketball.

"Oh, I thought about it a lot," Matson said in a telephone interview. "I don't know if I could have made it. But I'm interested in a business career and I would have to put it off until I completed professional athletics.

"I hate to quit track now. I'm just 23. I should be able to improve."

Matson, the world and Olympic record holder in the shot putt, received offers from both the Dallas Chaparrals of the American Basketball Association and the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League.

He stands 6-foot-6, weighs some 255 pounds and is quick, quick, quick.

"I had some pretty good offers," Matson said. "I really think they were higher than what I would have been worth to them. The offers were real fair, but not such as would make it worthwhile to me."

Matson has already begun workouts at the Houston downtown YMCA health club.

"I hope to compete this year in selected events," Matson said. "I hope to make as many meets as I can. It will take another month for me to get into decent shape so I could throw in competition. I hope to be in shape in time for the Fort Worth indoor meet in February. I would also like to go out to the West Coast for a meet or two."

Matson said his employers—Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis—were "interested in me competing. This is a real good situation for me. I will go to training school in New York in July for two and one-half months and then take exams to get registered."

Matson said he would like to see the development of professional track and field.

"It would be real good for the track athlete," said Matson. "It's hard to compete as an amateur and try to hold down a job.

"It would also strengthen the overall track program. More youngsters would want to concentrate on a career in track and field instead of football and other sports."

Matson said he had given some thought to the possibility of competing in the 1972 Olympics in Munich, Germany.

"It's a long way off," Matson said. "I'll have to take it day by day. If it gets to the point where I'm unable to compete well I'll give it up. I want to win—not just compete."

As you can see, Randy Matson is back.

Coast Cagers Get Ready For League Business

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The funsies are over for West Coast basketball teams who get down to the serious business tonight of league clashes.

And after the smoke clears this weekend, fans will have a fair idea of what club may possibly knock off third-ranked Santa Clara (12-0) in the West Coast Athletic Conference or UCLA (9-0), the nation's No. 1 power. in the Pacific Eight Conference.

The Bruins from Los Angeles could run into a toughie at Oregon which won the Far West Classic last month. It is also the Pacific Eight opener for Oregon (6-3).

Southern California (7-5) and Oregon State (4-4), meanwhile, open their conference season at Corvallis, Ore. USC and UCLA swap Oregon opponents Saturday night.

Washington State and Washington, both one game over the .500 mark, have played top-notch basketball at times this season. But they will have to be at their best against California (6-3) and improving Stanford (4-7) this weekend.

The University of Pacific Tigers, sporting a fine 7-3 mark, open WCAC play with a pair of toughies on the road. Powered by a sturdy front line of Tom Jones, Bill Stricker and Pat Foley, the Tigers tackle the University of San Francisco tonight and Santa Clara Saturday.

UOP must shut off the Dons' fine 6-9 center Pete Cross who is averaging 23.2 points and more than 16 rebounds per contest.

If the Tigers get by Cross, then they come up against another solid front line of Bud and Ralph Ogden and Dennis Awtrey at Santa Clara.

The unbeaten Broncos figure to have too much artillery tonight for the St. Mary's Gaels (4-7). Santa Clara, UOP, San Jose State and Loyola won their opening WCAC matches and sport 1-0 records.

California will rely on the rebounding and defensive work of its 6-10 center, Bob Presley, and the shooting of hot sophomore Jackie Ridgle to get by the two visiting clubs from Washington.

In the Far West Conference, pre-season favorite San Francisco State, paced by All-Conference selection Girard Chatman, runs into a solid Cal Aggies squad at Davis. In other Far West action, Humboldt State visits Sacramento State, Sonoma State is at Nevada and Chico State hosts Hayward State.

Sacramento State outrebounded Portland State 72 to 46 last night to pull away in the final quarter for a 98-83 victory.

Marin High School Cagers Open League Play Tonight

It's a brand new season for all eight Marin County Athletic League basketball teams as they open fire in loop play tonight with four games all beginning at 7 o'clock.

The best and the worst records in non-league games won't mean a thing after tonight.

The big clash finds Redwood, sporting the top practice game record at 10-3, visiting ambitious and dangerous San Rafael High (5-6).

The two other members of what should be a four-team race will avoid each other tonight. Novato (11-4) hosts Drake (2-7), Marin Catholic (0-10) hosts Tamalpais (2-9) in Kentfield and brand new San Marin (1-8) is at Terra Linda High (7-4).

Drake will be playing without starting guard Dave Alvarado. Alvarado, third-best scorer on the squad, will be out for the rest of the season. He suffered a broken wrist crashing into a wall during a practice session this week.

San Marin's Gary Howard still holds the best scoring average in non-league games at 20.9 but Bruce Nave, junior guard from San Rafael, Ed Herrnberger of Novato and Pat Purcell of Terra Linda have picked up heavily. Nave has a 16.2 average, followed by Herrnberger at 15.3 and Purcell at 15.1.

HERE'S HOW QUARTERBACKS SHAPE UP

Los Angeles Rams Get Their Man

Culminating a 12-day search, the Rams hired a new head coach this week. He is the 14th head coach in the team's history.

His outstanding qualifcation was, he was out of work at the time of the hiring. It is believed he will be more of a company man than his predecessor.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed but a club spokesman did say, "We think we have found the best man for the job. This should allay the public fears that the new coach we got would not be as good as the man we fired. We have every reason to believe our new coach will be every bit as good as the old one."

THE NEW coach allowed as how he expected he would like it in Los Angeles. Aides noted he is very familiar with the Ram personnel. Several of the Rams had announced they would not be back next year in protest of the firing of the old coach. It is expected, however, that they will adopt a wait-and-see attitude with the new coach.

The owner of the club, who had complained it was "difficult" for him to "get through" to his old coach, said he expected no such difficulty with the new coach. Outsiders predicted the installation of a carrier-pigeon service at once, and also expected the front office would send a 11x20 glossy of the boss, together with a complete physical description, and instruct him to wear a carnation in his buttonhole. Rumor has it, the old coach was told to "go over and talk to the boss" one day, and he paused, and asked in a whisper, "Which one is he?"

THE OWNER said he also talked to several other prospects but feared a "personality conflict" might crop up with some of them. His new coach, he hinted, looked more like his type of guy — a coach he could work with.

The front office was all smiles over the outcome. Several of them even went so far in expressing their joy as to cut their wrists.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT ceremony had all the warmth of the surrender signing on the battleship Missouri. The whole thing was as dignified as an axe murder. I have seen more smiles in a police lineup.

The search for a coach came to an abrubt halt, it was learned, when the team physician, Dr. Jules Rasinski Jr., phoned the owner, Dan Reeves Sr.

"I believe I have just the man for you," the doc told Dan.

"Will I have to go to court to get him?" Dan asked suspiciously.

"No, he's out of work," said the doc.

DAN FROWNED. "How come, if he's so good?" he wanted to know.

"Personality conflict with the owner," the doc said sadly. "You know how those things are."

Dan was relieved. "Oh, sure," he said snapping his fingers. "Only trouble is, I don't want someone like that last guy I had. Could never find him. Sent the dogs out one day, hired a private detective agency. To this day I don't know what he looked like, and I know he didn't know what I looked like because one day he handed me his suit to have pressed."

"YOU'LL HAVE no trouble finding this guy or recognizing him," the doc assured him. "He's 40 per cent hair, he wears out two combs a week, and he'll even sleep downstairs in the maid's room. Only thing is, I don't know how good a coach he is."

"Oh," Dan said airily. "That doesn't matter. The last guy I had was a great coach for all the good it did him — or us."

Abernathy Back With The Cubs

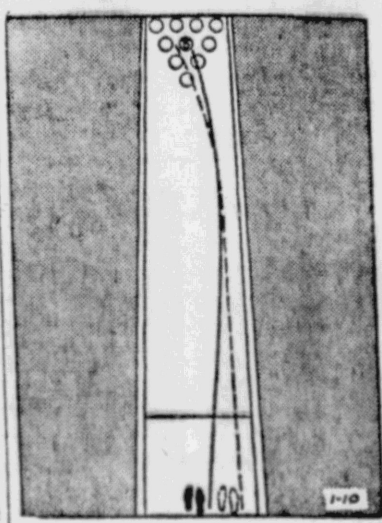
CHICAGO (AP)—Relief pitcher Ted Abernathy returned to the Chicago Cubs yesterday in a deal that sent three players to the Cincinnati Reds.

Going to the Reds are a pair of rookies, catcher Bill Plummer and Pitcher Ken Myett plus infielder-outfielder Clarence Jones.

Abernathy, with the Cubs in 1965, had a 10-7 record for the Reds last season. He was credited with 11 saves and posted a 2.74 earned run average in 78 games.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



The 5-pin may look like the headpin when it is standing alone on the lane, but don't be taken in by this illusion. You should move your starting position several boards to the left when aiming at the 5-pin, for it is some 18 inches farther away. Your ball can do a lot of hooking in that distance.

MARIN BOWLING

Treadway Rolls Year's First 700

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Dick Treadway of Corte Madera whacked out the first 700 series of 1969 Marin County Bowling when he rolled a 724 series in the 910 Travel League at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Treadway, veteran secretary of the Marin County Men's Bowling Association, started off the night with a 238, followed with a 208, and then strung out a lot of strikes for a 278.

NEXT WEEK will be the last week bowlers can enter the month-long Meals for Millions high series tournament which has been going on at all three Marin County bowling houses.

Entry cards can be purchased for $1 week nights from 6:30 to 9:30 at the Meals for Millions table near the main desks at Greenbrae Lanes, Nave Lanes near Ignacio and Country Club Bowl.

"Overall, it looks like the tournament will be a success," says tournament chairman William G. Thompson. Proceeds of the tourney go to underprivleged people throughout the world.

THIS AND THAT — Big scores were the rule at Country Club Bowl this past week, with nine bowlers going 643 or better. After Treadway's 724, it was Lou Eastland, 264-687; Ed Henry, 685; Jerry Lile, 682; Phil Wallace, 256-659; Bill Henderson, 246-665; Bill Rhodes, 660; Walt Silva, 652, and George Wigner, 643 . . . Jon Vissman has a 134 average, it says in small print, but don't tell the other bowlers in the Post Office League after his 232 game . . also in the P.O. league, George Choice, 149 avg., rolled a 228 . . . Country Club's Women's honor roll this week included Peggy Quezada, 225-589; Kay Brem, 570; Anne Baccei, 226-567; Sylvia Knutson, 557, and Joan Curristan, 547.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Secretary Ruth Soldavini of the Lutheran Early League reports a bowling milestone for Drake High School basketball-football coach Carl "Red" Brown, his first over 200 (a 216), and first over 500 (552) . . . In the same league, Bill Costello led all with a 247 . . . Nancy Cottrell of the St. Isabella's Women's League at Nave Lanes had a first, too, a 202 . . . In the Merry Mixers League at Country Club, George Wigner (168 avg.) rolled a 236 game and 643 series to be top gun, while Harlan Averill, (160 avg.) rolled 236, Larry Lansdowne (141 avg.) tossed a 223, and Maggie Giubbini made good on the 6-7-10 . . . Jim Madsen rolled a triplicate 127 series at Nave Lanes' Thursday Late Mixed session . . . Ken Holzwarth picked up the 6-7-10 split in the Friday Nite Leftovers at Nave Lanes . . . Craig Parrish and Don Roqui were big bantam bowlers at Country Club, Craig going 54 pins over his average with a 143 game, and a good pickup on the 5-6, and Don rolling games of 155 and 153.

Burglars Steal Champ's Medals

ANTIBES, France (AP)—Burglars broke into the home of France's Olympic skiing champion, Marielle Goitschel, and stole her medals and trophies as well as some household goods, police reported last night.

The ski champion, retired from competition, was in Switzerland when the burglary took place at Biot, near this Riviera town.

Doors Open For Annual Sports-Boat Show In S.F.

Thousands of spectators were milling through a Cow Palace packed with wondrous boats of all sizes and shapes, and camping and traveling odds and ends today as the 27th annual San Francisco National Sports and Boats Show was unveiled for a 10-day period through Jan. 19.

The Coot, Sno-Jet, Clodhopper, Ski Doo T'NT and the Toyota Land Cruiser are just a few of the more exotic land and sea and snow vehicles to be exhibited specifically for fishermen, hunters and ski enthusiasts.

In addition to literally hundreds of boats in the main arena, there will also be scores of new sporting items, from log cabins, to underwater vehicles to boat loaders and radar.

The Coot is a positive traction, four-wheel drive, an amphibious vehicle with an all-steel hull—ideal for the fisherman or hunter to get into the back country fast.

The Sno-Jet is suited for competition racing, snow-rallying, winter hunting or fishing.

The Ski-Doo T'NT (Track and Trail) snowmobile is available with modification kits for racing.

Among the log cabins will be a pre-cut colonial model by Pan-Abode, a do-it-yourself package.

Showtimes will be 2 to 11 p.m. weekdays, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturdays and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sundays.

Rick DeMont Leads Marin Swim Times

Rich DeMont led eight members of the Marin Swim Club by placing in three national top five times among age group swimmers as tabulated by the Jantzen division for the Amateur Athletic Union.

DeMont was second best nationally in the boys 11-12, 200-meter freestyle (2:17.8); fifth in the 200-yard individual medley (2:28.2), and second in the Junior Olympic 200-meter freestyle (2:18.5).

Ken DeMont was fifth nationally in boys 9-10, 50-yard butterfly (31.6) and Cookie Arrighi was fifth in girls 11-12, 50-yard butterly (29.9).

The girls 13-14 relay team of Denise Ham, Ann Engel, Robin Bachrach and Sue Secondo took third in the 200-yard medley relay, fourth in the 200-yard medley relay and second in Junior Olympics 400-yard medley relay. The Misses Ham, Engle and Bachrach teamed up with Nanette Guthrie to take two national best times in the 400-yard freestyle and the 400-meter medley relay plus fifth in the 200-yard freestyle.

Rick DeMont scored heavily at the Colorado Invitational Meet last week, winning all six events in which he was entered.

MARTIN SCHAAF

By MARY LEYDECKER

The Marin County Board of Education began wary consideration last night of the appeal of a Sir Francis Drake High School senior who was expelled for continued defiance, which was sometimes obscene and apparently encouraged by his father.

This is the first such hearing before the county board in the memory of officials, and the expulsion is the first in at least several years at Drake.

Martin Schaaf, 17, was described by school officials as a boy who stayed out of trouble for almost three years at the school. In fact, according to Dean of Boys Francis Mulholland, Schaaf was rescued by him from a "donnybrook" last spring in which other boys were teasing and beating him.

Sometime in his junior year, Schaaf, a pasty-faced, bespectacled, boy with stringy strawberry blond hair and beard, apparently began to espouse actively the "yippie" view of politics.

Schaaf ran into his first trouble with school authorities when Mulholland caught him cutting his first period class and passing out pamphlets advertising a student strike. The boy was suspended, not as one of the students who cut school to participate in the strike against the Vietnam War, but for encouraging others to join the strike and for the pamphlet episode.

This fall, according to school officials, Scaaf wasted no time in starting his political activities. For "back to school night," in September, Schaaf decorated posters advertising a football game by writing such slogans as "student power" on them.

(A school official said he later did give Schaaf permission once to put up a sign advertising a yippie meeting in Berkeley.)

Then Schaaf ran into trouble with his study hall teacher, who told him he could not sleep in class. After tearing up a pass which the teacher wrote to send him to the dean of boys, Schaaf stomped out, the teacher said.

Next the youngster was accused of instigating the painting of signs in red on school walls,

$8.5 Million Bridge Bus System Asked

Span Board Hears Idea For Fleet Of 150 Buses

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The former chief engineer of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District recommended today that the district go into the bus business immediately at a cost of $8.5 million.

The engineer, Arthur C. Jenkins of Berkeley, was hired in September by district directors to lay out a bus link for a fee of $6,000. Directors wanted his advice before they considered setting up a bus system.

Jenkins' 90-page report, presented today to the bridge board, said the annual cost of subsidizing a system of 150 new buses would be $1,411,000. This cost would include all necessary land, buildings, facilities and equipment, he reported.

The bus system would be serviced from a new facility, probably in San Rafael.

It would serve Marin, San Francisco, Sonoma and Napa counties and would be financed entirely out of bridge revenues and surpluses. No property tax funds would be required.

The name of the district would be changed to the Golden Gate Bridge and Transit District.

The buses would have air conditioning, semi-reclining highbacked seats and engines powerful enough to keep up with fast-moving traffic on Waldo Grade.

Jenkins said that the new system would be formed in close cooperation with Western Greyhound Lines, with a gradual transfer of the system from Greyhound to a new bridge district staff of 250 persons. This would include 200 drivers.

Present Greyhound drivers would have the option of working for the public system, according to Jenkins.

Jenkins said the new bus system could be in actual operation in seven months after new buses are ordered.

Greyhound long has maintained that its losses on commuter operations are excessive and repeatedly has declared its intention to drop all commute bus operations.

The new bus system, said Jenkins, would handle the equivalent of up to four lanes of additional vehicular traffic on the bridge and connecting freeways. Jenkins noted that the new fleet would be one-third larger than Greyhound's, would be far more comfortable and, under his proposal, would take commuters where they want to

Russia Launches New Venus Shot

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today launched an unmanned spaceship toward the planet Venus. It was the second such launch within a week and the official news agency Tass said both would attempt soft landings.

Venus 6 launched today and Venus 5 launched last Sunday indicated the Russians have switched their interest to the planet Venus rather than the moon. There have been hints in the Russian press of a possible manned flight to Venus sometime in the next decade.

The United States now has no firm plans to explore Venus but plans to launch two Mariner television probes to Mars in February and March. Each will take several dozen pictures from 2,000 miles up.

Venus 6, apparently was identical with the 2,494-pound Venus 5 sent off on its 200-million mile journey earlier.

The two probes were scheduled to slide through the murky Venutian atmosphere to soft landings on the "dark side" of earth's nearest planetary neighbor about mid-May.

Soviet space scientist Kirill Kondratyev dubbed Venus "the planet of riddles" and said after the Venus 5 launch the Soviet Union wanted to learn much more about "the composition of the cloud particles, the thickness of the cloud layer, and what holds it in a constant shroud around the planet."

Nonteaching Leader Seeks Strike Sanction Withdrawal

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The chairman of the nonteaching staff assembly at San Francisco State College has asked the San Francisco Labor Council to withdraw its sanction for what he calls a farical strike by Local 1352 of the American Federation of Teachers.

The AFT local, with about 350 members from the regular faculty and part-time teaching assistants, went on strike at the college Monday.

"If the faculty can attend an academic senate meeting on campus or hold classes off campus to fulfill their contractual obligations in order to be paid and keep their jobs, can they in all justice ask the staff to give up all of these things in a fight from which the staff will not benefit monetarily or otherwise?" he demanded.

"I call for the wrath of organized labor to descend upon these pretenders and educate them," he concluded. "I also call upon the San Francisco Labor Council to withdraw its sanction of of this farce."

State's Jobless Total Declines

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's unemployment level fell to 4.1 per cent of the work force at the end of 1968, the lowest in more than a decade, the state reported today.

Employment Director Peter Weinberger said there were 337,000 unemployed, a decline of 13,000 during the month of December.

Meanwhile, total civilian employment reached a December record of 7.89 million. There was a larger upswing of employment in holiday jobs during the 1968 Christmas season.

N.Y. Turns Broadway Into 'Apolloway'

NEW YORK (AP)—New York greeted the Apollo 8 astronauts today with music, wind-whipped flags, tons of ticker tape and the roar of delighted crowds as they were paraded up Broadway, unofficially nicknamed "Apolloway" for the occasion.

As the spacemen started the parade, they passed a group of children waving a placard which said, "We love you."

And that, judging from the cheering and explosions of applause, pretty well expressed the mood of the city for the three men who orbited the moon for 20 hours.

PAPER SHOWER

Showers of streamers and tickertape began floating down from towering office buildings lining the route from the Battery to City Hall, the traditional parade route known as the "Canyon of Heroes."

FAMILIES PARADE

The astronauts' wives, Susan Borman, Marilyn Lovell and Valerie Anders, rode in the second car. Their families, totalling 10 children, were in a third car, protected from the wind by a "bubbletop" plastic dome.

Ticker tape and streamers began fluttering down from skyscrapers about 20 minutes before the parade began. Hundreds of persons who work in the financial district showed up early, carrying lunches.

Four bands, and four marching platoons, representing the Air Force, Army, Navy and Coast Guard, headed the procession.

COMBINED AP & UPI

School officials today canceled a state of emergency which resulted in the peaceful, mass arrests yesterday of 286 students and their supporters during an unauthorized rally at San Fernando Valley State College. at Northridge.

The state of emergency was called off following a meeting early today between school officials and militant Negro student leaders. The students also agreed to stage an "informational" rally off campus instead of on the suburban campus, 20 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles.

No one resisted arrest and some even joked with the 75 white-helmeted policemen during the roundup. There was, however, considerable swearing and shouting at the police station.

A police sergeant said it was one of the most peaceful mass arrests he had ever seen.

Leaders of the Black Students Union are seeking establishment of a black studies program, hiring of more Negro teachers, firing of "racist" faculty members and amnesty for 28 BSU members indicted by the county grand jury.

The members were named in felony counts following the Nov. 4 takeover of the Valley State administration building during which administration officials and employees were held hostage—some at knifepoint—for four hours.

In another trouble spot, four fires, the worst of which ruined a classroom and an instructor's office, were reported yesterday at Solano College at Vallejo. All were believed work of arsonists.

Damage to the classroom and office, both vacant at the time, was estimated at $40,000 by Vallejo fire department of-

Saturday Evening Post Will Quit

NEW YORK (AP)—The Saturday Evening Post, a part of small town America for 148 years, will cease publication with the Feb. 8 issue, it was announced today.

"Apparently, there is just not the need for our product in today's scheme of living," Martin S. Ackerman, president of the Saturday Evening Post Co. said at a news conference.

He estimated Post losses for 1968 at about $5 million.

HAYAKAWA TELLS ATTENDANCE DROP

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The results of two months of strikes and violence at strife-torn San Francisco State College was reflected today by diminishing classroom attendance and growing hostility toward police efforts to maintain order.

Even acting president S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, who has previously declined to discuss attendance figures, confirmed yesterday that only 50 per cent of of the school's 18,000 students are attending classes.

Members of the striking American Federation of Teachers and two militant minority groups, who have been on strike since Nov. 6, claimed the figure was much less than 50 per cent.

The teachers were warned they would be considered by college administrators as having resigned and in contempt of court for defying an injunction against their strike.

"Our attorneys tell us the state cannot declare involuntary resignations," said a union leader. "We will continue to strike."

As classes resumed, a coed was arrested when her car swerved close to several policemen crossing the main intersection near the campus. Foul-smelling chemicals were poured

Sonoma Teachers To Send Delegates To Strike Talks

American Federation of Teachers Local 1764 at Sonoma State College, will send two delegates to the statewide union meeting in San Francisco tomorrow to plan what direction strike efforts will take.

Dr. Bernice Goldmark, Sonoma State local president, will attend and has called a meeting of her local at noon Monday to report what strategy has been decided upon.

"We want to cooperate with the state AFT so our efforts to improve education will be well-planned," she said today. Her local voted Tuesday 20 to 2 to strike if reprisals are made against striking teachers in San Francisco.

Dr. Goldmark said she has been exploring ways of getting strike sanction from the Sonoma County Labor Council if such action is asked at the statewide meeting at 10 a.m. at the International Inn.

The education professor noted that there is dissention in her 30-member organization, but said most will support a strike. "I'm not aware of efforts by anyone to resign," she said.

A petition opposing teacher strikes was circulated during the Christmas holiday, Dr. Goldmark said, and was signed by nearly 80 per cent of the 140-member faculty.

"We realize that many disagree with our actions, but know that since the petition was circulated, the actions of the state college trustees have caused many who signed to have a change of heart," she said.

Finch Names Woman Key Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Patricia Hitt of Villa Park, Orange County, is the first woman to be named to a high post in President-elect Nixson's cabinet committee.

Mrs. Hitt was nominated yesterday an assistant in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Robert H. H. Finch, HEW's secretary-designate said.

Mrs. Hitt

She will head the department's community and field services, an area covering consumer protection. Mrs. Hitt is a former California Republican National Committee member.

She worked on Finch's campaign for California lieutenant governor in 1961 and served as women's state chairman for George Murphy when he successfully ran for the U.S. Senate in 1964.

Flu Deaths

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Deaths from influenza and pneumonia increased sharply again for the week ending Jan. 4, almost tripling the number expected, the National Communicable Disease Center said yesterday.

A NCDC spokesman said 1,523 persons died from flu and pneumonia during the week in 122 cities for which it keeps mortality statistics.

Only 528 deaths had been expected in those cities, leaving 995 to be attributed to the continuing epidemic of Hong Kong flue.

Burglary Denied

Raymond Bruce Edwards, 26, of Navato, pleaded innocent in Marin Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of burgling the home of David Elliott Stovel of Lochinvar Road, San Rafael, Dec. 1. Preliminary hearing was set for 2 p.m. Jan. 28.

Riot Sentences

TETOVO, Yugoslavia (AP) — A Tetovo court has sentenced 79 persons, most of them Albanian nationals, to jail-terms of eight to 30 days for participating in anti-Yugoslav demonstrations here last December, it was learned yesterday.

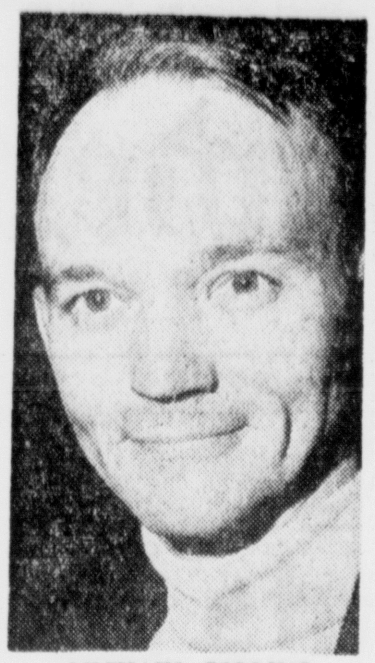
Court procedures were started against 15 other Albanian nationals for similar offenses.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said companies and other institutions had been holding meetings at which they "unanimously reached decisions on firing their fellow workers who participated in anti-Yugoslav, chauvinist riots here."

Apollo Moon Landing Team Selected

EDWIN ALDRIN

NEIL ARMSTRONG



MICHAEL COLLINS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two veteran spacewalkers and the pilot who brought Gemini 8 through the nation's only emergency in orbit will try to carry mankind to the surface of the moon, perhaps by mid-July.

The space agency yesterday named these men—Gemini 8 pilot Neil Armstrong and spacewalkers Michael Collins and Edwin (Buz) Aldrin — as the crew for the first U.S. lunar landing spacecraft, Apollo 11.

Their mission now carries the entire focus of the $25 billion Apollo program, aimed at ffulfilling the goal of a moon landing in this decade set more than seven years ago by the late President John F. Kennedy.

If Armstrong, Collins and Aldrin make it in July they would meet this goal with months to spare. Plans call for Armstrong and Aldrin to attempt the actual landing, while Collins circles the moon 69 miles above them in the Apollo command ship.

Naming of the astronauts for the most ambitious space mission man has ever planned capped a day filled with space activity in the nation's capital.

Earlier the Apollo 8 astronauts, who orbited the moon 100 times during their Christmas week spaceflight, made their first public report on that mission. They said the most impressive view they saw was the blue ball of earth rising over the chalk-white, rugged lunar landscape.

Armstrong, Collins and Aldrin will be flying the fifth manned Apollo mission. Their mission could start as early as July 11, when a moonshot launch "window" that lasts until July 22 will open.

Armstrong, who flew Gemini 8 to a safe emergency splashdown in the Pacific Ocean after a wildly-firing control rocket spun it out of control in 1966, is a 38-year-old civilian.

Collins, the spacewalker of Gemini 10, is an Air Force lieutenant colonel. He was originally on the Apollo 8 crew, but a neck operation before the mission forced him to be replaced by Lovell.

Aldrin became the world's first successful working spacewalker during Gemini 12 in 1966. An Air Force colonel, he will be 39 on Jan. 20.

Armstrong and Aldrin, the two men who will land on the moon, have spent more time than any other astronauts in the landing training vehicle which is now indefinitely grounded because of a crash. An early model of this craft crashed once before with Armstrong at the controls, but he escaped uninjured.

Two Apollo missions stand between the moon-circling flight and the moon landing. Apollo 9 next month will be the moon lander's first test with men. Apollo 10 in April or May will circle the moon, coming within 10 miles of the surface.

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist soldiers died on Vietnam battlefields at the rate of 523 a day in 1968, South Vietnamese military spokesmen said today. The Red losses of 191,387 killed were the heaviest of the war.

The total Communist killed compared to 85,124 killed in 1967, the report said, and reflected the heavy fighting of the big Communist Tet and May offensives last year. American and South Vietnamese casualties also were the largest of the war in 1968.

The government spokesmen said the heavy Communist losses had made their fighting capability "very limited" compared to 1967.

American B52 bombers attempted to prevent a Communist buildup before the Tet lunar new year holiday by flying raids within 18 miles of Saigon, the closest they have bombed near the capital in 10 weeks.

The government casualty report said another 21,050 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops were captured. It said 17,500 deserted.

The strength of Communist forces in South Vietnam was placed at 300,100, a drop of 20,900 during the past year. Intelligence reports said Communist battalions today average 200 to 300 soldiers, from 50 to 60 per cent below normal.

Tass Critical Of Sirhan Team

MOSCOW (AP) — The news agency Tass criticized the U.S. judicial system today for the "numerous excuses" it has provided Sirhan Bishara Sirhan in delaying the start of his trial for the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sirhan's defense attorneys "continue to drag out the trial," Tass said, "by using numerous excuses provided by the legal system of the U.S.A."

Joe Louis Seeking His Third Divorce

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Louis, former world heavyweight champion, is seeking a divorce from his third wife, Martha. A spokesman said Louis asked his wife, a Los Angeles attorney, to seek the divorce because he finds it "increasingly difficult to provide the kind of home life his wife required."

They have been married 11 years. Both of Louis' previous marriages ended in divorce.

Hanoi Gains Added Paris Power With Sweden's Diplomatic Nod

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam's hand in the Paris war talks has been greatly strengthened by Sweden's decision today to great Hanoi full diplomatic recognition, high diplomatic sources said.

The sources said the Swedish move may soon be followed by other capitals in Scandinavia and possibly elsewhere. There was speculation Stockholm had discretely tipped off its Scandinavian neighbors before taking the decision.

North Vietnam was expected to hail the move as a massive breakthrough. But the Hanoi delegation withheld immediate comment pending instructions from its capital.

The Swedish move was certain to cause dismay in allied quarters which are engaged in a test of wills with the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong over how to organize the expanded Paris talks.

American officials said the recognition was "unrelated" to the negotiations and sought to minimize its impact.

(In Washington, the State Department said it had no comment on Sweden's decision. Washington maintains an embassy in Stockholm and the Swedish government still officially recognizes South Vietnam.

(In Saigon, Nguyen Qui Anh, the No. 2 man in South Vietnam's foreign ministry, said, "this policy has favored the Communists. We are not at all surprised at their decision.")

The Swedish announcement said, "as the negotiations in Paris are now entering a stage which, it is hoped, will be decisive for peace in Vietnam, it would appear that the time has come to establish diplomatic relations" with North Vietnam.

U.S. officials in Paris said, "we recognize the existence of North Vietnam ourselves enough to engage with them in a negotiation, even though we do not give them diplomatic recognition."

Western diplomatic quarters seriously considered today the possibility of a third party mediation to try and break the procedural deadlock blocking the expanded Vietnam talks.

Both allied and Communist sources shrugged off the idea for the present as impracticable. They believed any mediation at this point would embroil the mediator in a political quarrel far deeper than the present one over the shape of a conference table.

Racing Schooner Loses Crewman, Survives Blow

HALIFAX, N. S. (AP) — The schooner Bluenose II set course for Bermuda today, minus one crewman who was lost overboard during an Atlantic storm that battered the vessel for three days.

Capt. Ellsworth Coggins reported last night the schooner's sails are tattered and her power steering is out of service, but otherwise "everything is under control." She is expected to reach Bermuda tomorrow or Sunday.

Bluenose II, an exterior replica of the famous Nova Scotia fishing-racing vessel Bluenose, encountered rough weather 350 miles south of Nova Scotia Tuesday. On Wednesday a giant wave crashed across the schooner's deck, washing two crewmen overboard.

One of them climbed back aboard, assisted by shipmates, but Neil Robitaille, 22, of Yarmouth, N.S., was lost when a rescue rope broke as the crew was pulling him up.

A NAMING CONTEST?

Nixon Gets Irish Setter For Birthday

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon is thinking of having a contest to find a good Irish name for the red setter he has not yet received as a birthday present.

The setter is a present from Nixon's staff for his 56th birthday, but is not to be purchased until after the Jan. 20 inauguration.

In Northampton, Mass., last night, Nixon remarked at a family birthday party that he might have some kind of competition to find an appropriate name for the dog.

Nixon once had a red Irish setter, but that was before World War II. Its name was King.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced that the staff was giving him another dog of that breed.

"We don't have a name yet. Mr. Nixon wants to meet the dog and judge its personality," Ziegler said. It wasn't until later that Bruce Wehelan, another Nixon press aide, reported the president-elect's mention of a dog-naming contest.

The Nixons already have two dogs, a Yorkshire terrier named Pasha, and a French poodle called Vicky.

There is the possibility of the fourth. President Johnson has said that one of his dogs, Blanco, is at home at the White House and would like to stay there after the inauguration.

"If Blanco does have a desire to stay at the White House, Mr. Nixon certainly wouldn't turn him away," Ziegler said.

Fight Language

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Moms of the South African Women's Federation don't like the rough language used on their sons by the army's regimental sergeant-majors. A congress of the federation drew up a motion calling on the Defense Department to investigate bad language during military training.

Historian's Wife Changes Name

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Historian Will Durant's wife of 55 years, authoress Ariel, finally can sign her name legally.

Until a court proceeding yesterday she had been Ida for all her 70 years, at least when she signed contracts and legal papers. The two have co-authored several books.

Once her husband was her teacher and "I was his most troublesome mischiefmaker, so he called me Ariel," she said, explaining that Shakespeare, in his play "The Tempest" named a sprite "Ariel."

Drake Student Fights Order On Expulsion

corridors, lockers and sidewalks which advocated "free dress" and "student power." After this activity, which took place one evening, Schaaf again was suspended for 10 days.

Upon returning to school, a secretary at the attendance desk reported that he repeatedly and loudly used obscene language. When she spoke to him, Mrs. Marie Casassa said that Schaaf replied, "You are upset over — but you don't mind people dying in Vietnam."

Every time Schaaf was disciplined at school, Mulholland said, he wrote to the student's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valmar A. Schaaf of 32 Crest Road, San Anselmo.

The Schaafs did not answer the letters nor come to school as requested, but Mulholland said he did talk to the senior Schaaf on the telephone.

"He told me he could only encourage his son to cooperate with us on two conditions," Mulholland explained. "One was that we would not punish his son, and the other was that if we were considering punishment, the boy was to be represented by his father or an attorney."

Mulholland said he did not agree to the conditions but told the father the youngster would be treated like any other student.

The culmination of young Schaaf's activities came on Election Day, Nov. 5, when he arrived at school with a handful of wooden matches. Teachers reported that he began handing out the matches, adding an obscene statement about the election.

Spanish teacher Audrey Keane said that Schaaf appeared at the door of her classroom, stopped her students and gave them matches along with his message.

"The election is a sham because my candidate isn't running," Mrs. Keane said Schaaf told her. "Martin seemed pleased when I took him to Mr. Mulholland's office," Mrs. Keane added. "He seemed to expect this."

Mulholland reported that Schaaf asked him if the words he had been using "turned on" the dean of boys. (At this point in the testimony, the youngster, seated next to his father, could not contain a giggle.)

After Mulholland asked Schaaf to leave the matches in his office or to go home, Schaaf threw the matches on the floor and left with an obscene gesture, according to the dean.

A morning of looking for the boy, his refusal to go to the office and a phone call to his father followed.

At this point Mulholland decided to suspend Schaaf and to start expulsion proceedings.

"I had no other choice," the dean said.

Another letter to the boy's parents brought no response to the school, but the senior Schaaf wrote to the Tamalpais High School District asking a hearing with attorney Carl B. Shapiro of San Anselmo representing the student.

According to Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, who represented Tamalpais High School district last night, the open hearing was requested by Schaaf and his attorney. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, said the county board plans to decide the boy's fate in closed session.

With trustee Arnold T. Dolcini absent, the board began last night to act as a jury. At midnight President Glen E. Robinson announced the board had decided to recess until 8 p.m. Monday because of the hour.

Shapiro had not yet presented his case.

As indicated by his cross-examination last night, Shapiro seems to be attempting to show that Schaaf was expelled for unpopular political views and that his constitutional rights have been violated.

Patrick Aid To Minority Firms Told

William Penn Patrick, the millionaire cosmetics king, who was mentioned as a possible running mate for George C. Wallace last year, will support the Marin County Human Rights Commission program to encourage black business.

Commissioners last night applauded the announcement and immediately asked Executive Director Austin J. Thompson to set up a meeting with Patrick.

Wallace K. Shephard, field representative for the human rights department, said he had talked with Patrick. The head of Holiday Magic promised support for the program to encourage black business in Marin, he said.

Furthermore, said Shephard, Patrick will assist the secretarial classes now being conducted for Marin City girls at San Domenico High School in Sleepy Hollow.

The Marin County Human Rights Commission also:

EMPLOYMENT — Appointed Lawrence A. Mayer as special liaison to business organizations to win support for commission programs, especially in employment.

CONFERENCE — Authorized Bella H. Aaron, chairman of the police community relations committee, to attend a conference on human relations in Washington, D. C., Feb. 19-21.

YOUTH WORKER — Recommended that youth worker trainee Horace White be hired as a regular youth worker because he has completed his training period.

Woman Suffers Critical Burns

Mrs. Louise Harrington, 64, of Sausalito, was reported in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital with extensive burns suffered in a fire at her home yesterday.

Firemen found her apartment at 34 Currey Avenue blazing at 1:32 p.m. and found Mrs. Harrington collapsed on the floor. The fire started in an upholstered chair, possibly from a cigarette, Fire Chief Charles E. Masten said.

Fire damage was concentrated in the living room but there was smoke damage throughout the apartment, Masten said. He estimated the loss at $6,000 to $8,000.

Sandwich Tiff Leads To Shots

Three shots were fired into the air in an argument over a sandwich at the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael early today, police reported.

Police did not know who fired the shots and no arrests were made.

Police said the argument was over a bite from a sandwich and five persons were involved. Lonnie and Patrica Boggs, both 18, residents of the Bermuda Palms; Thomas Scarborough; Claude Burton and Mark Page, both of Marin City, all said the altercation was a misunderstanding.

Missing Pet Wolf May Be At Heliport

Lykaina, Sausalito's missing pet wolf, may be hiding near the Marin Heliport at Manzanita, police said today.

Police said a Marin City resident called this morning to report seeing the wolf or a wolflike dog near the heliport. Police notified Lykaina's owner, Nancy Clark, and she went to the area to seek her pet.

Lykaina, raised as a pet since she was 18 days old, slipped away from the Clark home Saturday.

ficials. Fires in restroom waste cans and on a cot in the girl's gym were quickly doused.

The college of 1,800 students has been plagued by unrest since the suspension of two Black Student Union leaders earlier this week.

An as the campus unrest continued to grow in California, the state's new lieutenant governor says he'll "have no quarter'' with campus troublemakers.

"You hear a lot of things about people there on campus to start making trouble for the sake of making trouble," Rep. Ed Reinecke, R-Tujunga, said on his arrival in Burbank from Washington yesterday. "I will have no quarter with those who are there to make trouble."

Reinecke takes over as lieutenant governor as soon as Lt. Gov. Robert Finch is confirmed as secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the Nixon administration by the Senate.

He said that troublemakers "should be treated with whatever manner is necessary to maintain peace and an educational environment on campus."

In the East, amnesty was extended again today for militant Negro students defying a court order to vacate the Brandeis University communications center.

A delegation of the mutinous students met with President Morris B. Abram who said he was extending the 9 a.m. amnesty deadline pending outcome of the meeting.

The meeting went on under the shadow of a threat by the Negroes to burn down every building on the campus located at Waltham, Mass.

The students seized Ford Hall, which houses the university switchboard and other communications facilities, Wednesday afternoon to dramatize 10 demands for improvement of school conditions for members of their race.

"It is obvious the conciliatory offer to amnesty has failed," Abram said last night after meetings with representatives of the 65 dissident students.

About 110 Negroes are among the school's 2,600 students.

Swarthmore, with some 60 Negro students among 1,025 enrolled, has been working on a program to increase the number of Negro students, staff and counselors, Vice President Joseph B. Shane said. Action by 15 members of the Afro-American Student Society took school officials by surprise.

The students took over the 104-year-old Pennsylvania school's administration building, saying they would remain until demands were met for a program to represent Negro interests in all policy decisions and amnesty for those involved in the takeover. About 30 Negroes are members of the society. School officials said classes continued and police were not summoned.

At Queens College in New York the director of a special education program, whose resignation was demanded by student rebels, today offered conditionally to resign.

The 26,000-student college reopened today without incident after student demonstrations had forced it to close for two days.

Cash Stolen

A burglar early today stole $10 from the cash register at Caruso's Bait Shop at the foot of Harbor Street, Sausalito police reported. The theft took place at about 7 a.m., police said.

One-Way Toll Made Permanent

A permanent system of one-way toll collection on the Golden Gate Bridge was approved today by bridge and highway district directors.

A 90-day test of one-way tolls, begun Oct. 19, 1968, has been a success, directors were told by Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring. Traffic is moving faster and there have been savings in operating expenses because fewer toll collectors are needed, he said.

Luehring was authorized to prepare plans to remove some toll booths to provide an unobstructed roadway for toll-free traffic. Luehring said he would have a preliminary report on the removal of booths within about a month.

Luehring said he expected his recommendation will be that the toll-free direction remain northbound. The curve at the south end of the bridge would make toll-free lanes southbound "inherently more dangerous," he said.

The board voted 13-1 to accept Luehring's recommendation. Dissenting Director John E. Nelson of Mendocino County objected that a slight decrease in revenues during the 90-day test raised a legal question of whether the district was meeting its "obligation to protect our bondholders."

District Auditor Gordon E. Dahlgren reported, however, that the annual savings in operating costs will be about $120,000 a year, more than off-setting the revenue losses.

The former chief engineer of the district, Arthur C. Jenkins, told directors today that he still believed the annual revenue loss from the one-way toll collection system would be $400.

on the floor of the library later.

The AFT, which represents 300 of the school's 1,300 faculty members, began its strike Monday. Members resumed picketing yesterday in defiance of a superior court injunction against the walkout.

The striking teachers were warned they faced possible five-day jail sentences and $500 fines, but there were no immediate arrests.

However, four militant students were taken into custody when another brief, but furious battle erupted between 200 police and supporters of the Black Students Union and the Third World Liberation Front.

More than 160 persons have been arrested in repeated clashes with police in the past two months. There have been scores of injuries and damage to property on the campus is estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Yesterday's violence was touched off when a police lieutenant used a chemical spray to subdue two Doberman pinschers held on leashes by a Negro demonstrator.

Mental Health Advisers Back Priority Plan

The Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board last night agreed in principle with mental health priorities set by a citizens' committee but made additional suggestions to the committee's recent report.

In discussing the mental health plan for the county made by a committee of the Bay Area Social Planning Commission, board members last night only considered the first part, which sets the three most immediate needs.

FOURTH TEAM

Dr. Gerald Hill, board chairman, said that the board agreed with the need for a fourth "traveling team" of psychiatric workers but felt it should not be limited to San Geronimo Valley and West Marinas indicated in the report.

Instead, the team should be centered in Fairfax or San Anselmo, he said, and should be flexible enough to treat adults as well as children.

The board also felt that increased group treatment was not the panacea that the citizens' report indicates, according to Dr. Hill, and that individual and family counseling may in many cases actually save money over a long run.

STUDY NEEDED

The third priority, a comprehensive plan for mentally retarded persons, needs further investigation, according to Dr. Hill, because some of the report's suggestions are at variance with state requirements.

The board plans to contiune discussion of the report at a meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 30 at the Civic Center. The board will present its review of the report to the board of supervisors probably next month.

Florida Jurors Convict Hippie In Double Killing

I-J Special Report

BUNNELL, Fla. — Young hippie Kit Armen Hayden was found guilty yesterday of killing a vacationing college student in a double slaying which also took the life of James Moore, 18, of San Anselmo.

A jury deliberated over four hours before finding Hayden responsible for the death of Daniel Shoultz, 18, of Solsberry, Ind., Nov. 29, 1967. Judge W. W. Wadsworth sentenced Hayden to 20 years in Raiford Prison for assault with intent to commit second-degree murder.

He said he saw a .25-caliber pistol in Hayden's hand but did not see Hayden shoot Shoultz.

Garrett, 27, of Burns, Ore., pleaded guilty to third-degree murder in Moore's death. He said Moore assaulted him.

go — unlike the present service.

Most important, said Jenkins, the district has the authority to set vehicular toll rates on the bridge and would be able to increase passenger car fares to encourage use of the buses.

The district also has the unique capability to balance a deficit bus operation with a profitable bridge operation.

Jenkins also suggested that that district seek whatever federal funds may be available to help finance the new bus system.

"The impending crisis has been evident for 10 years or more," said Jenkins, "but major studies have produced no substantial results and none is in sight. It now appears to be time to face realities and seek a remedy through the less-glamorous potential of mass transit system designed around the modern, efficient, flexible, and utilitarian motor bus.

"The strain of personal driving has become so great that a real potential now exists for swinging a substantial portion of the peak hour commuters to the bus system," said Jenkins in his report.

"Transportation has become the researchers' paradise," Jenkins said. "Since 1913 the subject has been researched ad infinitum."

Proposals for a second bridge to Marin County, a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge and reserved lanes for buses do not "in the least way conflict" with his proposed system, said Jenkins.

The bus system, however, "should not be looked upon as a low grade, stop-gap substitute for rail rapid transit," Jenkins said. "To the contrary, it should be accepted as an equivalent to such a rail line."

Turning to the Marin County Transit District, Jenkins noted "there has been no positive action" by the transit district in almost five years' existence.

The transit district either could dissolve itself, he said, or operate a bus system within Marin County.

Ferry boats, noted Jenkins, "under most optimistic predictions, would fall far short of providing a satisfactory solution" to transportation problems.

The 1923 legislative act which created the bridge district, Jenkins said, explicitly provides that the district may enter the transportation business.

Sailor Is Fair From Accident

Robert C. Cook, 22, of 61 Meadow Avenue, San Rafael, was in fair condition today at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital, Oakland, with a broken pelvic and broken left leg after his car smashed into a parked semi-trailer truck early Wednesday in Southern Sonoma County, the California Highway Patrol said.

The accident occurred at 6:45 a.m. at Highway 37 and Lakeville Highway when a truck pulled onto Highway 37 in front of Cook's car. The highway patrol said Cook apparently misjudged his closure rate and braked, his car sliding off the wet highway into the parked truck.

Truck driver Robert E. Washburn, 41, of Central Valley, Shasta County, said he was sleeping in the truck cab.

OBITUARIES

John L. Merrill Rites Pend

John Lisgar Merrill, a San Francisco civic and business leader and brother of Doctor Bruce Robinson Merrill of Belvedere, died yesterday after a long illness.

Merrill was president of the Merrill Estate Co., former president of the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency.

Besides his brother, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Natalie Merrill; a son, Steven L. Merrill of an Francisco, and two daughters, Deborah Merrill of San Francisco and Mrs. Jacqueline Merrill Rollhaus.

Funeral is pending at N. Gray & Co., San Francisco.

EMILY STRATTON

Funeral was held today for Emily Stratton, longtime Marin County resident, who died in a Reno hospital Tuesday following a long illness.

The service was held at the Woodland Memorial Park Chapel in Colma.

Mrs. Stratton, a former nurse, who moved to Reno 10 years ago, was a former president of the Sausalito Woman's Club.

She was the wife of the late Arthur Stratton, a jeweler; two surviving daughters, Marion S. Hubbard and Pauline G. Nash, both of Reno, and five grandchildren.

MRS. MOLLOY

Requiem Mass for Thais Adele Molloy, 53, of Strawberry, was held today at St. Hilary's Church, Tiburon. Burial was at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

Mrs. Molloy was found dead in her apartment at 11 South Knoll Road Tuesday night. A native of Illinois, she had lived in California and Marin 11 years.

She is survived by her husband, William B. Molloy, who found her body when he returned from a five-day trip. The cause of her death has not been listed by the coroner's office, pending laboratory test results.

The Rosary was recited last night at Russell and Gooch Funeral Home, Mill Valley.

JAMES O'ROURKE

Jamss Augustus O'Rourke, 89, of 2141 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma, a retired postal employee, died yesterday at a Santa Rosa Hospital after a short illness.

Born in Sonoma County, he lived all of his life in the Petaluma area. He was employed at the former Camm and Hedges Lumber Co. and later worked for 36 years at the Petaluma Post Office before retiring in 1944. O'Rourke was a member of the Petaluma Grange.

He is survived by a son, Robert O'Rourke of Petaluma, and two daughters, Mrs. Hazel Donkin of Lebanon, Ore., and Mrs. Catherine Jasper of Sacramento.

Private Requiem Mass will be said at 11 a.m. tomrrow at St. Vincent de Paul Church, Petaluma. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery. Contributions may be made to any charity.

JOHN B. MACEY

Private funeral for John Bridgman Macey, found dead in his home at 627 Goodhill Road, Kentfield, yesterday, will be held tomorrow. Inurnment will follow at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Macey, who graduated from Redwood High School in 1967, was studying chemical engineering at the University of California at Davis. He was a life-long Marin County resident.

Macey is survived by his mother, Mrs. Marion B. Slusser of Kentfield; his father, James Macey of Salt Lake City, Utah, a brother, James G. Macey Jr., and two sisters, Anne Mailliard Macey of Cambridge, Mass., and Mary Page Macey of San Francisco.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Council Slates Closed Session

The Petaluma City Council will go behind close doors at 9 a.m. tomorrow to discuss salaries for unclassified employees, saying that the secrecy does not violate the Ralph M. Brown Act governing private meetings of public bodies.

The Brown Act says a city council can go behind closed doors to hire, fire or hear charges against an employee.

City Atty. Edouard E. Robert called the meeting legal, saying that in setting salaries, the job performance of an individual is evaluated and requires secrecy.

"Items of that nature are traditionally viewed in the scope of personnel session and are permitted to take place in private discussion," Robert said.

Corte Madera Fill Proposal Attacked

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A $1.5 million plan to develop more than half of a 96-acre marshland parcel at the mouth of the Corte Madera Creek ran into strong opposition yesterday from state and Bay Area conservationists.

It was the fourth attempt by developer Frank M. Burke of San Anselmo to get a fill permit from the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission. As is the commission's practice, voting on the permit was set for its next meeting at 2 p.m. next Friday in the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

Burke's proposal to preserve 44.6 acres in their natural state was praised as "extremely tempting" by the director of the state Department of Fish and Game, Walter T. Shannon, but he recommended the fill permit be denied so "some means can be found" to save all of the marsh.

The marsh, Shannon told the commission in a letter, is the largest remaining in Southern Marin, and is too important to wildlife to be filled.

The commission's own consultant on ecology, however, Dr. Thomas Harvey, recommended the permit be granted. Any filling would be undesirable, he said, but the Burke plan is "a reasonable compromise."

Also opposing the fill permit were the Leagues of Women Voters of Central and Southern Marin, which urged it be denied to give the Legislature time to consider adoption of the commission's master plan.

The vice president of the Marin Conservation League, Mrs. P. K. Gilman of Larkspur, said the Burke plan would violate the commission's master plan, which allows filling "for bay-oriented commercial recreation and water-related" purposes. Burke plans light industrial development on 32.8 acres, she noted, adding that this is not a bay-related use of the shoreline.

The marsh is vital to the climate of the Bay Area, Ann H. McCorry of Greenbrae told commissioners, and once filled it cannot be replaced by a man-made marsh. Miss McCorry, who lives on the boardwalk adjacent to the Burke site, said existing sites for light industry in Marin will meet demands until the year 2100, thus there is no need to create new sites.

A representative of the Sierra Club, Harold Sharp of Oakland, testified that the club was "definitely opposed to any filling" unless the proposed use needed access to the bay.

Granting the fill permit to Burke, warned the chairman of the Council for Governmental Responsibility, Marcella Jacobson, would set a precedent for similar projects around the bay. The council is a San Mateo County citizens group.

Burke, defending his plan, said it would provide needed recreational facilities, increase public access to the shoreline, improve the appearance of the shoreline and preserve the 44.6 acres as an "ecological area." Each of these four reflect goals stated in the commmision's master plan, he said.

Burke noted he had "inquiries from seven firms interested in sites," including a boat manufacturer and a grocery warehouse firm.

His plan includes a marina, bayside park, motel-restaurant-shop area, fishing pier, light industrial sites and the preserved marshland. The only changes in the plan since its third hearing before the commission in August are addition of the motel and addition of 4.6 acres to the marshland to be preserved.

Burke failed to get a fill permit by only one vote in August. The 12-7 vote was one of the few times the commission overrode its staff recommendation.

Unlike the first three hearings, this time Burke's plan will be measured against the commission's master plan.

Quarry Land Annexation Advances

Annexation of the 75-acre Hutchinson Quarry property on the east side of Highway 101 at Greenbrae to the City of Larkspur was approved, 4-0, by the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission last night.

Commissioner Michael Wornum was absent.

John F. Barrows, executive officer of the commission, and County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker both pointed out that the rest of the open land from the quarry to San Quentin Prison should also be annexed to Larkspur.

San Rafael attorney Ronald D. Schenck, representing the Hutchinson Co., explained that some of the other property owners to the east do not want to annex to a city, and "we don't want to force the issue."

Kent B. Bathurst, Larkspur city manager, told the commission that the city was pursuing the annexation of the rest of the land eastward.

The Marin Local Agency Formation Commission also:

PIONEER PARK — Approved the annexation of Pioneer Memorial Park and Pioneer Cemetery, a total of 6.7 acres, to Novato Sanitary District. The area adjoins Simmons Lane at Virginia Avenue.

WEEKS — Approved the annexation of the Raymond E. Weeks property at 949 Tiburon Boulevard and two adjoining lots to the Tiburon Sanitary District. The lots are now served by septic tanks.

ARRIGHI — Postponed action until Feb. 6 a request by Joseph Arrighi to annex his 1.5-acre lot in the Lomita Park area to the City of San Rafael. The Arrighi property is at the corner of Auburn Street and Woodland Avenue, and is part of the U-shaped bowl formed by Auburn Street. Zucker asked for a delay because the county is working on redevelopment of the area.

RICHARDSON — Received a report from Alfred O. Pratesi, president of Richardson Bay Sanitary District board, that the district was opposed to consolidation of sanitary districts as recommended by the Brown and Caldwell report on countrywide sewage needs.

Saving Lives

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The founder-head of the South African Suicide Prevention Center, formerly known as Suicides Anonymous, says his organization saved the lives of 12,000 would-be suicides in the last eight year. Sam Bloomberg also noted there is a comparatively low suicide rate among non-whites.

Bay Regional Proposal Gets First Criticism

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The first official reaction to a legislative committee's proposal to form a regional government in the Bay Area was voiced here yesterday by the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission — and it wasn't good.

BATS' objections centered on the committee's proposal that formation of a regional government be put to the voters in a referendum next year. BATS, in a report prepared by its study group on organization and planning, said existing regional agencies regulating bay fill and air and water pollution were formed simply by a vote of the Legislature, and that a referendum "would be a radical departure."

Some BATS members, however, are known to fear that regional government may never be formed if it requires a public vote. Regional government proposals consistently have failed when put to a referendum, they noted.

Practical politics, however, reportedly led the Joint Committee on Bay Area Regional Organization to include the referendum in its proposal last month. The committee, composed of eight legislators, reportedly felt that its proposal would pass the Legislature only with a referendum — to get the monkey off the Legislature's back.

Regional government is opposed by many local governments and existing agencies — which fear they will lose their powers — but a referendum would allow cautious legislators to approve it on the ground that the voters should have a chance to decide the issue.

The BATS report did not come to a vote of the full commission yesterday, but was postponed to the next meeting at 9:45 on Jan. 23 here in the Hotel Claremont.

Sonoma County Supervisor Leigh S. Shoemaker won the delay, arguing his fellow supervisors needed time to review the study group's report. Eighteen of the commission's 39 members are on the study group that prepared the report.

Their report also objected that the referendum would delay formation of a regional government for two years, whereas the Legislature could form one this year. Also, the committee proposal did not provide for "interim arrangements" to continue transportation planning and regulation of bay fill for the two-year gap, the BATS report objected.

BATS' own proposal for regional government, adopted in November, urged that BATS and the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission continue until a multipurpose regional government is formed.

The BATS report also objected that the legislative committee was "unduly timid in not suggesting the inclusion of certain regional functions now managed by existing single-purpose agencies, such as air pollution." The committee's proposal left inclusion of such agencies to some later date, and concentrated first on forming a regional government.

Chicken In A Bucket Pole Sign Booted

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee is against chicken in a bucket when the bucket is atop a 20-foot high pole in the parking lot at Col. Sanders Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurant at 56 Red Hill Avenue.

Committee members Wednesday night approved a new sign around the top of the restaurant building, but rejected an application by the Marveon Corp. to put a replica of a bucket of chicken atop a pole in the parking lot, reported Robert Golcher, city building inspector.

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee also:

CARPORT — Postponed until a special meeting at 6 p.m. Monday action on an application by Charles F. Herndon to build a carport at 299 Brookside Drive.

SIGN — Postponed until Mondah action on an application by Stanley Feingold for a free standing sign for the Essex Square Building, 412 Red Hill Avenue, with comment that the proposed 39-foot high sign was too high.

POST OFFICE — Approved a tile facing for the tower of the former Safeway store at 121 San Anselmo Avenue, which will be remodeled to serve as the new San Anselmo Post Office.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

Parking Needs Tied To Drake Widening

A special hearing of the San Anselmo Planning Commission, punctuated by one brief shouting match, last night failed to result in what the meeting was scheduled for — a recommendation on the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The city council on Dec. 10 unanimously reaffirmed that it favored widening of the boulevard from the Hub to the Fairfax City Limits, but referred the matter to the commission for a recommendation on how the widening should be done.

The shouting match involved one of about 20 property owners from the Yolanda Drive area who, according to one resident, attended the hearing to make certain that reconsideration wasn't given to widening Center Boulevard.

City officials said B. J. Wood, 47 Yolanda Drive, was demanding only that possible widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard be discussed, that he and commissioner Philip S. Heinecke began shouting, and that commission chairman John F. West also began shouting in an attempt to quiet the two.

Leitzell said the city council last fall informally obtained a consensus among its members that Center Boulevard should not be widened.

Leitzell said the commission concluded at last night's four and one-half hour session that widening of Drake Boulevard without parking would not be best in long-range planning, but that it undoubtedly would offer relief from heavy traffic.

The commission also felt that widening of that street would result in strong pressure to rezone that area from single family residences to multiple residences or commercial.

Four Labor Positions

Secretary of labor-designate Charles P. Shultz announced the lineup and insisted there was no significance in the absence of union leaders. He said there are more top jobs to be filled and, "It may well be that there may be a union person."

Dr. Godffrey H. Moore, a vice president of the National Bureau of Economic Research in New York, was named to become commissioner of labor statistics.

Dr. Arnold Weber, professor of industrial relations and director of research at the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business, was chosen to be assistant secretary for manpower.

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Koontz, first Negro president of the National Education Association, was named director of the Women's Bureau.

Library Board Official Resigns

Mrs. Helen dreyfus, chairman of the Mill Valley Library Board since 1966, resigned last night because the family has moved outside the city.

Mrs. Dreyfus was appointed to the board in June 1966. Last October she was named president of the California Library Association.

The board also approved a preliminary budget figure of $134,000 for 1969-70 to be submitted to the city manager. This year's budget was $117,000.

The board agreed to allow groups using the gallery to serve cookies and coffee or tea during a trial period.

Dr. George J. Langmyhr, chairman of the medical committee of Planned Parenthood World Population, will speak to the medical advisory committee of the Planned Parenthood Association of Marin at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael.

Dr. Langmyhr has served on the faculty of medicine at the University of Toronto.

The local association also plans a day-long conference at Shelter Cove on Jan. 18. Rev. Charles Gompertz, rector of the Church of the Ignacio, will be installed as association president at the conference.

Driver Injured In Car Swerving

A San Anselmo man, swerving his truck to avoid hitting a deer running across the road, was injured today when the vehicle overturned in a ditch, Ross police reported.

The accident occured on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and El Camino Bueno. Max Wolf, 49, of 26 Laurel Avenue, driver of the truck suffered cuts and scrapes of the legs and was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The deer was hit, according to witnesses, but ran away after the accident.

Drunken Driving Fines For Three

Three persons were fined in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

David Frank Cozik, 39, of 50 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, was fined $422 and placed on six months' probation. Sheriff's officers arrested him March 24 on Tiburon Boulevard.

Mary Ellen Hatcher, 31, of 27 Old Landing Road, Tiburon was fined $100 and placed on six months' probation. Sheriff's officers arrested her, also on Tiburon Boulevard, on Oct. 26.

Betty June Flowers, 46, of 1 Shelley Drive, Mill Valley, was fined $210 and placed on a year's probation. California Highway Patrol arrested her April 27 on Reed Boulevard.

HERO — A 1/c James Ringseis has been awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal for preventing a suicide attempt on the Golden Gate Bridge last year. He held a woman who threatened to jump until police arrived. Ringseis is assigned to the Fourth Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Refinery Strike Begins To Pinch

RICHMOND (UPI) — The effects of the nationwide oil industry strike were starting to be felt in Northern California today.

Hardest hit was Loyalton, a tiny Sierra Nevada community, where propane gas used for heating was being rationed by a dealer who was running short.

Robert McDonald, manager of Sierra Propane Co., said with rationing to hospitals and homes with invalids, his supply could be spread out over several days. The mountain town usually experiences freezing temperatures at this time of year.

A few independent service stations also reported supply problems, with one at Lafayette in Contra Costa County shutting down because of the shortage.

Court Requested To Back Firing

The Novato School District board filed suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday, asking for confirmation of their firing of James David Kimmel, the high school teacher accused of possessing marijuana, using students to purchase the weed and resisting arrest.

The district fired the science teacher Nov. 18, charging him with immoral conduct in that he reportedly used or possessed marijuana and engaged in conduct with students which "Tends to encourage illegal and or immoral activities."

The action, filed by Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, asks for a court ruling that the firing of Kimmel was justified.

Firemen Seated In Mill Valley

New officers of the Mill Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association were installed last night by City Councilman George Wickham.

Knife Wielder Hijacks Jet, Claims He's Red

MIAMI (AP)—After a side-trip to Cuba, 72 holiday-bound tourists flew on to Nassau today, leaving behind in Havana a knife-wielding man who said he had just completed a Communist mission and was fleeing the FBI.

An Eastern Airlines spokesman said the only passenger who failed to return from Cuba was listed on the manifest as "Mr. R. Bohle." He gave no hometown when he bought a ticket, but told a stewardess he was from Indianapolis, Ind., and had attended Purdue University.

Stewardess Joyce Jernigan said the hijacker told her his name was Ronnie and he hated the United States.

"He said he was running from the FBI and that he was a Communist who had just completed a mission," the 21-year-old blonde from Miami said. "He didn't say what the mission was about.

"He held a seven-inch knife in my side the whole way" to Havana," Miss Jernigan said.

Miss Jernigan said she was in the rear of the plane when the hijacker, pretending illness, asked if he could sit beside her.

"After he sat down, he said: "I hate to tell you this, but we're going to Cuba,'" Miss Jernigan related after she returned to Miami. "I said, 'No, we're not.' But he said: 'Oh yes, we are.' and pulled out that big knife."

The hijacker took over the Boeing 727 jet shortly after it departed Miami for the Bahamas. The flight to Cuba was brief. The crew and two passengers—Mr. and Mrs. Keith Thrash of Little Rock, Ark.—returned to Miami about four-and-one-half-hours later.

Thrash, a retired Air Force major, said he was permitted to come back aboard the hijacked plane because of a heart condition. He was en route to Nassau for a life insurance company convention.

The other passengers returned on different planes early today. Another Eastern plane then whisked them on to Nassau.

Haco Boyd, the mayor of Little Rock, Ark., said: "They gave us the blue plate special treatment."

He said the trip was "an experience," but "under the circumstances, I didn't like it. I don't like one individual to be able to do something like this. The government ought to do something about it."

Boyd said the hijacker was "a rather decent looking person, except for his nose and his mouth which were a little weak."

"They treated us like kings," Ron Ownbey of Russellville, Ark., reported. "They flat layed it on. They wined and dined us and tried to show us the better parts of Havana."

Horses were probably first trained to do work more than 5,000 years ago.

Sirhan Jurors Face Secret Questioning

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some questioning of prospective jurors in the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan trial will be conducted behind closed doors, the defense says.

Grant B. Cooper, one of three lawyers defending the 24-year-old Jordanian charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, revealed plans for the secret questioning during an impromptu news conference yesterday at the end of the third day of Sirhan's trial. The trial was in recess today. Jury selection is expected to start Monday.

Cooper said Judge Herbert V. Walker wants prospective jurors cross-examined individually in the privacy of his chambers in areas "of a sensitive nature."

Cooper defined as sensitive any questioning about opinions prospective jurors might have on Sirhan's guilt or innocence—"What they may have seen on television or read in the newspaper."

But Cooper said questions about the death penalty would be asked in open court. He said the secret questioning was "unprecedented in this jurisdiction."

Sirhan appeared for the nine-minute court session, then retired to the judge's chambers with defense attorneys and prosecutors to hear private testimony from radio newsmen about publicity in the case.

The defendant was dressed in a new blue-gray suit and tie. He was accompanied by two guards.

While the judge spoke in opening the session, Sirhan turned in his chair and, eyebrows arched, searched the rear row of the courtroom for his family, who did not attend.

The name giraffe comes from the Arab word zarafa, meaning both a "creature of grace" and "one who walks swiftly."

BLAZE DAMAGES STATION

Smoke rolls from the Triple S Auto Service Center at 1837 Fourth Street, San Rafael, after a welding torch ignited gasoline vapors yesterday and started a blaze which damaged an auto and the interior of the shop. Damage was estimated at $4,500. The fire started at 2:14 p.m. No injuries were reported.

Shrubbery Care Plan Is Backed

The Greenbrae Property Owners Association board has agreed to push for county maintenance of shrubbery along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, reported Richard R. Dresel, president.

Recently the association lost its bid to have the county pay half the cost of installing a guard rail and sidewalk along a stretch where there have been three traffic deaths in three years.

Directors, meeting Wednesday, also discussed plans for the association's annual meeting, tentatively scheduled for Feb. 6 at the Greenbrae School with Supervisor Peter Arrigoni Jr. as the speaker.

Directors also voted to reduce the annual dues from $5 to $4, Dresel reported.

Stricter Animal Control Is Backed

Mariner Cove Improvement Association directors have backed the Corte Madera Town Council's call for stricter animal control, reported William J. Ridyard, president.

"We support the town in its endeavor for animal control. Ridyard said. Directors, meeting Wednesday, also discussed plans for the association's annual meeting in April, he noted.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Amended Charge

Lawrence Boyd Kolb II, 23, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to an amended complaint of battery on a 56-year-old Greenbrae resident July 30.

Judgment was scheduled for 10 a.m. Feb. 21. Kolb, of San Francisco, originally was charged with burglary of the woman's home, and assault with intent to rape her.

Garage Remodeling Held Frivolous Waste

Spending $1,889 to remodel a garage for a new fire department pickup truck when there is a satisfactory building 37 feet away is "folly," Councilman W. James Dawson declared last night at a meeting of the Ross Town Council.

"It's frivolous," Dawson said as he outlined the reasons he opposed the plan suggested by Councilman Roy Farrington Jones.

Dawson estimated it would take a man only 4.4 seconds to walk to the nearby garage, which is now used free by firemen for their personal cars.

He maintained the $1,889 figure, mentioned as the low of three bids on the project, was not high enough because the city would also have to bring the building up to code.

However, even the $1,889 figure would mean almost two cents on the tax rate, Dawson said.

Natalie G. Lewis, agreeing with Dawson, called the garage remodeling a "luxury." "I think this out of line," she commented, noting there are several things that have been budgeted that haven't been done, such as painting the town hall.

Jones contended it was imperative that the pickup be as close as possible to firemen because it is used for emergency resuscitator calls and for some brush fires.

He said the work would include removing the two existing doors and installing a single overhead door to make the entrance wide enough for the pickup.

Jones also maintained it was up to the city to continue providing garage space for firemen's personal vehicles.

"It seems a very simple but unfortunate task," he said.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen agreed with Jones on the necessity of the work and the council agreed it was a standoff since the fifth member, Jack Carney, was absent.

The matter was put over to the next meeting, 8 p.m. Feb. 13 at the town hall, for a vote by the full council.

The Ross Town Council Also:

HOME OFFICES — Delayed for one month a decision on whether to continue allowing home offices for doctors, dentists and musicians because a council committee of Jones and Mrs. Lewis, assigned to study ordinances from other cities to see how a stricter ordinance could be drawn for Ross, reported they had just received the other ordinances.

CODES — Set the next meeting, 8 p.m. Feb. 13, as the date for a public hearing on adopting up-to-date uniform building, mechanical, plumbing and electrical codes.

BURNING HOURS — Reaffirmed last month's decision not to change burning hours but agreed to work on letting residents know a permit is required for all burning the year-round.

DOGS — Received several letters of complaint about dogs running loose. Mayor Allen reported a letter requesting patrol of the town's public areas was sent to the Humane Society Wednesday.

Vietnam Hero Plans A Return

DETROIT (AP) — Williams James, a Marine sergeant with a chest full of medals, tells his mother he's going back to Vietnam because he "feels responsible for the kids fighting and dying over there."

"I'm not hunting for medals," said James, who has served two 11-month Vietnam tours. The 24-year-old sergeant has won the Silver Star, three Bronze Stars, the Purple Heart, the Navy Unit Commendation Medal, two presidential unit citations and several other medals.

In a letter to his mother, Mrs. Christine Fritz of Detroit, he said, "Everybody is proud of me — I know that you are too, mom."

Heart Patient Dies In Houston

HOUSTON (UPI)—The second longest living heart transplant patient in the United States, Henry Jurgens, died yesterday at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Jurgens, 58, of Beatrice, Neb., had no obvious ailment, but became weak early this week and his condition gradually worsened, a hospital spokesman said.

Jurgens' death left 40 survivors of heart transplant surgery around the world. There have been 109 such operations on 107 patients. Two persons, both now dead, received two hearts.

Sonoma Puts Off Bridge Appointment

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmens' Association decided last night to wait another month before nominating a member of the group to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board.

Several city councils were prepared to place names in nomination at the meeting at Los Robles Lodge, but others requested more time to select a nominee.

The association decided that all names must be submitted to the mayors' executive board by Feb. 13 and a vote will be taken at 7 p.m. that day at a general meeting at the Sonoma Valley Country Club, Sonoma.

At the insistence of Petaluma Councilman Phillip L. Joerger, the association will have at least two persons to pick from for the nomination.

In other business last night, Dale W. Leuhring, general manager of the bridge and highway district, reported that the district's problems were not shared solely by Marin and San Francisco counties. "By the year 1990 there will be 500,000 people living in Sonoma County and a good rapid transit system for commuters will be necessary," he said.

Seymour Kashin, general manager of the Marin County Transit District, also spoke of the transit dilemma as a "North Bay problem."

"Even if only 10 per cent of the 1990 population of Marin and Sonoma counties commutes to San Francisco, that will mean 100,000 people daily," Kashin said. He told the group that deficits in mass transit should not be considered seriously because the needs of the public must be met.

George Kovatch, Sonoma County planning director, called for cooperation with Marin County "because we are on the threshold of urbanization." He reported that only 7,700 now commute outside of Sonoma County for employment.

"We must use this opportunity to determine our destiny," Kovatch told the city officials. "In our planning we must come up with creative programs that give more emphasis to mass transportation."

The Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmens' Association also:

HAYAKAWA — Approved a resolution introduced by Rohnert Park Councilman Warren Hopkins showing support for San Francisco State College acting president S. I. Hayakawa for "trying to keep peace."

HIGHWAY 12 — Gave support to efforts of State Sen. Randolph Collier to have Highway 12 improved and a bridge constructed over Napa Creek for a more direct route from Sonoma to Sacramento County.

TRI-COUNTY — Heard report from Neal D. Smith, county administrator, on efforts toward establishing a tri-county government to include Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties. He said such a government would mean that Sonoma and Napa would have to withdraw from the Association of Bay Area Governments. Smith said officials at the Department of Housing and Urban Development have indicated requests for federal funds made by the proposed new group would still have to be processed through ABAG.

Japan To Build U.S.-Style Jets

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government today approved a nine year plan to produce 34 F4E Phantom jet fighter planes in fiscal 1969 and build a fleet of 104 Phantoms by 1977.

The defense agency decided late last year to make the American twin-engine supersonic jet its mainstay fighter. Cost per plane will be about $5.5 million.

The planes will be built under license from the U.S. producer, McDonnell Douglas Corp. Mitsubishi Heavy Industries Ltd. is the main contractor.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Republic Corp. Sets Plans For Stock Split

Directors of Republic Corp., Beverly Hills have announced a three-for-two split of the common stock, payable Feb. 6 to shareholders of record Jan. 30.

At the close of the company's fiscal year last October there were 4 million shares outstanding. Previously, in March, 1968, shareholders approved an increase of authorized common stock from 6 million to 10 million shares.

Republic Corp. operates commercial and industrial enterprises in communications, electronics, plastics, metals, graphics, promotion specialties and film processing. Divisions are located nationwide and the company employs more than 6,500 people.

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO. net sales are expected to approach $8.2 billion in the fiscal year ending Jan. 31. This would represent a more than 11 per cent increase over last year.

GOLDEN VALLEY LAND CO. stockholders have agreed to a merger with Southwestern Research and General Investment Co. of Phoenix. Golden Valley, one of Arizona's largest land developers with offices nationally, has sold more than $50 million dollars worth of Arizona home and business sites since its organization in 1959. John H. Rawitzer of San Rafael is former president of Golden Valley Developers, the sales "arm" of the business. Southwestern Research has also announced the signing of a contract to acquire Midwec Corp. of Nebraska, all of the stock of Dynamic System Electronics Corp. of Tempe, Ariz., the Hobo Joe Restaurant chain and Cine Logistics, Inc.

COMPUTER TIME-SHARING CORP. of Palo Alto has reached an agreement in principle to acquire Systems Analysis, Inc. of Los Altos. Computer Time-Sharing is an electronic data processing firm. Systems Analysis does extensive programming in engineering and other areas.

DIVERSIFIED METALS CORP. of St. Louis is acquiring American Leisure Products Co. of Pawtucket, R. I. for an undisclosed number of Diversified common stock. There is a proposed name change to Diversified Industries, Inc. American Leisure Products operates 80 leased toy departments and 79 leased sporting goods departments in 21 major discount chains in 22 states.

UNITED STATES STEEL CORP. has formed a new subsidiary company offering worldwide professional engineering and consulting services in steelmaking and related technical areas. The new company, USS Engineers and Consultants, Inc., has as its president J. Donald Rollins, who has been president of U. S. Steel's American Bridge Division since 1961.

AMERICAN CEMENT CORP., Los Angeles has sold 8,300 acres located near Snowmass-at-Aspen, its all-season recreational community in the Colorado Rocky Mountains for more than $5 million. The purchaser is Aspen Panorama Properties, Inc., a new corporation formed to develop part of the recreational complex.

LAURENTIDE FINANCE CORP. will begin operation of an affiliate company to be known as Laurentide Thrift, Inc., with locations in East San Jose, Concord and San Francisco. The San Francisco operation will specialize in mail loans to executives and professional people.

ENGS MOTOR TRUCK CO., San Francisco has opened its new headquarters at Toland and Jerrold streets, as one of the largest truck sales and service facilities in Northern California. The new $500,000 installation has 27,000 square feet under roof on a 2.5-acre site. Engs has been located at 18th and Folsom streets and has operated in the Bay Area for 29 years.

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS, INC. preliminary and unaudited statement for November indicates a loss of $1,141,000 compared to a loss of $116,000 last year. Net loss amounts to three cents per share.

FEW OUTWARD CHANGES IN VOLKSWAGEN

Volkswagen's station wagon for 1969 comes in both seven and nine-passenger models, with or without a sliding steel sunroof. Refinements this year include electric defogger and defroster systems, improved dust-proofing for the engine compartment and added insulation to reduce engine noise level inside. In Marin, Volkswagens are sold at Mill Valley Volkswagen and Leon C. Felton Co., San Rafael.

Bank Lists Gain

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — The Bank of Tokyo of California has reported per share earnings after taxes of $4.36 in 1968, up 74.2 per cent over earnings of $2.50 per share reported in 1967.

Geyser Well Making Steam For Electricity

BAKERSFIELD (BW) — Geothermal Resources International, Inc. has announced it has brought in a new steam well in the geysers area of Mendocino County, which is producing steam at a rate capable of generating 10,000 kilowatt hours of electricity, or enough power for a city of 25,000 population.

The well is the first brought in under the company's accelerated drilling program started in mid-October following a commitment by Systems Capital Corp., Philadelphia, to invest up to $36 million in a joint venture for GRI.

Wall Street Slows For Weekend

NEW YORK (UPI)—Normal pre-weekend, evening-up operations brought pressure to the stock market today in moderate turnover.

Steels were mostly higher, reflecting the spreading price hikes on nickel stainless steel product.

Motors generally traded in narrow ranges despite the heavy production schedule planned for this week. Chemicals moved in both directions.

Cities Service was a firm oil issue much of the session. The aerospace group showed scattered strength, but airlines and rails were narrowly irregular.

Several electronics issues gave up more than a point, with IBM among the losers. It had added 4 in the previous sessions.

Bank Of America Has Banner Year

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Bank of America scored record gains in earnings, deposits and loans during 1968, president Rudolph A. Peterson has announced.

On a consolidated basis, net operating earnings reached a new high of $146,162,000, or $4.26 per share, an increase of 12.2 per cent over last year's earnings figure of $130,269,000, or $3.81 per share, adjusted for the 20 per cent stock dividend paid in 1968.

At yearend, deposits totaled $21,502,892,000, an increase of $2,402,954,000 over last year's deposit figure — up 12.6 per cent. Loans increased by $1,183,921,000 to $13,357,902,000 — up 9.7 per cent.

Total resources reached $24,163,336,000, an increase of 12.6 per cent.

Airline Adds Three Roundtrip Schedules

SAN DIEGO (BW) — J. Floyd Andrews, president of Pacific Southwest Airlines has announced the addition of three daily round trip flights between Hollywood/Burbank, San Jose and Oakland.

Seven daily round trips will be available between the cities beginning Jan. 17.

LTV Dividend

DALLAS (BW) — Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., will pay a quarterly cash dividend of $1.25 per share on its Series A preferred stock Feb. 1 to stockholders of record Jan. 20, it has announced.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Building A Company Retirement Program

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. In my company I'm the trustee for our employees' retirement fund. We started this last year, buying 1,400 shares of Enterprise Fund. Early in 1969 we'll have $13,000 to invest. Is there anything better for our purpose than this mutual fund?—D. T.

A. Since you picked the fund reporting the highest percentage gain in net asset value for the past five years, and the second highest for 1968 through September, I can't name a better fund judged by performance standards. Yet, for 1969, I think a better policy would be direct investment in several top-growth areas in compliance with your state laws regulating investment procedures for fiduciaries. A few such for your consideration are Consolidated Foods; Continental Illinois National Bank; General Electric; International Paper; Sears, Roebuck; Standard Oil of New Jersey, and Transamerica.

Q. What can you tell a retired couple about the merger of Pickands Mather into Diamond Shamrock? We received 45 common and 50 pfd. of PM in 1966 in exchange for Interlake Steamship. Dividends amount to about $100 a year.—F. M.

A. If you want to hold a promising growth situation, you should go along with this merger. You'll receive 36 shares of Diamond Shamrock common paying $1.40 annually — some improvement over the payment on PM common—and 11 shares of the new DIA common. The latter will pay nothing until December, 1972, when it will qualify for the dividend rate then effective. Chances are this will be higher than now because of DIA's regular dividend increases.

Your 50 preferred shares will be exchanged for 50 of a new convertible preferred on which Diamond Shamrock will pay the same annual dividend of $1.15. If, however, maximum income is important to you, I'd suggest sale of Pickands Mather, which shows a 40 per cent paper profit on your original investment, and purchase of utility shares yielding 5 per cent, or one of the preferreds mentioned this week. Your average yield now—and continuing after the merger—is less than 4 per cent.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Two Ice Show Associates Take Over Restaurant In Tiburon

There has been a change of ownership and operation at the Boardwalk Restaurant in Tiburon.

The Weitzel brothers, Ted and Bing, have sold to Dick C. Lane and Johnny L. Williams, who are contemplating a number of new innovations.

Dick has been a controller for the Ice Follies and Johnny has been an Ice Follies performer. Both are young, ambitious and out to see what they can accomplish with their own ideas in the restaurant field. They still have outside interests.

If you remember the Boardwalk, there are a coffee shop and an inside dining room. The coffee shop is being named The Footlight, and for the time being that will have to do also for the dining room for want of a better one. It may get its own sobriquet later.

This is a breakfast, lunch and dinner operation, with food service from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. through the week and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Menus have been changed. The dinner carte offers a choice of steak and lobster combination, steak, chicken saute sec, veal scallopine, sweetbreads, filet of petrale sole, butterfly prawns and chopped sirloin wrapped in bacon. Prices are in the moderate range, from $2.95 to $4.25 for the complete dinner.

Since Dick and Johnnie are showmen, look for something different to happen here, but not all at once. We'll keep you posted as changes occur.

SOMETIMES IT PAYS to pass over the menu selections you most frequently order and pick something different. If it's not shown on the menu, ask. You may be able to get it.

If a place happens to be better known for, say, family-type service than as a purveyor of those dishes associated with haute cuisine, this does not signify it is incapable of serving them. You may even find them right under your nose.

Obviously this doesn't apply to all restaurants, but if you know the chef's reputation and capabilities, make use of them as well as those of the maitre d', who is chief liaison agent between kitchen and dining room.

At Dominic's in San Rafael, there.'s a new combination that should have interesting possibilities. First, there's head chef Pierre Giavina, who is the closest I know to a prototype of what the typical French chef should look like. He has been well trained in the cooking schools of France and Switzerland. And now there is Leo Cantayre, who heads Dominic's dining room staff under manager Mario Brenta. He presents the same photogenic image in his role as Pierre does in his.

Put these two Frenchmen together and you're likely to find a few changes in the new menu soon to be published. There already are some additions to the rather extensive wine list.

Meanwhile I'll recommend the tournedos Rossini on the present menu; the escargots, which are not, but are prepared gently and without overseasoning, and Leo's crepes Suzette, which are quite capable of testifying favorably in their own behalf.

THE CRYSTAL ROOM bar and lounge at 3500 Northgate Shopping Center is being sold by George Lucchesi, Frank Tarantino and Peter and Caesar Taverna to a new corporation called GEPA, Inc., headed by Ellis E. (Gene) Page of Corte Madera. The transaction is being handled by Harry Abras of William Timmer Realty.

Gene, who probably will take over Monday, was formerly in real estate (for some time with Tamarin Realty) but has had considerable experience in both the bar and food service business.

He plans to keep the same name, but changes in the Crystal Room's operation may be made later. For the time being at least, it is operating seven days a week and it now opens at 11 a.m. instead of at noon.

STARTING TONIGHT, the musical entertainment at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa in San Rafael is being provided by Marin's widely known accordionist Al Stone. He will be there three nights a week, from 7 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and from 6 p.m. on Sundays.

THE NEW Golden Palace Chinese restaurant next to Knot Inn on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, has now fixed its hours of service at 11:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays and from noon to 8:30 p.m. on Sundays.

Restaurant owner Hing Lung seems to be getting his biggest play on Chinese food, but some American dishes also are served.

CONGRATULATIONS to Gregory and Mary Alyce Seubert. It was just five years ago this month that they opened Gregory's Restaurant in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera.

It was a struggle at the start, but they stuck to the operations tenaciously and made good. Very good, I might say.

FRED CHERRY has a new schedule for his Cafe Bon Vin in San Anselmo; trust him to think of something interesting.

During his first three months he established a 10-course, nine-wine dinner, developed banquets, parties, wines of the month and some things I have forgotten. Now he's embarking on another phase of food service.

Starting next Wednesday night at 8 p.m. and each Wednesday night thereafter one of the classic provincial dishes of France will be served in the authentic "all you want" tradition complete with hot bread, salad, cheese, coffee and a specially selected wine. Featured next week is "cassoulet" (it rhymes with Chevrolet), a combination of savory ingredients long favored by the people of Languedoc in the south of France.

Preceding the dinner will be a "wine discovery tour" starting at 6:30 when a number of unusual wines selected by Cherry will be sampled and discussed. Cost of the dinner is $4 and the tasting $2, but with Fred's peculiar style of addition, they seem to come out at a $5 total. Reservations are recommended.

EUGENE LACKENBACH'S PIES must be especially good at the Country Club Restaurant in San Rafael when someone breaks in to swipe them — and doesn't touch anything else.

MARIA'S PUEBLO in San Rafael is now serving Spanish pork chops, Spanish chicken and Spanish meat loaf.

THE DUKE (Duke Ellington) opened last night at Bimbo's 365 Theater-Restaurant in San Francisco for a seven-day engagement. There are three shows nightly at 8 p.m., 10 p.m. and midnight, with dancing from 6:30 p.m. Ellington probably has won more musical polls than any other artist and he continually takes top honors for his bandleading, arranging, composing and piano playing.

THE PATHFINDERS are resuming their regular Tuesday luncheons in the Magnolia Room at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, next week on Jan. 14. Hostesses are members of this volunteer service group.

Featured will be special soups, casseroles, hot breads and fancy homemade desserts, with a different menu each Tuesday. Hours are from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tab is $1.25 to $1.50 per person, including beverage. Profits go to the benefit of the center.

Special arrangements for club and party luncheons can be made by calling the center's office. Next Tuesday's luncheon, by the way, may be a sellout as several tables have been reserved by regulars.

Gertrude Stein Art Collection Donations Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Five persons who recently acquired Gertrude Stein's famous art collection are going to give part of it to the Museum of Modern Art.

The gift will be from David Reckefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and chairman of the museum's board of trustees; publisher John Hay Whitney, a vice chairman; William S. Paley, trustees' president and chairman of the board of the Columbia Broadcasting System; New York banker Andre Meyer, a patron.

Miss Stein's collection, which she acquired early in the century, was composed of 38 works by Pablo Picasso and nine by Juan Gris.

The museum said yesterday that details of how many paintings would be given to the museum and when had not been worked out.

They were purchased from the heirs of Miss Stein who died in 1946.

MUSEE D'ART INTERNATIONAL

Your guests will enjoy Marin's best banquet facility where the finest foods, wines, and liquors are served amidst the warmth and beauty of our collection of paintings by contemporary European Masters. This outstanding gallery originated by Herbert A. Crocker and William H. McDevitt is now one of the largest in the U.S. It combines the pleasure of a museum where your guests can enjoy browsing through an excellent cross section of the trends and techniques of contemporary oil painting with the advantages of an art gallery where the serious buyer can find high quality at exceptionally good values. This combination of cuisine, service, and atmosphere will assure your party of being a truly memorable occasion.

Musee d'Art International is available for groups from 125 to 600. Dominic's L'Escalier Room accommodates guests from 20 to 125 and the elegant Chart Room for groups of 10 to 26.

at CAFE BON VIN

That EXCITING spot in San Anselmo

Step-by-step the plan unfolds . . . to make Cafe' Bon Vin more and more deserve its reputation as "the most interesting restaurant in the Bay Area."

A weekly visit to the Provinces . . . Now, every Wednesday at 8:00 p.m., one of the great classic Provincial dishes of France is served at Cafe' Bon Vin in the best authentic "all-you-want" tradition—complete with hot bread, salad, cheese, coffee—and a specially-selected wine. First dinner (January 15): the legendary "Cassoulet" of Languedoc, a province of southern France. Price: $4, which includes a special wine. There will be only one seating, so reservations are a "must"!

A "Wine Discovery" Tour . . . Starting at 6:30, preceding the dinner, a number of rare, distinctive, or unusual wines selected by Fred Cherry will be sampled and discussed. Cost of the tasting: $2 (or you may enjoy both the dinner and the tasting at the special price of $5.

Back to Paris the rest of the week . . . except Monday and Tuesday, when we are presently closed. Le Champagne Gala—10 courses, $9.75 (reservations required). Le Grand Diner—6 courses, $5.75. Le Petit Diner—4 courses, $3.75. Wines are optional, though few guests miss the opportunity to sample from three to nine wines with their dinners—each personally selected by Fred Cherry for the particular course it complements. (A third of the dishes were specially created to bring out the virtues or particular wines!)

Support Of Center Is Withdrawn

The Strawberry Recreation District board had withdrawn its support of the Sausalito Associates' plan for a $25 million development in Richardson Bay, and called instead for development according to the county master plan.

The board voted Wednesday to withdraw approval of "the concept of a development of Richardson Bay in the nature of that plan by Sausalito Associates in favor of development of the area in line with the existing master plan of the county, and to recommend to the county implementation of that master plan."

In October, the board stopped short of endorsing the Sausalito Associates plan, but noted that "something of that nature would be appropriate." Sausalito Associates' plan is to fill 17 acres near the heliport for a convention center-hotel-marina.

The board re-elected Arthur R. Senter as chairman. Carl L. Schaefer was elected vice chairman; James K. Garner, secretary and Manuel K. Lehua, property manager.

Contractor Joseph DiGiorgio of San Rafael was told to postpone resurfacing the district tennis courts until March 1 when weather is better.

Hearing Held

Richard Deem, 20 of 814 Hacienda Way, San Rafael, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a misdemeanor charge of petty theft for allegedly stealing a 29-cent black rubber lizard from the San Rafael Toy Shop, 933 Fourth Street, Wednesday. His case was continued until Wednesday for plea.

College Seeks Bigger Role In Marin City

The College of Marin wants "to participate more fully and effectively" in serving Marin City and is seeking suggestions for educational programs from the community.

Eugene A. Farrar, director of community education for the college, brought this message last night to a joint meeting of the Marin City Council and the Marin City Community Services District board.

The college seeks to promote dialogue and understanding and is interested "in taking more active participation to assist you," Farrar said.

One possible program might be "a college head start program to encourage students to go to the College of Marin," Farrar commented. "Possibly there could be a summer recreation program or perhaps an arts and crafts program." The college also would consider setting up classes in Marin City if there is a need and interest, he said.

When Farrar said the college wanted to hear what programs the community wanted, the council referred the matter to its educational committee.

Farrar announced there will be a six-part lecture-discussion series entitled "Concern, Commitment and Communication in Crisis" starting Jan. 20 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

Rev. Samuel Banks Jr., pastor of Village Baptist Church, Marin City, and Dr. William H. Pemberton, Mill Valley psychologist, will be discussion leaders, Farrar reported.

Sessions will be on Mondays 7:30-9:30 p.m. for six weeks, ending Feb. 24 and there isn't any charge.

Topics will be: first week, "The Continuing American Revolution: Where Do We Go From Here?" second week, "Love and Hate-War and Peace Talk;" third week, "Soul Talk-Honkie Talk-Too Much Talk?" fourth week, "Blame Games," fifth week, "Educating Each Other: Telling It the Way It Is," sixth week, "Where Do We Go From Here: Blueprinting the Future."

Charges Pending Probe Of Fire

Craig James Gomez, the former volunteer fireman arrested for suspicion of arson in Sausalito yesterday, was released in Marin Municipal Court later when the district attorney said he will not charge the youth, pending further investigation.

Gomez, 19, of San Francisco, who is a former member of the Sausalito Volunteer Firemen's Association, was arrested on suspicion of arson and burglary after a fire broke out at 2:44 a.m. in the supply room of Central School.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest Zunino said in court that no complaint will be filed pending an analysis of substances confiscated by police at the fire scene.

Sent To Napa

Arnold Julius Caesar Leon of 904 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, was sent to Napa State Hospital on an emergency commitment Tuesday night after he was taken to Marin General Hospital suffering from an overdose of methamphetamine (speed), sheriff's officers said.

Marin City Business Outlook Gets A Boost

The Marin City Council and the Community Services District board last night approved an agreement which could lead to commercial development in Marin City by a local coporation.

The agreement on use of commercial land was reached by the locally formed Development Corp. of Marin City and the private California Development Corp.

One of the hurdles was the fact that the California Development Corp. was under contract to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency to develop the eight-acre site.

Through the agreement the local corporation will have development rights on a one-acre site for one year and an option for an extra year on an additional 1.5 acres for expansion.

Attorney Richard M. Adams, representing the California Development Corp., said "We applaud the creation of a local corporation, the first to participate in the development of Marin City."

California Development Corp. intends to work with the community and "we think this is a constructive step and only the beginning of many to be undertaken on behalf of the community," Adams said.

The local corporation could, if it desired, sponsor a low to moderate cost housing project and even could consider assuming ownership of the Oak Knolls apartments, now held by California Development Corp., Adams said.

The agreement between the two corporations is still subject to approval by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, which has the final say on development of the commercial property, which is owns.

Ulysses J. Montgomery of San Francisco, consultant to the local development corporation, said if the agency approves, the corporation would file for a Small Business Administration loan.

Daniel Hayden, a corporation director and council member, said the intent is to house "the existing businesses in Marin City and a few others that existed in the past."

He mentioned a market, cleaners, beauty shop, barber shop, automatic laundry, coffee shop, music store, medical-dental office, legal office and billiard parlor as prospective tenants.

Council members absent were Barbara Douglas, Susie Edwards, Helen Washington, Ephorn Freeman Jr. and Perison Knighten. The council vote for approval was 8-0.

FAMILY PLANNING — Postponed until its next session at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 23 at the Manzanita Community Center discussion on removal of the family planning clinic from the community.

NEW CAREERS — Heard an appeal from Wallace K. Shepherd, field worker for the Marin County Human Rights Department, for support of a New Careers program in Marin advocated by Dr. Arthur Pearl, a professor at the University of Oregon, and asked for more information about the program before taking action. Shepherd said Pearl's program is opposed by the county administrator's office, which has proposed its own.

Fossil Whale Remains Found

STANFORD (UPI) — The skull of a prehistoric whale, estimated to be 15 million years old, has been found embedded in soft sandstone near Stanford University.

The discovery was made on the bank of San Francisquito Creek by Dr. Charles Repenning of the U.S. Geological Survey in Menlo Park and Larry Barnes, paleontology student at the University of California in Berkeley.

Barnes and a team of students planned to excavate the skull today and take it to the Berkeley Museum of Paleontology for study.

New Year Tradition

Opportunity Council Authorizes $5,000 For Planned Child Center

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council has authorized spending $5,000 to support the proposed San Rafael Child Care Center.

Approval hinges on whether the center is finally approved and on whether the Marin County Board of Supervisors provides financial backing.

The board, meeting Monday, received a proposal for continuing the Head Start program. The major change from the current program is proposed incorporation of New Careers, a program being studied by the county to give minorities a chance for employment with a future.

The proposal will be voted on at the next meeting at 8 p.m. Jan 22.

A weekend study session for the board was planned for Jan. 10, 11 and 12 at White's Memorial Retreat in Mill Valley. The session, planned for the many new members, will concentrate on instruction on how to dentify priorities, how programs can deal with the problems of the poor and the role of the board as a policy-making group.

Eight representatives of the poor have been named to the board and one more will be elected, EOC officials said. The council has now fulfilled federal requirements governing the number of poor on the board.

The new members are Marie Delloue of the Mill Valley-Corte Madera-Larkspur Community Action Group; Gail Theide of the San Geronimo Valley Consumers Cooperative; Teveia Clarke of the Welfare Rights Organization;

Charlette Stewart and Deanne Hawkins of the San Rafael Mothers Group; Ruth Greene of the Novato Head Start Child Care Parents; Ozell Gibson of Hilarita Housing; Gary Prather of the Novato Citizens Group; and Yvonne Allen of the Head Start Policy Advisory Committee.

The Venetia Oaks Senior Citizens will elect a representative at a meeting Tuesday to complete the slate.

Other positions open are the board of supervisors representative and the Marin County Labor Council representative.

Democrats Plot Power Struggle

SACRAMENTO (AP)-California lawmakers were home today for their first long weekend of the 1969 session with rebellious young Democratic senators plotting a power struggle with the upper house Old Guard.

The Assembly and Senate met briefly yesterday morning and adjourned until Monday afternoon, following the tradition of three-day weekends early in the session.

A group of young stnators, led by San Francisco Democrat George Moscone, will return next week armed for an attempt to break up the traditional nonpartisan club-like way in which the Senate has been run for years.

Moscone, a first-term senator, told a news conference yesterday he would seek election at a caucus Tuesday a Democratic floor leader with the goal of "a stronger identification of party programs and ideals."

Moscone served as floor leader and caucus chairman during 1968, but the Senate continued in the firm control of a coalition of oldtimers—both Democrats and Republicans—led by President pro tem Hugh M. Burns, a Fresno Democrat.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Legislators take their first long weekend of the 1969 session with rebellious young Democratic senators plotting a power struggle with the upper house Old Guard.

THE ASSEMBLY
Bills Introduced

Compact — Ratifies California-Nevada Interstate Water Compact creating five-member commission to administer allocation of water rights between the two states; AB 58, Chappie, R-Cool.

Disturbances — Requires state college or university officials to hold hearings on expulsion of students or dismissal of faculty members who engage in acts of force or violence likely to interfere with peaceful campus conduct; AB 59, Ketchum, R-Paso Robles.

Flags — Makes it illegal to publicly display the flag of a foreign country with which the United States is at war when such display might provoke a violent breach of the peace; AB 64, Fenton, D-Montebello.

Local — Allows local government to prohibit certain public acts, demonstrations or exhibitions not expressly prohibited by state law; AB 61, Wakefield.

THE SENATE
Bills Introduced

Boardinghomes — Permits state allowance for boardinghouse care of aged persons whose physical or mental conditions require such care; SB 52, Alquist, D-San Jose.

Campus — Makes it a public offense for any nonstudent or any person not employed to go onto a state college or university campus to interfere with peaceful conduct of the campus; SB 51, Whetmore, R-La Habra.

Foster — Changes limits on state aid for foster care of children to insure an adequate number of foster homes; SB 53, Alquist.

Russ Newsmen See SST Flight

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's TU144 supersonic jetliner made its second flight yesterday, climbing, banking and diving as Soviet correspondents observed from another aircraft, the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda reported today.

Correspondent Vasily Peskov said the plane resembled a bird. The plane made its maiden flight Dec. 31 but has not yet attempted supersonic speeds, Pravda reported.

The correspondents were allowed to take photographs during yesterday's flight and talk with the test pilot afterwards. Foreign correspondents were not invited.

NEW HOME OF DERVIN FORD

IT'S SERIOUS business to clean a gun of any kind and Mrs. Ralph Tierney expresses this seriousness as she readies her shotgun for a hunting trip. Being game, not trophy, hunters keeps the Tierney family busy year round as they alternate activity on the marshes and uplands with bay and ocean fishing. The hunting season ends this weekend but the Tierneys will remain involved with the sport as they work on equipment and hunting grounds.

Tickets Go On Sale For Fashion Shows

By MOLLY MARIN

Junior League of San Francisco has begun the general sale of tickets for its two fashion shows to be held Feb. 27 at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco. The first showing will be at a luncheon and that evening the fashions will again be presented at a cocktail buffet.

Tickets may be purchased through the Junior League Office, 1 Nob Hill Circle in San Francisco. Sponsor tables are still available.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD Otter of Belvedere are parents of a daughter, Sandra Denise, born Dec. 30. The baby has a sister, Sibyl Anita, two years old.

Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Wiper of Sausalito, Wendell H. Otter of Laguna Hills and the late Anita Martha Landers Otter. Mrs. Charles El Bruff of Berkeley is the baby's great grandmother.

VISITING MR. and Mrs. Jack Baker in Corte Madera are their daughter Pamela and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmes of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, and their sons, Bruce, 5, Leon, 3, and Andy, 1 year old.

The Holmeses have been living in Riyadh for 18 months, where Howard is a pilot with Aviation Development Consultants.

The Holmeses will leave at the end of this week and spend a week in San Diego with Howard's parents before returning to Riyadh.

MR. AND MRS. Richard L. Paige of Ross hosted a small dinner party at Oreste's Restaurant in San Francisco Saturday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. MacCormack who are visiting here from Boston.

MR. AND MRS. Herbert Leonard Damner Jr. will be honored at a reception Jan. 18 at the San Francisco Yacht Club in San Francisco.

The party will be given by Mrs. Damner's (Arville Sisi Bagge) parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer Bagge of San Rafael, shortly after they return from a trip to Las Cruces Palmilla in Baja, Calif.

BRIDE-ELECT Patricia M. Eckhard of Mill Valley will be honored tonight at a shower to be given by her maid of honor, Janey Clark of San Francisco, at the Mill Valley home of her mother, Mrs. Edward Clark. Some 30 guests have been invited.

Patricia, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry William Eckhard of Mill Valley, will become the bride of John Stewart Wieben on Jan. 18 at the Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley. The future bridegroom, son of Col. and Mrs. John Douglas Wieben, presently in Germany, is attending the University of California at Irvine.

Ruth Brown Is Engaged To Ed Flynn

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Foster Brown Jr. of Kentfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Edward Joseph Flynn Jr.

Ruth and Edward are both in their senior year at the University of California, where Ruth is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. She made her debut at the Marin Debutante Ball in 1965.

The future bride is the sister of Philip III, Ted and Elizabeth Brown and the granddaughter of Philip Foster Brown of San Rafael. She was graduated from Katharine Branson School.

Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Joseph Flynn of Pasadena and the brother of Catherine and Louise Flynn. He was graduated from Notre Dame Boys' School in the San Fernando Valley and has served in the Marine Corps.

MRS. RALPH TIERNEY

Northern California Home To Outdoor-Loving Woman

By GRACE HENDERSON

For a woman who didn't know what venison looked like before her marriage, Mrs. Ralph Tierney of Tiburon has come a long way in adapting to the life of a sportsman. Beginning with a background in a non-hunting family, Eleanor Tierney has come to make the great outdoors of Northern California her second home.

Telling of her breaking-in period to hunting and fishing, Eleanor referred to her husband, saying, "He was smart, taking me fishing for striped bass on the mud flats first, going all over the bay in a scull boat. When it came to camping, Ralph made me feel important, telling me to enjoy myself while he did the work. It was a rest for me. Looking back on it now, I realize how he trained me to love the out-of-doors. And after getting a taste of the outdoor life, I am insulted now if left home."

The couple have never hunted outside California but they hope to someday.

Mr. Tierney is production supervisor for the Colgate Palmolive Company in Berkeley, a post he has held since graduation from college. His sister, Mrs. C. D. Madsen, lives in Tiburon, as does Mrs. Tierney's mother, Mrs. Jack Walker.

The Tierneys have two sons who hunt and fish. And the younger, Dan, is also interested in his mother's competitive sport of tennis. He is ranked number six in the Northern California boys 12-year-old division, making him the youngest ranked boy tennis player in Marin County.

Tom, 14, is learning to reload shotgun shells and has a room in the basement of the family home on Paradise Drive where he works at this chore. The fact that both boys are required to pay for their own shells, eliminates the temptation to shoot just for the "fun of it," said their mother.

Nobody in the family shoots just for the sake of shooting and no game is killed just for the thrill of killing, she said. All game is sought for just one purpose — food.

When deer season opens in August the family begins their hunting. Game is becoming more scarce as seasons come and go but the Tierneys continue to bring home their venison every year. The quest for deer overlaps with pheasant season which, in turn, overlaps with duck season.

From February through July family efforts are directed toward mowing tules and repairing duck blinds at the ponds located near a cabin the family shares with three other families in Colusa County. The five-bedroom house provides headquarters for the family while hunting ducks and pheasants and for relaxing weekends.

"There's something going on all the time," said the blonde sportswoman.

In discussing variety and preparation of game, Eleanor remarked that she will not eat a "diving" duck and prefers those fed on rice. Her favorite recipe for cooking Colusa County ducks is the one she uses every Sunday. This is her method:

"Do not stuff the ducks. Simply put two on a skewer over the rotisserie and baste periodically during the 45-minute cooking time with bottled French dressing — it needn't be expensive."

During the off season the ponds at the cabin provide frogging. At other times the Tierneys drive to Pt. Reyes where they go abalone hunting off Elephant Rock. When low tides come, Eleanor and Tom can often be found near Strawberry digging for cockles.

Being locally-educated people, the Tierneys are familiar with available areas for outdoor activity and express satisfaction with being a part of "Marvelous Marin."

Eleanor enjoys recounting experiences over the past few years that include being lost and then finding her own way back to camp, thanks to a blue tic hound. Sensing her confusion he left her long enough to retrieve her jacket shed earlier in the day, she said. She had thrown the garment on the ground planning to pick it up on her way back. With this clue she was able to find the trail and camp.

Then there was the time Mr. Tierney arrived at the cabin only to discover he had forgotten his gun, left in its place at home.

Four dogs live at the family home, one a standard poodle that loves to swim, flush and point but refuses to retrieve fowl (that's Eleanor's); one a weimeraner (Ralph's); one a combination collie and cocker spaniel; and one a miniature fox terrier.

Both Tom and Dan have completed the official Hunter Safety Course required for minors to earn permit cards needed in obtaining hunting licenses. House rules at the Tierneys include no guns removed from gun cases except for hunting trips; no showing off of guns to neighborhood friends; and absolutely no backyard shooting. All rules are compatible with true sportsmanship, important to the family.

Thus Eleanor Tierney and her family have learned to love the world of nature and to treat it with the same respect they show one another. And other men might do well to take a lesson from the method used by Ralph Tierney in introducing his wife to the sport world.

Helen Picks Brains Of Readers For Solutions To Old Proverbs

DEAR READERS:

Ready for a quiz? See how many of the following you can break down from "governmentese" into good old-fashioned proverbs. If you get a perfect score, you're either an excellent guesser or employed in Washington, D.C.

1. Similar sire, similar scion.

2. Precipitancy creates prodigality.

3. Tenants of vitreous abodes ought to hurl no lithoidal fragments.

4. It is not proper for mendicants to be indicatrous of preferences.

5. Compute not your immature gallinaceans prior to their being produced.

6. It is fruitless to become lacrymous because of scattered lacteal fluid.

7. Cleave gramineous matter for fodder during the period that the orb of the day is refulgent.

8. A feline possesses the power to contemplate a monarch.

9. Pulchritude does not extend below the surface of the derma.

10. Failure to be present causes the vital organ to become more enamored.

11. Every article which coruscates is not fashioned from aureate metal.

12. Freedom from guile or fraud constitutes the most excellent principle of procedure.

13. Each canine passes through his period of preeminence.

14. Consolidated you and I maintain ourselves erect; separated we defer to the law of gravity.

15. You cannot estimate the value of the contents of a bound, printed narrative or record from its exterior vesture.

16. Folks deficient in ordinary judgment scurryingly enter areas on which celestial beings dread to set foot.

17. Liquid relish for the female anserine fowl is the individual condiment for the male.

18. A feathered creature clasped in the manual members is equal in value to a brace in the bosky growth.

19. The individual of the Class Aves, arriving before appointed time, seizes the invertebrate animal of the Group Vermes.

20. Socially orientated individuals tend to congregate in gregariously homogenous groupings.

21. One may address a member of the Equidae family toward aqueous liquid, but one is incapable of compelling him to quaff.

22. Forever refrain from enumerating the dental projections of a bequeathed member of the Equidae family.

23. One Pyrus Malus per diem restrains the arrival of the Hippocratic apostle.

24. Fondness for notes of exchange constitutes the tuberous structure of all satanically inspired principles.

25. Supposing one primarily fails to be victorious, bend further efforts in that direction.

26. Be adorned with the pedal encasement that gives comfort.

27. Prudence and sagacity are the worthier condiments of intrepid courage.

28. He who expresses merriment in finality expresses merriment excelling either in equal quality.

29. A beholden vessel never exceeds 212 degrees fahrenheit.

30. A rotating litohidal fragment never accrues lichen. —

SALLIRAE HOFF

Melton-Hoff Wedding Set In September

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Henderson of Long Beach have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mrs. Sallirae Hoff of San Anselmo to Keith D. Melton of San Rafael.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Queen Anne High School in Seattle, Wash. and attended Portland State College in Portland. Mrs. Hoff is employed as a secretary in San Francisco.

Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Melton of San Rafael and the grandson of Mrs. John Hoffman of Santa Rosa. He was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is attending City College in San Francisco. He is a member of the Olympic Club.

A September wedding is planned.

Klyces Mark 50 Married Years

Melvin Harvey Klyce, member of a pioneer Mill Valley family who with his wife Mabel celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage on Jan. 1, is an authority on the building that went on in Mill Valley as that town grew from a village to its present population of 12,000.

He has been a designer and builder of residential construction throughout Southern Marin ever since he started learning the building business from his father, Harvey A. Klyce, who came to Mill Valley in 1895.

"I attended the old Summit grade school — now gone — that was built by my father," he says," and the week after I graduated from Tamalpais High School I was on the job with my father and have been working ever since.

"IN THOSE DAYS," he reminisced, "you cold build a five-room house for as low as $2,800 to $3,000, but it was as difficult to get that much money then as it would be to get $30,000 today."

He is still working and maintains an office in his home. "I'm proud of the fact that I have never built the same house twice," he says.

Born in Mill Valley, Melvin moved with the family into the house his father built on Throckmorton Avenue, where his mother, Carrie Gray Klyce, lived for more than 60 years. For many years the only living founder of the Outdoor Art Club, she was one of Mill Valley's best known residents until her death last year.

Melvin and Mabel also moved into the big family home six months after their marriage and lived there until they started building in 1920, not far away, their own home, starting with an existing four-room cottage, which they expanded to 13 rooms, including a huge cathedral-ceiling family room on the top floor. They have lived there ever since then.

Melvin's sister, Mrs. Marian Andre, still lives in the old home on Throckmorton. Another sister and brother are Mrs. Virgil Marsili of Hathaway Pines and Herbert Klyce of Menlo Park.

MELVIN AND Mabel have four children, Harvey Lovell Klyce, who lives with his wife Barbara in San Rafael; Melvin Henry Klyce and his wife Audrey; Alfred Klyce and his wife Shoko, who live in Mill Valley; and Mrs. Kenneth Moylan and her husband, who lives in Sebastopol. There are 16 grandchildren and one great grandchild, Harvey Robert Klyce, the grandson of the Harvey Lovell Klyces.

Melvin and Mabel, who was one of seven Risinger children reared in Oakland and San Jose, met in 1915 when she was visiting a sister in Rio Vista, where Melvin was in charge of the construction of a bank building.

"It was love at first sight," she says. "We became engaged in 1917 while Melvin was with the Navy during World War I, and I worked as a telephone operator two years until we were married on Jan. 1, 1919, in Oakland with my sister Bessie Lovett and her husband Roy as our only attendants.

"FIFTY YEARS of marriage require a lot of giving and taking, and I don't know which is more fun. One of the secrets in avoiding a lot of trouble is always giving the same instructions to the children.

"Our anniversary party on Jan. 1 here at home was one of the happiest events of my life. I wished that my brother Henry, who is 95 and living in Nashville, Tenn., could have been here. Our children gave us this beautiful new color television set."

Melvin says, "I go along with whatever she wants to do, but our likes and dislikes are very much the same. Most of our interests have centered in our family."

A member of the Outdoor Art Club, Mabel enjoys playing in a bridge club that was started 50 years ago and is still active, with five of the original 10 members left.

Melvin is the last surviving charter member of the Mill Valley Rotary Club, is a charter member of the Mill Valley American Legion Post and has his 50-year pin as a member of the Mill Valley Masonic Lodge. His wife is the last living charter member of the Rotary wives' group known informally as the Rotaryanns.

Remove Deposits

Select Size

If you want to buy a gift robe and don't know the size of the someone it is for, take the easy way out. Buy one of the current popular kimono models. One size fits all. Or else select something that comes in small, medium and large. All you have to decide in the latter case is whether the person is small or medium or large. That should not be too hard.

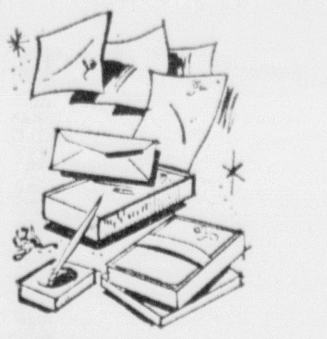
ON THE AGENDA

Novato Graduates To Mark Anniversary Of First Class

The 10th anniversary reunion of the first graduating class at Novato High School will be held June 22 at the Marin Country Club, according to chairman Mrs. Bonnie Russell Broxton of Napa.

There were 85 in the orginal graduating class of Novato High School in 1959. These students started the high school as freshmen, having their classes the first semester at the Marion School. The second semester they moved to Novato High School. The high school grew by one class per year until the original class graduated.



Several members of the original class have become "lost" to those sending out invitations according to Mrs. Broxton. Information concerning them should be sent to her or Peter Ferrarese at Crocker-Citizens Bank in Novato.

Those missing are: Nancy Bisbee, Lynn Bristow, Dolores Cook, Joyce Erickson, Gundrun Zehenderlein Jeanne Free, Lynn Griffin, Dusty Hoerle, Bill McBride, Oleta Rains and Marilyn Welch.

ASSEMBLYMAN March K. Fong of the 15th Assembly District in Alameda County will speak at the annual dinner of the Petaluma Branch, American Association of University Women, on Monday. The dinder will be held at 7 p.m. at the Petaluma Hotel.

Mrs. Fong, who will be introduced by Petaluma Mayor Helen Putnam, will speak on "Politics in Education". She formerly served on the Alameda County School Board for 10 years, holds the doctorate in education from Stanford University and has been a teacher at the primary and secondary levels and at the University of California.

Mrs. Brand Johnson, branch president, is chairman for the program.

THE MARIN Museum of Science will hold its annual all-guild luncheon meeting on Monday at La Petite Auberge in San Rafael. Mrs. Ronald Sandstrom of Mill Valley will be director of guilds for 1969.

Other officers serving with her will be Mmes. Robert Logan of San Rafael, coordinator of guilds; George Stump of Fairfax, secretary; and Joachim Jung of Mill Valley, treasurer.

Her new officers and committee chairmen are Mmes. Paul Leal, vice president; Gary Rettig, secretary; William Adamson, treasurer; Stanley Fontez, Bargain Box; Joseph Redmond, publicity; Frank Stocking, telephone; and Will Williams, prizes.

PETALUMA MAYOR Helen Putnam will honor the women employees of Petaluma at a tea at her home Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

"I don't mean to differentiate between the male and female employees, Mrs. Putnam said," but I've always thought it would be nice to have the women get together for a social afternoon."

VOLUNTEER HOUR pins were awarded by the Ross Hospital Volunteers to Mmes. James Bonner of San Anselmo, 3,000 hours; Robert Cortopassi, of San Rafael, 2,000 hours; Carl Carlsen of San Rafael, 1,000 hours; Earl Hunter of Corte Madera, 500 hours; Elaine Brown of Kentfield, 100 hours; and Grant Hand of Greenbrae, 100 hours. Mrs. James Bonner of San Anselmo is the new chairman of the volunteer-run gift shop at Ross Hospital, replacing Mrs. Walter Carroll of Ross, who served as chairman for 10 years.

The boys of Cub Pack 36, Den 2 at Coleman School, San Rafael, were given a tour of the hospital by the volunteers this week.

WORTHY ADVISOR Susan Kimberling will preside at an election meeting of the San Rafael Chapter of International Order of Rainbow for Girls at the San Rafael Masonic Temple tomorrow at 1 p.m. Officers to be chosen are recorder, treasurer and faith. Committees are headed by Beryl Simpson, Ann Pittee and Autumn Arbo.

Designer Predicts Bosoms' Return As The Sex Symbol

By NADEANE WALKER

LONDON (AP) — Legs are on their way out and bosoms are coming back as the sex symbol of the future, an influential young London designer predicts.

Leslie Poole, 30, is the handsome blond creator of eye-popping futuristic (and very nearly nude) fashions in the 20th Century Fox film, "World of Fashion," which had it British premiere Thursday.

"The leg has been the sex symbol for five years now, but its days are numbered. The shift of emphasis is already taking place, and in two years time I am quite certain skirts will be worn down to the ground even for daytime, while breasts will be only very lightly veiled," Poole said at a press preview of the film here.

The "World of Fashion" is a 23-minute color movie showing fashions from the 1920s to the present, plus Poole's fashions for the 1980s. French film star Genevieve Gilles—a 21-year-old former mannequin shows the fashions, wearing a different outfit every 45 seconds.

Poole also predicts that science by 1980 will so control the weather that women will have to dress for warmth. Consequently, he puts Miss Gilles into what he calls "nude body decorations." Clusters of jewels and translucent sequins decorate pink lame in an Egyptian-inspired costume.

Above all, he says, clothes should show the body in its natural beauty. To do this, he also shows Miss Gilles in a sort of diaper outfit, to go with a top that looks like a painted breastplate.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Independent-Journal Historian Florence Donnelly has written for tomorrow's Marin Magazine the story of a family that has been prominent in Marin affairs for nearly a century—the Kents of Kentfield. It's a relationship that began in the very early 1870s when Albert E. Kent brought his family to Marin. It grew in the time of Congressman William Kent, and continued to do so in the succeeding generation. It is the story of a family that has made a most substantial contribution to Marin's progress.

What must be Marin County's most unusual church choir can be seen and heard weekly at the Sunday 9:15 a.m. mass at St. Raphael's Catholic Church in San Rafael. There will also be an opportunity to hear it during San Rafael's annual Unity Octave series observance later this month. It is the folk mass group of singers and guitarists led by Barbara Quinn Riordan. And Marin Magazine editor Don Keown tells you about how they got their start in tomorrow's I-J supplement.

ART REVIEW

Furniture, Ceramics Form Excellent Duo

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Overworked as it is, the word handsome best describes the furniture and ceramics exhibited this month at the College of Marin art gallery.

Edward Livingston of Klamath Falls, Ore., is the furniture craftsman whose machine and hand-worked pieces are so suitably combined with the work of 16 regional ceramic artists.

The gallery's cathedral or castle atmosphere is the result of Livington's furniture, each item of which seems a light-weight, stream-lined version of Medieval furnishings. At a distance, his tall-backed chairs are throne-like, in vaulting ribs of latticed wood or in smooth, partially opened solids.

His floor standing candle holders, table and stained glass cabinet have even cleaner lines. But close-up, all reveal the intricacies of teak, oak and walnut formed into subtly changing patterns of laminated strips or, as in one rocking cradle, into a ship's system of curved and open ribbing.

The 16 artists were well chosen for the stretch of their ideas. At one end, the pots adhere totally to traditional technique and design. These evolve into the earthy but sophisticated primitivesness of John Dumas' work and the rough but amusing beauty sought by Jean Yates.

While all of these might lay at least loose claim to being utilitarian, from here, the only "useful" thing about the work is the thoughtful pleasure it provides.

The purely sculptural pieces include Michael Walsh's ornate "Tower," David Hopper's darkly mysterious blown glass growths contained in a glass box, Ruth Rippon's "President's Wives Series" of portraits bulging from brightly glazed die, plus the rather ominous symbolism in Richard H. Moquin's luster-glazed torso "Reach Out Baby," and Ron Copper's strangely ruptured sphere.

Negro Republican Parley Will Open

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— More than 100 delegates are expected to attend a one-day conference of Negro Republicans tomorrow at the St. Francis Hotel.

The group will seek a consensus on such issues as President-elect Nixon's tax incentive approach to aiding the ghettos. Arthur Fletcher, former Washington state candidate for lieutenant governor, will attend. He is now on a fact-finding tour for the new administration.

Little Theater Gains Approval

Establishment of a little theater group in Fairfax has been approved by the city's parks and recreation commission.

Persons interested in participating may reach Commissioner Conway E. Enscoe at his home, 160 Porteous Avenue, according to Eleanora Edgar, commission secretary.

The commission, meeting Tuesday, also approved specifications for painting the Fairfax Pavilion and sent the item to the city council for its approval and funding.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Hadrian VIII' Truly Mind-Gripping Play

By WILLIAM GLOVER

Rarely is the mind-grabbing, attention-gripping potential of drama so triumphantly realized as in the colorful production which opened Wednesday night to lusty ovation.

PAPAL THEME

The story, weaving between fact and fantasy, concerns a whimpering craven who becomes a Pope bent on reforming the church—and if that hardly seems a theme of broad interest, seeing is believing.

Peter Luke, a British film and TV operative, bases his script upon the writings of Frederick William Rolfe, an eccentric minor literary figure of the late Victorian era.

Devised as a play within a play, "Hadrian VII" begins — and ands—with Rolfe himself, penniless, friendless and petty in the grip of debtors' bailiffs. The central sector concerns a novel in which Rolfe dreams of himself as the archbishop of Christendom, elected by fluke after having twice been thrown out of seminaries—as the real Rolfe actually was.

OUTRAGEOUSLY FUNNY

The rest of the cast, all new for New York, fill out the stage with commensurate artistry—for the most part—under the direction of Peter Dews.

TALE OF GUILE

During the second act, installed upon the throne of Vatican City, he institutes sweeping reforms to shed all secular authority and to restore the church to "apostolic austerity." It is a sequence redolent of Machiavellian guile, full of both humorous wisdom and poignant intensity.

The papal dream ends as it inevitably must, in melodramatic fashion with stunning impact.

Among the surrounding performers, William Needles and Gillie Fenwick, in dual parts; Christopher Hewett, a Jesuit leader; Louis Zorich, chief Hadrian foe in the college of cardinals; and Peter Jobin, a youthful priest, are notable. Gerard Parkes and Miss Sydney Sturgess, do well as the Irish Protestant foes of the chance pope.

Trustee Is Due Selection Monday

The Marin County Board of Education will hold a special session at 8 p.m. Monday to appoint a trustee from the San Rafael-Dixie schools area to succeed Mrs. Adele J. Alpers.

Stanley Friese, deputy superintendent for the county schools office, said six candidates have applied for the post, and five have been interviewed. Their names were not disclosed.

One will be appointed to serve until the April 15 election. The post would then be filled until June 30, 1971, the end of Mrs. Alpers' term.

Mrs. Alpers resigned Dec. 19 because of illness.

Poitier Tops Box Office Draw In 1968

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidney Poitier has been chosen by motion picture exhibitors in the United States and Canada as the No. 1 boxoffice star of 1968 in the 37th annual poll conducted by Motion Picture Herald, a trade publication.

Poitier, who placed seventh when he first appeared among the poll winners in 1966, starred in "To Sir With Love," "For Love of Ivy" and "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" in 1968.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines, and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Camelot" — Humor and depth make this lavish screen version of a Broadway musical impressive. Superb songs and music. Love affair delicately portrayed.

"Parent Trap" — Happy farce-comedy of teen-age twins separated when infants by parents' divorce and kept in total ignorance of each other.

"Yellow Submarine" — Sparkling animated cartoon featuring special humor and music of the Beatles will appeal to those interested in new techniques of cartooning.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Bullitt" — Melodrama involves gangsters, police and an ambitious politician. Violence goes all out in blood and gore for its shock effect.

"Custer of the West" — Story of how General Custer and his 226 men met death in the Little Big Horn.

"Wait Until Dark" — Blind woman becomes captive of three criminals in search of heroin. Hair-raising thriller, very well acted. Film becomes a living experience with excruciating suspense.

BORDERLINE
(Most say Adults Only)

"Rachel, Rachel" — Study of a repressed spinster trying to break out of her barren, frustrating existence.

ADULTS ONLY

"Barbarella" —Polluted comic book world of sex, sadism and perversion is pseudo science fiction. A gilded corruption, garish thing.

"A Flea in Her Ear" — A good cast is wasted on this crude French sex farce.

Youth's Marijuana Charge Is Dismissed

The dismissal by Judge Hadden W. Roth came after Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas said the substance found in Hoag's possession when he was arrested Oct. 28 was analyzed and found not to be marijuana.

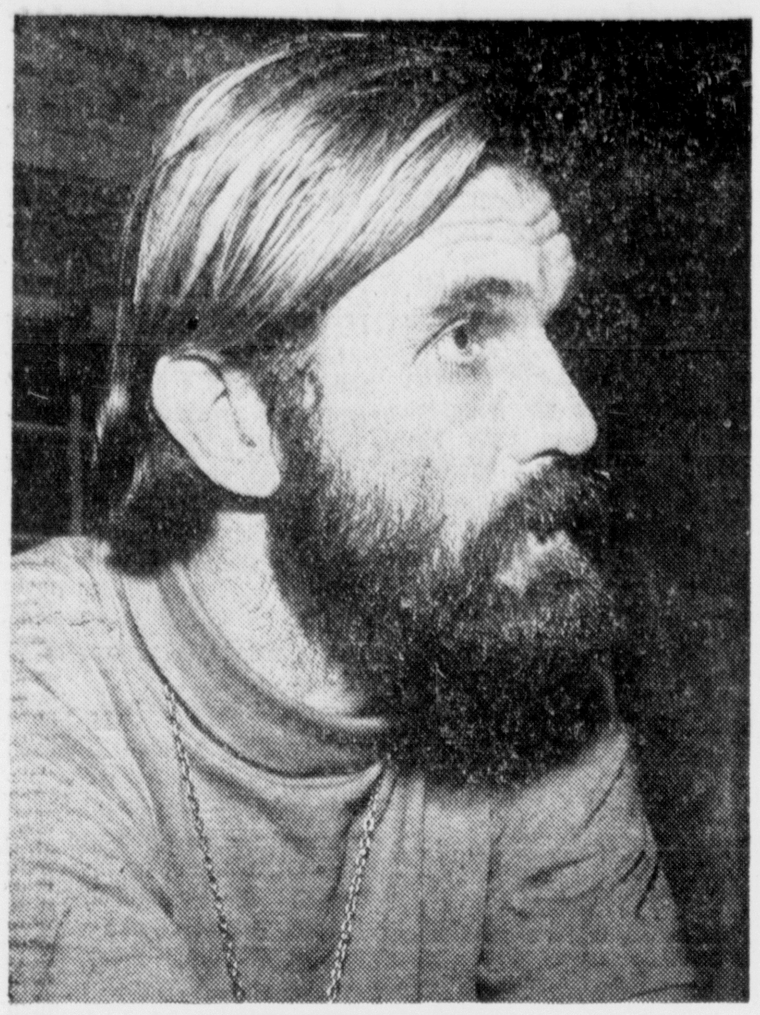
McCoy Sees Himself As Messiah



DONALD C. McCOY Jr.
Destined for something

By STEPHEN COOK

Donald C. McCoy Jr., whose offbeat life style and admitted drug use led to a police raid on his sprawling Rancho Olompali Wednesday night, returned from studies in India recently with a messianic vision.

McCoy, who is guru and rent-payer for the 55-member Chosen Family living communally on the rancho, hinted of his vision when speaking after his arrest during the raid.

"We know we are destined for something and this year is going to be the most important year of our lives," he told adults and children of his family as police searched their quarters.

"There's a new age coming. It's here. We—this ranch—are the leaders of this new age," he said.

Sheyla McKendrick, a 36-year-old divorcee who has been with McCoy since the start of his utopian colony north of Novato, who traveled and studied with him in India, stated the vision more openly while police searched her room.

SHEYLA McKENDRICK
Christmas every day

"Don (McCoy) is to lead the Western world into the new world," she said. "He will lead the way to a new world of love, peace and understanding. We will begin by probably seeing President Nixon within a month. Within 30 days, there won't be household in the world that has not heard of Don McCoy," she whispered fervently.

She and McCoy received this vision while studying in an Indian village near Calcutta with a guru named Ciranjiva, she said. The sage prepared them for their mission.

"He tuned us in keenly. He tightened us up and prepared us for this," she related.

Visions of this new world had their seeds in LSD trips, Mrs. McKendrick said.

"The first glimpse of our place in the Cosmos, the universe, was—I think everyone would agree—on our first acid trip. It awakens you. After that, you don't need it any more," she explained.

The new world will leave room for the use of marijuana, but other drugs will not be necessary, she said.

Officers searching the rancho mansion and eight outbuildings reported finding marijuana, hashish, methamphetamine, LSD and suspected heroin.

Both McCoy and Mrs. McKendrick said they envision a new way of life patterned after life on the rancho.

"Here we have love every day. Every day is your birthday. It's Christmas every day. Don't you see?" she said.

As police hauled members of the family off for individual interrogation Wednesday night, McCoy cautioned all to treat the police as brothers.

No one is bad because all men do God's will, he said. God even willed the actions of Hitler, he said.

"The world had to evolve to the brink of destruction so we'd recognize light and knowledge," the spiritual leader announced. "You can't know love and understanding unless you've known hate and misunderstanding."

As he warmed to his lecture to the family, McCoy indicated that, in the new world, each will have his place. McCoy said his own place is that of a teacher and the members of the family would do well to listen.

"I praise those who sit at my feet and listen to me. That's the way to learn," he said. "I want to talk about myself, which is another way of saying I want to talk about God. I have some insight into what God is up to."

McCoy described, for the adults and children gathered at his feet, a religious experience he had while lying on his back, on a picnic table, at the top of Mount Tamalpais.

"I had the Satori experience. I became at one with the world," said the teacher.

McCoy also explained that God sent everyone to earth for a purpose. Some men are to be bakers, some farmers, some teachers, he said.

What is McCoy's purpose on earth?

"He sent me to earth to be, well, you can quote me, a king, an emperor, a King of Kings," said McCoy.

OLOMPALI PUZZLE

Family In Jail; Children Vanish

The nucleus of Rancho Olompali's chosen family remained in jail on narcotics charges today, while sheriff's officers pondered the disappearance yesterday of all children from the communal home.

Narcotics charges, ranging from possession of marijuana to possession of heroin, were filed against 11 adults of the family as a result of Wednesday night's raid at the 450-acre ranch north of Novato.

Lt. Harvey E. Teague of the sheriff's juvenile division, who said earlier he might ask that the Olompali children be made wards of the court, reported today that he returned to the ranch yesterday to find the 28 children had disappeared.

Most serious charges filed as a result of the raid on Donald C. McCoy Jr.'s utopian colony were possession of marijuana, methamphetamine (speed) and LSD and for sale and possession of heroin by Robert Gregge H. McKendrick, 35, of the rancho.

McKendrick, sought after a search of his bedroom turned up substances claimed to be quantities of the weed, dangerous drug and opiate, was arrested yesterday afternoon in a home on Portola Way, Inverness Park.

Officers said he appeared high on a drug at the time of his arrest and possessed three small packets of a tan powdery substance. He was arraigned and held in lieu of bail set at $31,250 by Judge Hadden W. Roth.

Still sought on a charge of heroin possession is Stan Kris Anthony, also of the rancho. Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Shaw said he will seek a warrant for Anthony's arrest.

Arraigned on marijuana possession charges yesterday were McCoy, 37; Sandra Barton, 48; Sister Mary Norbert, a former Roman Catholic nun, 34; Robert John Ellison, 23; William David Candelario, 19; Walter Hanson Doyle, 22; Oleg Valeri Minakov, 30.

To be arraigned on the same charge today is Joseph John (Jo-Jo) D'Amore, 38, also of the rancho, who surrendered himself at County Jail last night when told the was sought.

Another charge alleges that Doyle, Minakov and D'Amore possessed devices for smoking a narcotic.

A bail hearing for all those in custody was scheduled before Judge Hadden W. Roth in Municipal Court this afternoon.

New Support Pledged To Boys' Club

Pledges of nearly $14,000 have been made to the Petaluma Boys' Club, directors reported last night.

They added the club will continue to operate and executive director Gil Messa will stay on.

Messa said last month he would quit if the community did not financially support the club. He later said directors' interpetation of his letter of resignation was incorrect. Last night the directors gave Messa a vote of confidence and urged him to go ahead with spring programs.

Daniel Libarle, board president, said Petaluma residents have rallied with financial support. "As of last night we had 536 pledges to donate at least $2 a month to the club," he said. More than $4,000 has already been received.

He said the new funds would be used to pay outstanding bills, but the remainder will defray operating expenses and support increased programs.

"This whole misunderstanding has been a God-send to the structure of the boys' club," Libarle said. "It woke us up to the fact that we have a lot of community support."

Frozen Food Theft

Panel Raps Transit Plan Language

The county's balanced transportation program — to coordinate land use and transit planning — must be reduced to understandable language so that laymen will know what is going on, members of the City-County Planning Council declared last night at a meeting at Civic Center.

Councilman Harold B. Wagstaff of Corte Madera was particularly insistent that simpler language be used. "If you want us to understand and be involved, get it into laymen's language," he told Albert Solnit, chief of advance planning, and Harold Rune Carlson, coordinator of the balanced transportation program.

Solnit, who prepared the report on the program, agreed that it should be made comprehensible.

"One distinction must be made," said Solnit. "The program is a planning program as opposed to the functional duties of the transit district, which is concerned with operations."

Solnit said the balanced transportation program will identify congestion areas, point out problems and provide options. He said the aim is to make land use and transportation consistent with each other.

"The important thing," Solnit said, "is that we are going to get for the first time a look at how the total transportation system will operate, given the most probable development of the county . . . the computers are not going to give the answers. They will provide data and arrange them so that judgments can be made."

Solnit and Planning Director Paul C. Zucker announced that a time schedule for the balanced transportation study will be presented to the council again next month.

The City-County Planning Council also:

APPOINT — Heard Chairman Douglas M. Merrill appoint seven members to the committee on housing and social planning, with Wagstaff as chairman.

ROSS DELEGATES — Recognized three delegates to the council named by the Town of Ross. They are Mayor Frederick S. Allen, Councilman Jack Carney, and Councilman Roy Farrington Jones as alternate.

LARKSPUR — Heard that the City of Larkspur is also considering joining the council.

NEXT MEETING — Set Feb 13 as the tenative date for the next meeting, although another date might be set because the Ross Town Council meeting falls on the same date.

Ex-Supervisor Blair Reported Improving

J. Walter Blair, a former Marin supervisor who suffered a stroke two weeks ago, is reported in improved condition at Marin General Hospital.

Blair was recalled as supervisor in 1961, the first time in Marin County history, after serving less than a year.

Teener Tells Profits Of Marijuana

A 16-year-old Chileno Valley boy, attending Petaluma High School, has confessed to Marin and Sonoma sheriff's authorities that he has been dealing in marijuana at a 200 per cent profit, according to a Marin sheriff's report.

Juan Paul Bentley, 16, of 4669 Chileno Valley Road, booked at Marin Juvenile Hall for allegedly selling and possessing marijuana Wednesday, said he dealt in the drug to keep up with payments on his car, a 1960 Thunderbird, officers said.

He was arrested after selling an ounce lid of the leafy substance to Sonoma undercover agents Wednesday. Officers searching his bedroom found 18 more lids, which he said he sold for $15 each.

The boy, a junior in high school, said he would buy his pot in kilo quantities, then break it down and sell it to other youths, sheriff's deputies said.

He bought his last kilo "from a guy on the street" in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury District, he reportedly admitted.

He reportedly paid $145 for the brick of grass and broke it down into 30 $15 lids.

Manslaughter Charge Ordered In Stab Death

David Vaughn Busdieker, 19, who allegedly stabbed his father to death in their Corte Madera home Dec. 18, was held to answer in Marin Municipal Court this morning on a charge of manslaughter.

Judge Peter Allen Smith, in binding the youth over for trial in Superior Court, said evidence presented by the district attorney at a preliminary hearing does not warrant a charge of murder.

The magistrate set bail of $5,000 for the youth, a dishwasher in a Corte Madera restaurant.

ADVISERS DIVIDED

Novato Campus Cluster College?

"Cluster college" development of the North Marin campus of College of Marin was warmly supported by faculty members last night, but trustees and members of a citizen committee expressed reservations.

The "cluster college" proposal, put forward in a report by Berkeley Johnson, assistant dean of the evening college, occupied 36 members of the Marin Junior College District Board of Trustees, faculty, and citizen committee during a meeting at San Marin High School. The group is trying to decide what kind of development would be best for the second campus.

The "cluster college" concept calls for dividing the school into a set of separate but integrated colleges, each of which would have its own library and lounge facilities and its own faculty. Students would attend classes largely within their own cluster, and each cluster might be differently oriented.

Just how it would work out for a junior college is not certain. College President Louis H. Herkenhoff pointed out that existing cluster plans are all at four-year residential colleges. "We would be in the vanguard. We would have no good model, really, to follow," he said.

Dikran Martin of the faculty, one of the strongest advocates of the plan, contended it would aid in developing "an interdisciplinary structure." Said he, "We've got to watch this lapsing into rigid department structure."

Although its advocates saw the "cluster college" as a new concept, trustee president Theodore C. Wellman and committee member Festus Adebonojo of San Anselmo pointed out that it is essentially the system used for many generations at Oxford and Cambridge in England.

Some of the objections raised were these:

Mrs. Stephen Cook of San Rafael wondered whether the clusters might result in even greater isolation of students than they suffer in large enrollment institutions.

Trustee Harry J. Moore objected to a proposal that intramural competition among the clusters be substituted for intercollegiate athletics.

Trustee president Wellman noted that if it were attempted to tailor the clusters to the needs of the students "you could wind up with 45 or 50 clusters."

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy pointed out that it is district policy that certain kinds of facilities will not be duplicated at both Kentfield and Novato campuses. This, she suggested, may mitigate against the cluster plan.

Trustee Donald K. Felt of Mill Valley feared there might be "too many compromises" in the cluster approach, resulting in too much "watering down" of the curriculum.

Committee member J. J. Rutkowski of Tiburon held that inter-disciplinary structure and making greater impact on students is "largely a matter of faculty organization" — not facilities.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers said Johnson's proposal ignored the matter of manpower utilization. He said this was vital as affecting the cost of operation.

Johnson responded, "I guess we would just assume that we would be as efficient as we are now."

Committee members stressed that they are not against innovation, although Jack Phillips of Mill Valley warned against "change for the sake of change."

Next meeting of the group has been scheduled for March 13, but Dale A. Fleming, the college's director of planning and research, said a meeting likely will be called sooner.

Nature Writer's Wife Wins Divorce

A divorce on grounds of cruelty was granted in Marin Superior Court yesterday to Patience Leydet from her husband of 13 years, conservationist author Francois Leydet of Belvedere.

Laydet, who has written "Time and the River Flowing: Grand Canyon" and "The Last Redwoods," did not contest the divorce.

"IT'S A PLEASURE TO SHOP CO-OP

says Mrs. Joe Stewart of San Rafael.

"There is always something new or interesting, something new to try, something going on, something to learn.

"For example, the recent display which showed the cost of convenience products. I like to know what I'm paying for things like ready-prepared mixes and aerosol cleaners, even though I find myself using them a lot more now that I'm dividing my time between home and back-to-school career.

"Or it might be a comparison of orange juice and orange drinks showing the comparative cost and food value. Or a tip from the home economist on how to save on the amount of detergent in the family wash. Or a demonstration of Chinese stir-fry cooking, or unusual vegetables. Or a United Nations celebration.

Nixon Faces Problem Reminiscent Of Hoover's

"The stock market closed with a thumping loss today in fairly active trading. The drop in the Dow Jones industrial average approached the 15.54 decline of June 5, 1967 on the outbreak of the six-day Arab-Israel war. . . Higher interest rates, tight credit and fear of further restraints on the economy were cited as reasons."

On Tuesday, major banks across the United States raised their prime interest rate a quarter of one per cent, to a new high of 7 per cent. And the New York stock market story that day began: "The stock market closed with another sharp loss today as a surprised Wall Street reacted to another hike in interest rates."

These reports followed by only a few days various year-end stories quoting financial experts as forecasting an improved economy for 1969. But among such year-end roundups was a somber note from Europe, where currency troubles that threatened economic chaos during 1968 remain unsolved.

The year 1929 opened also with glowing predictions. On Jan. 2, the San Rafael Independent carried a story from New York which began:

"Checks cleared by the New York Clearing House today aggregated more than three billion for the first time in history. . . . The unprecedented clearings reflected year-end interest and dividend disbursements."

A second New York story on the same day opened:

"The stock market of 1928 smashed all records. . . . The end of the year finds America's business in ship-shape order; its credit unlimited; its captains of industry optimistic of the future. . ."

THE FIRST FLAWS in this rosy picture appeared little over a month later. Early in February, two things happened: the rediscount rate in London was raised a full per cent, to 5½ per cent, with increases in interest rates in the United States following quickly; and the Federal Reserve Board issued an ultimatum to member banks to curtail stock brokerage loans.

On Feb. 7, the New York stock market story in the Independent began this way: "Wild selling on the stock exchange in early dealings today brought the most severe break since the debacle of last December." It went on to blame the rise in interest and the curb on speculative credit.

Two days later, a New York story reported: "America's army of stock market traders saw their profits, run up in the greatest bull market in history, dwindle by about three billion dollars this week."

The market recovered somewhat from that setback, but in ensuing months its course was erratic. And on Oct 29, the bottom fell out of the market, launching the United States into a depression from which it did not fully recover until World War II.

HERBERT HOOVER, who drew much of the blame for the depression, was still awaiting his March 4 inauguration as President when the market began its antics in February, 1929.

Many years later, Hoover, in an autobiography of his White House years, laid the blame for the depression on economic disruptions in Europe, tied to the price of gold — as are the current troubles on the continent.

RICHARD NIXON will not have to wait until March to take over as President. He will be inaugurated week after next. But the financial situation as he enters office will be remarkably similar to that which faced Hoover on March 4, 1929: spiraling interest rates, uncertainty in foreign currencies, pressures on the price of gold — and disquieting reaction on Wall Street.

This will face the new President with one of his greatest immediate problems. He may well be justified in giving it precedence over more widely discussed matters, such as war in Vietnam and unrest on campuses and in city streets.

Reagan Tax Promise May Not Mean Much In Long Run

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's "state-of-the-state" message, delivered to the California Legislature Tuesday, is maked by one statement which should bring some pleasure to the general public, although it could turn out to be somewhat meaningless.

"Under no circumstances," says the governor, "will I support or sign into law any tax increase.

"I believe the taxes we have now produce ample income to meet our expenses, and with careful management, they permit us to offer substantial tax reduction."

JUST WHERE the reduction is contemplated isn't detailed, but he says the present situation will permit a balanced budget, a continuation of state-sponsored local property tax rebates, and a substantial personal income tax reduction.

It will be recalled that the Legislature enacted legislation in 1968 for a $70 refund on property taxes. So far, nobody has seen the $70, and when the property taxpayers of California do get it sometime next June, or later, a good share of them will find the refund eaten up by increased local property taxes.

It should also be recalled that the Reagan administration two years ago put through a tax increase of approximately a billion dollars, which with "careful management" ought to be enough for a few years to counter any necessity for tax increases. But fiscal experts say the time is fast arriving when there will be more demands on the taxpayers' pocket-book.

ONE HOPEFUL sign in the 1969 picture is the governor's statement that he will offer legislation designed to remove barriers against employment of young people. This is a worthy objective for the administration, but it may be more difficult than it sounds.

Organized labor for years has been building up barriers to the point of confiscation of the the right to work for young people. Age limits on employment, and minimum wages for workers are only part of the laws which deter employers from hiring youth, with resultant increases in juvenile delinquency.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Metal Valued More Than Human Life

When Lebanese Arabs attack, maim and kill passengers on an Israeli airplane in Athens, the world is unmoved. But when Israel in retaliation destroys some Lebanese metal, but not life, the whole world is appalled. A holy alliance of the Kremlin and the Pope, the U.N. and the Third World, the Wall Street Journal and Pravda cry out in shock about the loss of metal.

No wonder that the youth all over the world mistrusts our materialistic generation, which values matter more than man, which value Arabian oil more than Israeli blood.

Why Was Pueblo Rendered Helpless?

After these many months, it has been such a pleasure to read good news about the Pubelo crew. Senator Russell questioning why the ship was not scuttled surprised me.

When the ship was brand new and stationed at Bremerton, Wash., Commander Bucher requested (I believe five times) in writing, destructive equipment in case of capture. These requests were denied!

The question in my mind remain. Why was the Pueblo unescorted? Why was the capture not intercepted by our planes or ships? Why were there only two or three machine guns for its defense? Why was the crew not permitted to use these guns?

An investigation into these orders which left the ship and its crew helpless victims would be even more worthwhile than an investigation of the victims themselves.

Recently an article appeared in your newspaper concerning my work as a counselor at the College of Marin. The article described our courses in group processes, called Counseling 53.

I hope you will understand the need to print this letter. It will not undo the damage of this error but it may serve to lessen the repercussions.

Transferred Resident Appreciates Courtesy

I recently wrote to three papers I used to take in California and asked what the price was to take the paper up here. The San Francisco paper quoted a price far above the price I paid when I lived in California. The Novato paper ignored my request. The Independent-Journal not only sent me the information but courtesy copies free and no additional price for my new Alaskan address, so I could see if I really wanted it.

The San Francisco paper said I'd have to pay three months in advance, etc.

Needless to say I wish to thank the Independent-Journal for their courtesy and generosity. It seems to be going out of style where other newspapers are concerned. I certainly didn't expect the free copies and am overwhelmed, and especially so, when compared with reaction to my request by the other two papers.

Thanks again. I'm also getting my favorite of the three papers I took down there. It is really great.

Flocks Of Robins Deserve Notice

My name is Bill Hoffman. I'm in the fifth grade at San Pedro School. Every day when I come home from school lately and walk along the sidewalk I see flocks of robins eating the pyracantha berries. When I come close to them they all fly away, drunk from eating them. I was wondering why you have not put anything about it in your paper.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Johnson Shows He Won't Try To Hamper New Administration

WASHINGTON — President Johnson clearly meant it when he told his cabinet after the election, "If we have to have a Republican as President, I'm going to do everything I can to help him succeed."

These are not just words. They are being matched with significant actions.

Contrary to some reports, Mr. Johnson is not going to confront Congress with any major, radical new programs, and he has made this decision for a very special reason.

He does not want to embarrass the new administration with a set of lame-duck measures which would almost certainly not be enacted and which would only cause divisive controversy.

He does not want to involve the new Congress with programs which would lock in the new President and put him in a legislative bind which would only slow up whatever he wants to do.

Mr. Johnson's tradition of keeping all options open still runs. He has directed the Budget Bureau to funnel to the White House all ideas and proposals for the State of the Union and budget messages, but my information is that a firm decision has been taken — no major, new programs.

It would be understandable and defensible politically if LBJ should lay out to Congress in his farewell message a new vista of Great Society programs, which would represent how he would deal with all the ills of the nation if he had run and been re-elected.

He could urge the Democratic chairmen of the Democratic-controlled congressional committees to make his programs the first order of business, thus trying to take the initiative away from the new administration.

He could, if his programs were defeated or stymied, turn them into a how-we-would-do-it platform to promote a Democratic Party comeback during the next four years.

My information is that LBJ is rejecting this tactic because he wants Richard Nixon as President to have full freedom to try what he believes will work best.

This does not mean that the Johnson farewell will not reflect the Johnson philosophy and will not defend the many Great Society programs already enacted. He will not only defend them, but he will urge their continuance, and will set out the principles which he feels should and will guide his party back to the presidency in 1972.

LBJ is not retiring from politics because he is retiring from the presidency. He will be playing a major role in the leadership of the Democratic Party, along with Humphrey, Edmund Muskie, Edward Kennedy and others. In the coming months there will be a lot of Democratic politicians riding the jets to Texas.

But one fact is clear above all others. Lyndon Johnson would rather see his party pitted against a successful Nixon Administration than to see either the nation or his party inherit the catastrophe of failure. This is why he is doing his part — and more — to make the transition from outgoing to incoming President unprecedentedly effective.

When you think back to the sterile hiatus between Herbert Hoover and FRD, the cold, unspoken relations between Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower, and the superficial contacts between General Eisenhower and John Kennedy, it is evident that the Johnson- Nixon transition is an achievement of great dimensions.

As an ex-President, LBJ wants to be as continuously helpful to Nixon as General Eisenhower was to him — and that will mean he isn't going to heckle from the sidelines.

To those who know Lyndon Johnson, none of this is surprising.

Four Southerners Cast Key Votes For Kennedy

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Sen. Edward Kennedy owes his election as Democratic Whip to four southerners.

The four Dixie solons who made it possible for the 36-year-old New Englander to wrest the key party job from Sen. Russell Long, LA., ARE: Sen. Russell Long, La., are:

Sen. J. William Fulbright, Relations Committee, who supported young Kennedy in the secret ballot for two reasons — his opposition to the Vietnam war, and long-standing disapproval of Long on personal grounds. Fulbright, leading congressional critic of the conflict, has angrily tangled with Long on this and other issues.

Sen. Albert Gore, Tenn., member of the Foreign Relations Committee, who also backed Kennedy because of his opposition to the war, and personal aversion to Long. Gore, a member of the finance committee, of which Long is chairman, has sharply clashed with him in the committee's deliberations and on other matters.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Tex., militant liberal who has differed with Long on important economic and other legislaton. While geographically they are from the same section, ideologically they have little in common.

Sen. William Spong, rookie Virginian, a warm admirer of Kennedy's assassinated older brothers, who has a high regard for "Teddy." Like Yarborough, Spong also is ideologically much closer to young Kennedy than to Long.

UP TO 24 HOURS before the secret voting in the Democratic caucus, Kennedy had 27 firm commitments in his challenge of Long for whip. That was two short of the majority needed to win. In the final hours of the tense backstage maneuvering and electioneering, Kennedy secured the backing of the four southerners that enabled him to defeat his older and senior-ranking Louisiana rival.

Long counted on the support of the 10 Democrats on the Finance Committee, and if he had gotten it, the race might have had a different outcome.

But there were two defections in the secret balloting — Gore, who had repeatedly tangled with Long on various questions, and Sen. Fred Harris, Okla., who has become a strong Kennedy enthusiast since coming to Washington. Harris was co-chairman of Vice President Humphrey's campaign for the presidential nomination, but remained on warm personal terms with the Kennedys.

SENTAOR Long did get the backing of two finance committeemen who might have been expected to desert him for Kennedy.

They are Senators Vance Hartke, Ind., and ardent Kennedy partisan, and Eugene McCarthy, Minn., who lately has been saying he offered to throw his support to "Teddy" for the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention.

This McCarthy claim is spurious. That is not what happened. At the Chicago convention, McCarthy indignantly rejected a proposal that he switch his faltering strength to "Teddy."

New Home Owner Learns by Doing —And So Does Army, It Seems

Take a bit of advice from a freshly seasoned homeowner. Anyone who thinks the extra expenses end when he gets the deed and the key is a novice.

The big costs come first, true — down payments, closing costs and the other little nibbles one finds out about by experience.

It's afterward the unexpected costs come up, little items like appliances severly nicking the bank account, new furnace filters, fireplace tools, pruning shears, a pipe wrench, posthole digger, wood drill, leaf rake, long tape measure, paint, odds and ends of hardware and material that would supply a battalion in the field for days.

Homeowners, like married men, live longer. They have to give up all those expensive, unhealthful rich foods and exotic beverages.

Now I know what keeps the economy going — keeping the house going, that's what.

EVER WONDER what happens to good ideas? Someone tries them out. Months and months ago, Councilman (now Mayor) Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley suggested the Army beautify Mount Tamalpais by camouflaging its radar domes to blend in with the mountain and be less conspicuous to the nature-loving eye.

The Army thought it a good idea, and later reported it had come up with a dark olive color as the least conspicuous and most mountain-like.

Then, as if it had suddenly been elected vice president, the project disappeared.

Through roundabout sources we learned the other day what happened. On a recent tour of Fort Baker, Meyer met Maj. Gen. James R. Winn, commanding general of the Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command.

What ever happened about painting the domes? Mayer asked.

We tried it, the general answered, on one of the domes on the headland. When the sun hit the dark paint it raised the inside temperature so high it fouled up the electronics and radar.

And that is why Mount Tam's domes are still white. And very cool.

THE MOUNTAIN will have to come to Mahomet, the Sausalito City Council decided Tuesday.

Councilman Alexander R. Imlay complained the city had written twice to the Sausalito Arts Association asking the artists to come in and start arranging the arts festival for next Labor Day, but Albert Garvey and Co. have not responded.

"They'll come in June or July and want the space, and there'll be a lot of braying if we don't give it to them," Imlay said. "We'll be anti-art and everything else."

"Let 'em complain," councilman George Hoffman said. "It's not our fault if they're disorganized. If they don't come in . . . I'm willing to vote against them, and I'll go on record on that."

The association may be delaying because of its efforts to land the former Bayside School buildings as an art center, which would provide an excellent festival site outside downtown Sausalito.

Whatever the reason, the council agreed it will write no more letters to the association to go unanswered.

Hanging silently in the air was the threat that if the artists don't come in soon to talk, they needn't bother coming at all.

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Tax Rate Comparisons Mislead; It's The Dollars That Hurt

Fusselman

Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell, like all other elected officials, has certain prescribed duties to perform, one of which is to keep the board of supervisors and the public informed of the status of the going financial picture.

One such piece of information he receives at the end of each year is from the state controller. On Jan. 3 the I-J carried the following story covering this "County Tax Rate Below Majority For California" was the heading. Here is the article:

"Marin County's basic tax rate of $2.27 per $100 assessed valuation is lower than most of the other counties in the state, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said yesterday.

"Of 58 counties 35 have higher tax rates than Marin and 22 have lower rates, according to an annual report released by State Controller Houston L. Flournoy.

"The average overall increase in the budgets of the 58 counties from 1967-68 to 1968-69 fiscal year was 15.27 per cent. Marin's increase was 7.87 per cent. Thirty of the 58 counties had a higher percentage of increase than Marin.

"WHILE MARIN ranks 18th in population, it ranks 20th in the size of the county budget the report said."

Unless there is an all around consideration of the factors involved, such reports as the state controller's, could, like aspirin, "work wonders" in relieving the pain in your pocket book each December and April when you have to shell out. But, when all the factors are considered it's like the end of aspirin effectiveness, the pain returns.

One of the biggest hoo-mallimallis of them all, whether intended or not, is this measuring by tax rate and/or by percentages. As an example, if 2 is added to 2 you have a 100 per cent increase — take 2 from the resulting 4 and you have a 50 per cent decrease — first jubilation then disappointment.

COMPARING TAX rates is completely misleading unless one considers the relative assessed valuation components and the type of activity being carried on. In a "County Comment" of May 10, 1958 (those days I bought space to express my concern), in part, I had this to say: "Your county taxes have had a per capita increase of 77.9 per cent from 1953 to 1958.

"The part the board of supervisors has control over and is responsible for has increased over 70 per cent." I was talking about your county taxes, not tax rate. I was talking about the dollars you pay out.

1958-59 tax rate per $100 valuation, $2.30.

This year's tax rate per $100 valuation, $2.27.

This year's property taxes, $11,941,291.

That's the way the dollar bills crinkle . . . here in Marin . . . 3 cents less on the tax rate . . . around $300 million more assessed valuations . . . $7 million more taxes. No hoo-malli-malli.

No Progress So Far In AP Strike

NEW YORK (AP) The strike of the Wire Service Guild against the Associated Press went into its second day today.

A federal mediator scheduled separate meetings with the two sides after a joint session yesterday resulted in no announced progress toward settlement.

The news agency continued to supply its basic services in 50 states and throughout the world, including general, state, sports and financial news as well as photos and newsfeatures. The work was done by executives, exempt employees, non-guildsman and some guild members who chose not to join the strike.

The AP, in a suit filed in State Supreme Court here, sought to enjoin the United Telegraph Workers from leaving their jobs in observance of picket lines established by the guild at AP New York headquarters and at bureaus across the country. The union was ordered to show cause today why the injunction should not be issued.

The guild represents 1,313 editorial, photographic, clerical and other employees of the AP throughout the country. Negotiations have been under way fir five weeks. The old contract expired Dec. 31, but was extended six times until Wednesday night when the guild broke off negotiations and subsequently called a strike for yesterday.

The AP offered a three-year contract calling for a $250 weekly top minimum salary for experienced newsmen, photographers and some other classifications at the start of the third year. The guild's last proposal called for a $264 top minimum.

The Advertiser was unable to publish this morning and the Star-Bulletin was prevented from publishing yesterday. The Star-Bulletin was not expected to appear this afternoon.

The two newspapers and the Hawaii Newspaper Agency, which prints and distributes them, filed a charge with the National Labor Relations Board alleging the walkout is an illegal secondary boycott.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

A Good Rule: Never Smile Before Score Entered In Pad

When you bid a makable slam with only 31 points in high cards you have good reason to congratulate yourself, but don't sprain your wrist patting yourself on the back until you've brought the slam safely home. If you save your smiles until the score has been entered you won't have to eat crow very often.

DRAWS TRUMPS

Declarer took the queen of spades, drew three rounds of trumps and then led out the ace and king of clubs. This play would work if the clubs broke normally, if either player had the singleton ten or queen, or if East had four clubs.

Unfortunately, West had the club length, and his two club tricks defeated the slam.

South was right for the first four tricks, but then he played the clubs badly. He should take the ace of clubs and then get to his hand with the ace of spades to lead the next club from the South hand.

SAFETY PLAY

If West plays a low club, declarer tries a finesse with dummy's eight of clubs. South doesn't mind losing this finesse, since then the clubs will break normally, and dummy's king will later clear the suit.

As the cards lie, the eight of clubs wins; and South then has an easy time. If West put up the ten of clubs, declarer would win with dummy's king and lead the eight of clubs to force out the queen.

EQUALLY SAFE

South would be equally safe if East had started with Q-10-x-x of clubs. In that case West woudl discard when South led the second club toward dummy. On seeing West's discard South would take dummy's king of clubs and return the low club toward the jack in the South hand. This would limit East to one club trick.

In short, the proper safety play in clubs would protect declarer against any 3-2 or 4-1 break of the five missing clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠— 7 6 3 2
♥— J 10 5
♦— K Q 10 5 3
♣— 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds.

In spite of your magnificent trump support for diamonds, this is a woefully weak hand and you cannot afford to make a stronger bid.

Not So Funny

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Economic sanctions against this breakaway British colony have touched the stage. The Salisbury Repertory Players have been refused permission to produce the American musical "Funny Girl."

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Jan. 10, the 10th day of 1969 with 355 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Mars. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1966 Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri died at the age of 61, just hours after he signed a peace treaty with Pakistan over a border dispute.

A thought for the day: British author Martin Farquhar Tupper said, "Well timed silence hath more eloquence than speech."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

1969 VARIETY PACK

1. Want To Build?

Why not consider this lot in a most desirable neighborhood in Sleepy Hollow? With more than one wooded acre, you can build your own home and use the rest as an investment or for another home. The street is paved — shops, transportation and school are easily accessible and you will like it! $15,000.

2. Here's Another

If it's a larger homesite you want, have a look at this two and a half acres with a view of Mt. Tamalpais and surrounding valley. It boasts a private road. Let us help you work with the owner on some excellent financing. $21,250.

3. Interested In Income?

This valuable R-3 property is just waiting for someone to construct 15 apartment units. Existing dwelling will provide small income until you are ready to build. Located in an established apartment area in Strawberry, it is ideally suited for easy San Francisco commuting. Come in and discuss it with us. $54,950.

4. Boater's Delight

Here is the perfect family home that boasts 100-ft. frontage on a deep-water canal. Ti up to your own spacious dock — relax on your covered patio with the Bar-B-Q ready. You'll never tire of the view from all of the large rooms to your own back yard Venice! The three bedrooms, two baths and big family kitchen lend comfort to this boat-fancier's dream, close to the San Rafael Yacht Club. Most cooperative owner. $59,950.

5. Tree Top High In Los Ranchitos

Complete privacy within and without for a very large family or for two families living together. This modern two story home was designed for the owner with just that in mind. It is tremendous in every respect! The family room takes over the entire first floor — then up the stairs to a most unusual atrium suitable for dining the year around. The rest of the home includes five bedrooms and four an one-half baths, fashioned around the atrium center (which, incidentally, can be covered or open). Each room is accessible to an outdoor balcony encircling the house. The view is truly indescribable! We have just listed this one at $69,500.

6. Santa Rosa Rancho

Comfortable country living in a modern two story home situated on a knoll overlooking its own 30 acres. Decks extend the view from the 3 bedrooms. Family room, 2½ baths and 3 fireplaces add to the comfort of this charming retreat. The acreage is fenced and irrigated. Let us explain the excellent financing. $103,000.

Warsaw Braces For Major Boom

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A 300,000 population growth limit for the next 15 years has been ordered for the Polish capital.

Mayor Jerzy Majewski told a news conference yesterday the measure is being taken to insure improved living conditions within the scope of the city's housing program.

Warsaw, 85 per cent of which was destroyed during World War II, now has 1.3 million inhabitants. City planners aim to hold the number to 1.6 million by 1985.

According to the mayor, this will be acomplished by restricting new residency in the city. Generally, only those who marry a resident of Warsaw or those required by highly specialized industry will receive permission to settle here.

This, combined with the planned construction of 300,000 new apartments in the next 15 years, will assure better housing conditions, he said.

Student Target Refuses To Quit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul Rand Dixon says he has no intention of resigning the chairmanship of the Federal Trade Commission as urged by law students who did a critical study of the agency under the direction of Ralph Nader.

At a news conference yesterday, Dixon said the report calling for his resignation is "a hysterical, antibusiness diatribe and a scurrilous, untruthful attack."

The report was issued Sunday after a summer-long investigation of the FTC. The students were organized by Nader, a critic of the auto industry and government agencies.

Nader could not be reached for comment on Dixon's rebuttal.

Baby Sale Denied By Hell's Angel

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A Hell's Angels motorcycle club member charged with selling his 4-month-old son for $700 pleaded innocent yesterday and was ordered to stand trial March 13.

Dore Anthony de Madona, 29, and his 18-year-old girl friend were charged with selling their baby to a childless couple, the William Daljans of Glendale.

TV REVIEW

Tom Jones Arrives In Big Style

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The mother country sent us a Welshman last night. Tom Jones, the pop singer, arrived on ABC-TV in an hour musical-variety special taped in London, a preview of his series that begins on the network Feb. 7. And the introductory hour was strictly a heavyweight show business production.

In fact, one wonders whether Jones' series can live up to Thursday night's special, or whether he has anything left over for a substantial encore. If he does, he and his show may be a force to be reckoned with American television, for his special expended many of his hit songs, among them:

"Delilah," "It's Not Unusual," "Hard To Handle," "My Elusive Dreams," "Bright Lights and You Girl," "Good News," "I Can't Stop Loving You" and "Land of a Thousand Dreams."

Jones also had superior backing all around, from the high-powered look of the production itself, to the excellent musical support of the Jack Parnell orchestra, the Squires group and the Mike Sammes singers, to the exceptional performances turned in by all his guest stars. These guests were Dick Cavett, the Fifth Dimension, Juliet Prowse and French chanteuse Mireille Mathieu.

The Fifth Dimension was also flying high Thursday. The group sang "Up, Up and Away" and "Shake Your Tambourine," and was purely delightful. So, too, was Miss Prowse in a colorful dance production. And Miss Mathieu is a showstopper in the manner of Edith Piaf. Her face as a simple, breathtaking beauty, and her songs can send a chill through you and bring a tear to the eye.

Jones himself is something of a curiosity. Though a Welshman, many of his songs are one in what is essentially a black American style. This makes him, at once, not at all particularly British, yet efinitely international in appeal.

Work Extension On Water Lines

The Bolinas Community Public Utility District board has granted contractor D. J. Hallgren a 10-day extension to complete installation of water lines, and agreed to buy Hallgren's excess materials for $607.

The extra materials include eight-inch pipe, a gate valve and other plumbing.

The board, meeting Wednesday night, appointed Gus Johnson, caretaker for the district dump site on Lower Olema road. Secretary Mrs. Katherine E. Martin said some people are still illegally dumping trash at the site, which is intended only for garden clippings and only for Bolinas residents. The board also ordered "no parking" signs put at each end of the dump site.

The board authorized putting rock on Poplar Avenue to protect water lines from damage by rutting.

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — California's freeway system is a flop in urban areas, and only if state highway funds are turned over to regional governments will the public get the kind of transportation it needs, Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post has reported.

Urban freeways not only do a poor job of serving both commuters and through travelers, but also often ignore community values, according to his report to the Assembly Transportation and Commerce

His report will be heard by the committee at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday here in the Capitol, and is expected to spark a strong defense of the freeway system by the Business and Transportation Agency.

"The fundamental problem is to reconcile the conflict between transportation needs and community values," said Post. Community values include preservation of parks, clean air, views, homes, the local tax base, open space and neighborhoods, he noted.

One result of the conflict, Post explained, can be the sort of stalemate that has occurred in San Francisco, where the community rejected state freeway plans. "Such stalemates prevent allocation of state funds to solve transportation needs in these communities," he said.

The result is that communities unwilling to sacrifice their own values cannot obtain state and federal funds for transportation needs, according to Post's report.

Current state law also allows the state to divert gas tax contributions from communities which choose to impose a sales tax on themselves to finance public transit, said Post, on the ground that public transit reduces the need for freeways.

Thus, the voters' reward for imposing a sales tax on themselves is a loss of gas taxes they would have received if they wanted freeways instead of public transit.

The failure of the department to accommodate community values, Post conceded, is "an outgrowth of the failure to define adequately the purpose of the state highway system." And this failure to make the definition is the responsibility of the Legislature, he added.

The Business and Transportation Agency, said Post, has ignored the recommendation of the Governor's Task Force on Transportation that regional transportation districts be created. This "can only be interpreted as a strategy to retain the status quo," declared Post.

Also necessary, he said, is a "thorough investigation by a committee of the Legislature" of the agency's highway policies.

The failure of the agency to resolve the conflicts between its policies and community values, he said, leads to the conclusion that "the case for control by a regional government may be as strong as the case for continued control by a state agency reorganized or redirected to assume broader responsibilities.

"As long as freeways are free to local government, whereas alternative solutions have a cost in local taxes, the freeway has the decided advantage," Post said.

Commission Of Theologians Due

VATICAN CITY (AP) — An international commission of theologians demanded by progressive circles in the Roman Catholic Church will be set up soon.

Bishop Ladislav Rubin, Vatican secretary general of the Bishops Synod, announced the move today at a news conference dealing with the synod's extraordinary session to open next fall.

Bishop Rubin said the extraordinary synod would last "more or less two weeks" starting on Oct. 11. Pope Paul VI called the synod last month to debate the role of national bishops conferences, their degree of independence from the papacy and relations between the Vatican and the conferences.

Southern California May Get Transportation Committee Chair

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate Rules Committee is showing signs of granting Southern California lawmakers a prize that could mean more highway money—the chairmanship of the Senate Transportation Committee.

Two southern senators and one from Northern California appeared to be in the running for the position that may be vacated by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka.

Collier has been a principal roadblock to changing the division of highway money to give Southern California a larger share.

Collier, however, has confirmed he wants to swap jobs and take over the chairmanship of the Senate Finance Committee left vacant by the death of Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez.

Seeking to replace Collier are Democratic Sens. Lawrence E. Walsh, Huntington Park, and Tom Carrell, San Fernando, and Alan Short, Stockton.

All three candidates are currently members of the transportation committee, which reviews all highway legislation. That makes it a prime target for freeway-conscious Southern California.

Senate leader Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said he would like to keep the chairmanship in the north, if he "has anything to do with it."

But the south has sought for years to gain control of the committee with hopes of changing the apportionment of gas tax refunds to give it a larger share of the highway construction money.

Walsh introduced a bill Tuesday to change the split from 45 per cent north and 55 per cent south to 42.5 per cent north and 57.5 per cent south.

Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, has promised to introduce a bill changing the split to 40 per cent north and 60 per cent south, which would shift $40 million a year from the north to the south.

The Order of the Garter, founded by King Edward III in 1350, is the highest order in England, says Collier's Encyclopedia.

Pueblo Library Gift Memorial To Hodges

CRESWELL, Ore. (AP) — The crew of the USS Pueblo has sent $1,600 to Creswell High School to buy library books in memory of Duane Hodges, their shipmate who was the only fatality when North Koreans captured the ship a year ago.

Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher of the Pueblo telephoned yesterday to tell of the gift and said the crew specified that the gift should be bought for the school where Hodges graduated in 1965. Each volume will have an inscription as a memorial to Hodges, who was buried here.

Woolworth Heirs Purchasing Seals

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Dime store heirs Seymour and Northrup Knox today pushed toward the conclusion of a deal to bring the Oakland Seals franchise in the National Hockey League to Buffalo at the start of the 1969-70 season.

The Knox Brothers, heirs to the F.W. Woolworth Co. dime store fortune, announced at a news conference yesterday evening they had "entered into a contract" to purchase the Oakland entry from Berend Van Gerbig.

POOR SUPPORT

Poor attendance has left the Oakland franchise in financial trouble since the California city entered the NHL. The league reportedly has made loans of up to $3 million to Oakland to keep the team in business.

But Seymour Knox, twice burned by "premature" announcements of his sports dealings, cautioned newsmen that the agreement was subject to "several conditions," including approval by the NHL Board of Governors and the expansion of the Memorial Auditorium seating capacity.

Local hockey sources said Knox already had lined up the nine NHL votes needed for approval.

PRICE?

Knox vainly sought an NHL expansion franchise in 1965—when Oakland was accepted—and was a part of the aborted effort to bring major league baseball to Buffalo last May when the National League chose San Diego and Montreal.

Knox declined Thursday to disclose the purchase price of the Seals, but said a "substantial amount is involved—considerably in excess of an NHL expansion franchise in 1965."

Reports circulated around the NHL during the past few weeks that the Knox group, Niagara Frontier Hockey, Inc., was prepared to pay $5 million-$6 million for the franchise. The asking price for an expansion club four years ago was $2 million.

APPLICATION

Knox said his group already had presented a formal application for the franchise shift to the NHL. He said he hoped the Board of Governors would act upon the application at its Jan. 21 meeting in Montreal.

Knox said he would talk with city officials "immediately" about expanding Memorial Auditorium seating capacity from 9,800 to 16,080. The Buffalo Common Council approved such a plan in 1965 and in view of the latest development, the lawmakers were expected to reaffirm their approval at an early date.

The NHL requires a seating capacity of at least 12,500.

"We're really excited at this second chance to bring major league hockey to Buffalo," Knox told newsmen. "There are hundreds of thousands of fans who cannot see live major league hockey and I'm sure this development will be great news to them."

NEGOTIATIONS

Knox said his group went through "two months of tough and delicate negotiations" before signing the contract for the purchase of the Seals.

He indicated he would keep at least a good share of the Oakland management at their jobs after the move to Buffalo.

"They have a good organization, but are simply in an impossible situation," Knox said.

Knox said he expected Sam Ruby and Al Pastor, the owners of the Buffalo Bison entry in the American Hockey League, to join his group in the NHL. He said the Buffalo franchise would be shifted to another city and the AHL would be paid, an indemnity for the loss of the Bisons.

Scottish Fly Caster Returns To 'Palace'

Peter Anderson can float a fly into the mouth of a trout from a distance of 100 feet. His technique with a trout line is flawless. His casting accuracy is amazing.

Anderson is fly casting champion of Scotland. Once again he is demonstrating his skills for Cow Palace crowds at the annual San Francisco Sports and Boat Show where he made his American debut a year ago. The show opened today and will run until Jan. 19.

Anderson was such a big hit last year that Tom Rooney, managing director of the show, brought him back for repeat performances this year. Anderson cuts a colorful figure in his clan's tartan. He is known as the kilted fisherman from Kirkintilloch.

Enjoys Chats On Fishing

Anderson isn't just a colorful character. He is an extremely capable lecturer on fishing fundamentals. But he dislikes being called a lecturer.

"I try not to lecture," he said. "But I enjoy friendly chats about fishing."

Obviously so do scores of young and old fishermen who crowd about him as he explains how he makes a trout line sing to target areas of the show's 100-foot casting pool.

The Secret Is Delivery

"Deceiving a fish into taking a lure is the basic idea of fishing," Anderson says. "All anglers understand this. The difficulty for most is delivering the lure to a spot where a trout can mouth it."

Anderson makes 100-foot accuracy casts look simple. If the show's casting pool extended beyond 100 feet, Anderson's accuracy wouldn't suffer. Distance is no problem for him. Among his dozen professional titles is a salmon spinning distance record of 106 meters (347 feet).

Attracts Huge Crowds

Four years ago Anderson drew a crowd of 18,000 to one of his talks in Edinburgh. The following year another speaker was substituted for Anderson. Only 3,000 turned out. Anderson was put back on the program and a crowd of 21,000 turned out.

Ten years ago Anderson won the British and European Amateur Casting Championship and repeated the following year in 1960. He has just turned 30. He decided to turn pro. He quit his job as Scottish sales representative for a London firm.

"It was a big decision," Anderson said. "Naturally, I'm glad it worked out the way it has."

Win Net Semi-Final Spots

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Margaret Smith Court, former Wimbledon champion who announced her coming retirement earlier this week, defeated Kerry Melville of Australia, 6-2, 6-2 and gained the semifinal round of the Victorian women's singles tennis championships today.

In the other semifinal, 18-year old Kerry Harris upset Karen Krantzcke, 6-3, 11-9, for her second straight surprise. All are Australians. On Wednesday, Miss Harris eliminated Judy Tegart, also of Australia.

Dick Creary and Alan Stone, not good enough to be chosen the doubles team in the Davis Cup Challenge round last month, won men's tandem crown by downing Bill Bowrey

Canadiens Clobber Seals, 8-4

MONTREAL (UPI)—There's something about those Canadian teams in the National Hockey League that dismantles the Oakland Seals.

The defending NHL champion Montreal Canadiens tallied four goals in each of the first two periods last night to whip the Seals, 8-4.

Ehman scored with the game 1:47 old to give the Seals a 1-0 lead but Henri Richard quickly tied the score. Hampson came back with a goal and Oakland again took the lead until Jean Beliveau, Cournoyer and Dick Duff zipped the puck past Oakland goaltender Gary Smith in the opening period.

Veteran Charlie Hodge took over in the nets for Oakland after Smith gave up five goals on 12 Montreal shots. Hodge didn't fare much better while allowing three more goals.

With Montreal leading 8-2, Hampson and defenseman Carol Vadnais tallied for Oakland in the final period.

Redwood Booters In First

Redwood High School's soccer team moved into first place in the Marin County Athletic League, upping its win-loss record to 2-1 with a 6-1 blasting of Novato at Larkspur yesterday.

Drake, winless in three previous starts, knocked Marin Catholic out of a creack for first with a 5-0 blanking at San Anselmo.

Sifford Blasts Sizzling 63 In L. A.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The cast of leading characters in today's second round of the $100,000 Los Angeles Open has something old, 45-year-old Charlie Sifford, and something new, 22-year-old Grier Jones of Wichita, Kans.

Sifford, first Negro to win a major golf tournament, came in with a first-round 63, eight under par, yesterday for a three stroke lead after 18 holes of the 72-hole tournament which ends Sunday.

Thirty-two golfers in the starting field of 144 were under par 36-35—71 on the Rancho Park municipal course. Three of them landed at 67—Jimmy Walker, a 30-year old Los Angeles "rookie" who has won only $225 as a pro; Terry Dill, Austin, Tex., a regular but not big winner on the PGA tour; and Bob Murphy, pro rookie of the year in 1967 who amassed earnings of $105,000 in 1968.

Australia's Bruce Crampton shot a three-under-par 68 and defending champion Billy Casper and eight other pros carded 69s.

(San Rafael's Ron Cerrudo shot a one-under par 70.)

Arnold Palmer who has won this tournament three times could do no better than a one-over-par 72, the same as U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino.

Sifford's 63 was one shot off the course record of 62 set by Phil Rodgers when he won this tournament in 1962 and tied by Palmer when he took it in 1966.

Sifford's nines were 35-28. He had an eagle three on the 526-yard 13th hole where he sank a wedge shot from 40 yards. He took one bogey—when he missed a three-foot putt on the third hole—and had seven birdies.

Jones, a refreshingly boyish fellow who is the father of 10-month old twin boys called Carey and Corey, had 11 one-putt greens and took a total of only 25 putts. He had six birdies and one bogey on his card of 32-34—66.

"I putted real good," he said. "I didn't sink any long ones but I made every one from under six feet."

He played in four tournaments after he turned pro last fall and when asked how much he had won, he came back quickly with the precise figure—$1,301.46. He was a finance major at Oklahoma State but needs more credits to get his degree.

Hill, 31, who earned $34,000 last year, had five birdies and all the rest pars on his card of 34-32—66. He sank a couple of whoppers on the greens—an 80-foot putt for a birdie four on the eighth hole, and a 70-footer for another birdie four on the 13th. He also had a 25-footer on the 17th and a 15-footer on the 18th.

The first-round weather was overcast with a slight chill in the air but attendance was estimated at 7,500.

North-South Senior Bowl Tomorrow

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — If tomorrow's Senior Bowl football game turns into a passing duel as expected, the outcome likely will hinge on the throwing of the North versus the receiving of the South.

That's the way the opposing coaches—Allie Sherman of the New York Giants and Charlie Winner of the St. Louis Cardinals—see it for this first play-for-pay action by 56 of the nation's top college seniors. The game will be televised at 11 a.m. on NBC. (Rosters appear on page 39.)

"Neither coaching staff plans it that way," said South coach Winner, "But these All-Star contests usually wind up as passing games.

"If that's the way it goes Saturday, there's no doubt who our key men are," Winner continued. "We've got the two top college receivers in the country in Ron Eellers (Florida State) and Jerry Levias (Southern Methodist.)

"Sellers set all sorts of records and you know that Levias; when you get the ball to him, he really knows what to do with it."

North coach Sherman obviously feels that quarterback Bobby Douglass of Kansas is the key to whether the North can make it four out of five in North-South All-Star games this winter.

"This kid is the best lefthanded passer I've seen," Sherman said. "He has a little trouble keeping his timing with new receivers, but he's going to make someone a good pro quarterback."

The North's burden rests on Douglass for the second straight Saturday since the squad's other quarterback, national offense leader Greg Cook of Cincinnati, is still bothered by the sore arm he developed prior to last week's American Bowl at Tampa, Fla.

In that game, Douglass, going most of the way, led the North to victory.

TWO SUB-PAR ROUNDS

Golf Scores Soar In Alameda Open

SUNOL (UPI) — Neither Bill Ogden nor Rich Martinez has ever done anything on the pro tour, but both have a shot now for the top prize of $10,000 in the Alameda Open Golf Tournament.

The two shot matching two-under-par 70s in the opening round yesterday to share the early lead. While a 70 really isn't much to brag about, in the Alameda it looks more like a 65 or 66. That's because Ogden and Martinez were the only players in a field of 144 to break par over the long and tough Palm course at the Sunol Valley Country Club.

Four other players—Butch Baird, Dick Lotz, Don Whitt and Rick Jetter—had even par 72s. Then, the scores rolled all the way up to 90 and the possibility existed today that the cut after 36 holes may be as high as 154, which easily could make it one of the highest in PGA history.

Whitt, playing the back nine first, went out in four-under 32 and had a chance for a real sparkling round. However, he faltered badly on the front nine and had to settle for a 40-32—72.

Ogden, club pro at Tucson (Ariz.) National and Chicago's Northshore, has been a pro for 18 years but he never has played to any regular degree on the tour. He went out in two-under 34 and came home in 36 for his 70. The round included three birds and one bogey.

Martinez joined the tour out of Laguna Beach in May 1967. Last year he won just under $9,000 and his aim is to be able to play in as many tourneys as possible this year. He went out in 35 and came home the sane way, picking up four birds and two bogeys along the way.

Whitt and George Buzzini Jr., a young pro out of Manteca, eagled the par-five, 595-yard 18th. Whitt chipping in from 80 feet away and Buzzini, who finished with a 77, bouncing in a 125-yard nine iron shot.

Bobby Lunn, who won $102,700 on the pro tour a year ago as a soph, shot a 38-37—75 that put him in a tie with 17 others. Seven players tied at 73 and 10 at 74. The 74 group included the veteran Tommy Jacobs, former amateur champ Deane Beman and Dean Refram.

Italian stars Roberto Bernardini and Dino Canonica, making their debuts on the U.S. tour, both shot 77s. Bernardini won the Italian Open the past three years and was runnerup in the World Cup at Rome in 1968.

Dodgers Sign Sogge; O.J. Gets A Manager

The two stars of the University of Southern California's second-ranked football team appeared together at a news conference to talk about the turns in their destinies.

Simpson, whose spectacular rushing won him the Heisman trophy, said he's signed a "total management" contract with Sports Headliners, Inc., of Indianapolis.

It will handle all his affairs, including negotiations for a pro contract. Simpson is expected to be the No. 1 draft choice this year.

Sogge, Trojan quarterback, is less known as a baseball catcher. But he's a good one and the Los Angeles Dodgers signed him to play with their farm club at Spokane.

Sogge said he signed as a free agent to what he called a very fair contract. "Terms were not disclosed. Said Dodger player personnel director Al Campanis: "He's an outstanding receiver with a good arm. For a catcher he can really run well."

Simpson said Barnes "will have charge of my contract negotiations, my investments, my taxes and other business dealings. I want to be in a position where I can devote most of my time to football."

Bourdase Still Leads Keglers

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Dick Weber of St. Louis trailed Ed Bourdase of Fresno by only 16 pins following last night's action in the Professional Bowlers Association $45,000 Southern California Open.

Bourdase, who has led since the ninth game of the tournament, finished the 24 game qualifying round with 5,219. Weber came from fourth place to finish in the runner-up spot with 5,203.

Davalillo's Brother Says No Breakdown

CARACAS (UPI)—Vic Davalillo, former Cleveland Indian infielder now with the California Angels in the American League, is recovering from an acute gastric ailment in a Caracas clinic, his brother reported yesterday.

The FISHIN' FOOL

STEVENS

Life has its ups and downs, generally speaking, and its report of fishing hither and yon have a similar pattern for this reporter. On Wednesday of last week I suffered what must be called a relapse and by the doctor's orders spent that day and several more in a supine position, but nagged with apersistent urge to send forth through my newspaper articles the information that reached my desk.

The first concise but comprehensive report came from Bette Urbais of the Sausalito Boat and Tackle Company. I received an authentic report that the huge comfortable rock fishing boat, Blue Horizon, (worked the North Farallon Island) hoisted aboard 24 limits of big yellows and fine fat reds. The ocean cooperated by remaining flat and the temperature warm and sunny. All sportsmen partaking of the trip were able to verify their claim of fishing by the Indian complexion obtained from the sun. (This latter state of being was somewhat surprising due to the opposite weather and water conditions on the inside of the Gate).

THE RED AND yellow rock cod were to good size ranging from three to six pounds and the end of the catch included 15 of the highly desired ling cod which weighted up to 23 pounds.

NOTE: the famous Blue Horizon, working out of Sausalito Boat and Tackle, has curtailed its rock fishing trips to Saturdays only until further notice. Other days, the Blue Horizon will go for salmon.

Bette and Rick Urbais reported brief details for a four and one-half day trip on one of the beautiful sea-going cruisers, which are extremely well-appointed — staterooms, dining room, TV and radio. These luxury fishing boats are berthed at Point Loma, San Diego. For more specific information, call Bette or Rick Urbais, Sausalito Boat and Tackle.

TO THOSE WHO like to combine a scenic automobile trip with a better than fifty-fifty chance of doing battle with the fighting steelhead of the Klamath River, from below Wetchepeck to above Happy Camp, should welcome the news that the famous Klamath River is still producing steelhead to the guys and gals who have the know-how and the patience to await a run.

"River in fine shape in spite of recent storms, winter steelhead in this area now. Best results have been on fresh roe and Hot Shots (yellow and silver or red and silver lures have same effect). Fishermen with results and limits are taking fish that average four pounds each.

"BOB GOERNER of North Hollywood, limits to eight pounds.

"Dr. William Christie of Sunnyvale; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Flack of St. Helena with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lilienthal of Napa, all limited out."

and Ray Ruffels, 9-7, 6-4, 6-4 in an all-Australian final.

Major matches on tomorrow's program are the men's semifinals in which three United States players are involved, plus Ruffels. The Australian will oppose Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., the U.S. open and amateur champion, in one match while Charles Pasarell of Santurce, P.R., opposes Stan Smith of Los Angeles in the other.

Hendricks Honored

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ted Hendricks, defensive end for the University of Miami (Fla.) yesterday was named the outstanding college lineman of the year by the Washington Touchdown Club.

Jim Foor, 19, a southpaw pitcher from St. Louis who was Detroit's No. 1 man in the June 1967 free agent draft, will get a chance to make the Tiger pitching staff next spring. He won four of five decisions with Montgomery, Ala., last season.

DUNK FOR JUNOR JET — New York Jets defensive end Steve Thompson gets squeals of delight from his son Ole as he is dunked in a pool in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where the Jets are staying awaiting their Super Bowl clash with the Baltimore Colts. (AP Wirephoto)

COUNTDOWN BEGINS

Football, A Mental Game

FRT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—The rough stuff is over. The Baltimore Colts and the New York Jets will use the final 48 hours before Sunday's Super Bowl game in Miami to brush up on strategy and sharpen their mental edge.

On the matter of game psychology, New York coach Weeb Ewbank has a couple of complaints. One is that he has to keep the reins tight on his Tigers so they won't be ready too soon. The other is that nobody seems to take the Jets seriously as a threat to knock off the National Football League Kings for the first time in three Super Bowls.

Colts coach Don Shula, whose team is the three-touchdown favorite, says his preparations are drifting along cooly: "We're not chafing at the bit—yet. We don't want that until Sunday."

And the Colts one and all speak nothing but praise and respect for Joe Namath and the Jets. It would be unsporting, of course, to knock them, but it would also be foolish for Baltimore to risk getting overconfident.

"If you listen to people talk, it would be foolish for us to dress. But we're going to," Ewbank fusses.

Baltimore licked Cleveland 34-0 in the NFL title game. Ewbank said, "No AFL team was licked that badly in the Super Bowl. Yet they don't downgrade the Browns like they do the AFL."

The first two world championship games ended in 35-10 and 33-14, Green Bay victories over Kansas City and then Oakland. Until the AFL champion makes a better showing, few will be convinced the league has pulled even with the NFL. Ewbank believes his team is the best so far to represent the newer league in the championship games.

New York opened practices in Florida two days before Baltimore and Ewbank says his men were "ready last week. That's the problem, trying to calm them down. I have to caution them not to get as rough as they did Wednesday . . . they scared me there for awhile."

Neither coach is looking for a wide-open ball game. Ewbank put down any ideas of "getting rich quick" on Namath's bombing arm. And Shula says he's adding nothing more than "a few wrinkles" to the usual Colt attack because "I don't think it's a game that will be won or lost with any gimmicks. Good, hard football is what this game will be."

Wild Time In Oakland; Oaks Win

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Oaks, behind a balanced attack, rolled to their 11th victory in a row, 136-115, last night to rrun their season's record to 30-4.

Oakland jumped to a quick lead and was never headed while avenging a 134-127 setback to the Rockets in November. It also marked the fourth straight win for the Oaks without their scoring ace, Rick Barry, who is sidelined for the entire month with torn knee cartilages.

Gary Bradds, Barry's replacement, tallied 24 points, Henry Logan added 22 and guard Warren Armstrong netted 21 for Oakland.

It began when Oakland center Jim Eakins, a 6-11, 215-pounder, squared off with Bill McGill, 6-9 and 225 pounds. In a matter of seconds, Denver's other big man, 6-9 Byron Beck, dashed off the bench and joined the fray with other players and coaches.

Armstrong was quickly in the middle of the fist-swinging and landed a couple of punches on Beck's head, leaving a welt under Beck's right eye.

COMEBACK AT 23

Matson To Make Return

Matson, who started in a stock brokerage training program in Houston last week, has given up the idea of playing either professional football or basketball.

"Oh, I thought about it a lot," Matson said in a telephone interview. "I don't know if I could have made it. But I'm interested in a business career and I would have to put it off until I completed professional athletics.

"I hate to quit track now. I'm just 23. I should be able to improve."

Matson, the world and Olympic record holder in the shot putt, received offers from both the Dallas Chaparrals of the American Basketball Association and the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League.

He stands 6-foot-6, weighs some 255 pounds and is quick, quick, quick.

"I had some pretty good offers," Matson said. "I really think they were higher than what I would have been worth to them. The offers were real fair, but not such as would make it worthwhile to me."

Matson has already begun workouts at the Houston downtown YMCA health club.

"I hope to compete this year in selected events," Matson said. "I hope to make as many meets as I can. It will take another month for me to get into decent shape so I could throw in competition. I hope to be in shape in time for the Fort Worth indoor meet in February. I would also like to go out to the West Coast for a meet or two."

Matson said his employers—Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis—were "interested in me competing. This is a real good situation for me. I will go to training school in New York in July for two and one-half months and then take exams to get registered."

Matson said he would like to see the development of professional track and field.

"It would be real good for the track athlete," said Matson. "It's hard to compete as an amateur and try to hold down a job.

"It would also strengthen the overall track program. More youngsters would want to concentrate on a career in track and field instead of football and other sports."

Matson said he had given some thought to the possibility of competing in the 1972 Olympics in Munich, Germany.

"It's a long way off," Matson said. "I'll have to take it day by day. If it gets to the point where I'm unable to compete well I'll give it up. I want to win—not just compete."

As you can see, Randy Matson is back.

Coast Cagers Get Ready For League Business

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The funsies are over for West Coast basketball teams who get down to the serious business tonight of league clashes.

And after the smoke clears this weekend, fans will have a fair idea of what club may possibly knock off third-ranked Santa Clara (12-0) in the West Coast Athletic Conference or UCLA (9-0), the nation's No. 1 power. in the Pacific Eight Conference.

The Bruins from Los Angeles could run into a toughie at Oregon which won the Far West Classic last month. It is also the Pacific Eight opener for Oregon (6-3).

Southern California (7-5) and Oregon State (4-4), meanwhile, open their conference season at Corvallis, Ore. USC and UCLA swap Oregon opponents Saturday night.

Washington State and Washington, both one game over the .500 mark, have played top-notch basketball at times this season. But they will have to be at their best against California (6-3) and improving Stanford (4-7) this weekend.

The University of Pacific Tigers, sporting a fine 7-3 mark, open WCAC play with a pair of toughies on the road. Powered by a sturdy front line of Tom Jones, Bill Stricker and Pat Foley, the Tigers tackle the University of San Francisco tonight and Santa Clara Saturday.

UOP must shut off the Dons' fine 6-9 center Pete Cross who is averaging 23.2 points and more than 16 rebounds per contest.

If the Tigers get by Cross, then they come up against another solid front line of Bud and Ralph Ogden and Dennis Awtrey at Santa Clara.

The unbeaten Broncos figure to have too much artillery tonight for the St. Mary's Gaels (4-7). Santa Clara, UOP, San Jose State and Loyola won their opening WCAC matches and sport 1-0 records.

California will rely on the rebounding and defensive work of its 6-10 center, Bob Presley, and the shooting of hot sophomore Jackie Ridgle to get by the two visiting clubs from Washington.

In the Far West Conference, pre-season favorite San Francisco State, paced by All-Conference selection Girard Chatman, runs into a solid Cal Aggies squad at Davis. In other Far West action, Humboldt State visits Sacramento State, Sonoma State is at Nevada and Chico State hosts Hayward State.

Sacramento State outrebounded Portland State 72 to 46 last night to pull away in the final quarter for a 98-83 victory.

Marin High School Cagers Open League Play Tonight

It's a brand new season for all eight Marin County Athletic League basketball teams as they open fire in loop play tonight with four games all beginning at 7 o'clock.

The best and the worst records in non-league games won't mean a thing after tonight.

The big clash finds Redwood, sporting the top practice game record at 10-3, visiting ambitious and dangerous San Rafael High (5-6).

The two other members of what should be a four-team race will avoid each other tonight. Novato (11-4) hosts Drake (2-7), Marin Catholic (0-10) hosts Tamalpais (2-9) in Kentfield and brand new San Marin (1-8) is at Terra Linda High (7-4).

Drake will be playing without starting guard Dave Alvarado. Alvarado, third-best scorer on the squad, will be out for the rest of the season. He suffered a broken wrist crashing into a wall during a practice session this week.

San Marin's Gary Howard still holds the best scoring average in non-league games at 20.9 but Bruce Nave, junior guard from San Rafael, Ed Herrnberger of Novato and Pat Purcell of Terra Linda have picked up heavily. Nave has a 16.2 average, followed by Herrnberger at 15.3 and Purcell at 15.1.

HERE'S HOW QUARTERBACKS SHAPE UP

Los Angeles Rams Get Their Man

Culminating a 12-day search, the Rams hired a new head coach this week. He is the 14th head coach in the team's history.

His outstanding qualifcation was, he was out of work at the time of the hiring. It is believed he will be more of a company man than his predecessor.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed but a club spokesman did say, "We think we have found the best man for the job. This should allay the public fears that the new coach we got would not be as good as the man we fired. We have every reason to believe our new coach will be every bit as good as the old one."

THE NEW coach allowed as how he expected he would like it in Los Angeles. Aides noted he is very familiar with the Ram personnel. Several of the Rams had announced they would not be back next year in protest of the firing of the old coach. It is expected, however, that they will adopt a wait-and-see attitude with the new coach.

The owner of the club, who had complained it was "difficult" for him to "get through" to his old coach, said he expected no such difficulty with the new coach. Outsiders predicted the installation of a carrier-pigeon service at once, and also expected the front office would send a 11x20 glossy of the boss, together with a complete physical description, and instruct him to wear a carnation in his buttonhole. Rumor has it, the old coach was told to "go over and talk to the boss" one day, and he paused, and asked in a whisper, "Which one is he?"

THE OWNER said he also talked to several other prospects but feared a "personality conflict" might crop up with some of them. His new coach, he hinted, looked more like his type of guy — a coach he could work with.

The front office was all smiles over the outcome. Several of them even went so far in expressing their joy as to cut their wrists.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT ceremony had all the warmth of the surrender signing on the battleship Missouri. The whole thing was as dignified as an axe murder. I have seen more smiles in a police lineup.

The search for a coach came to an abrubt halt, it was learned, when the team physician, Dr. Jules Rasinski Jr., phoned the owner, Dan Reeves Sr.

"I believe I have just the man for you," the doc told Dan.

"Will I have to go to court to get him?" Dan asked suspiciously.

"No, he's out of work," said the doc.

DAN FROWNED. "How come, if he's so good?" he wanted to know.

"Personality conflict with the owner," the doc said sadly. "You know how those things are."

Dan was relieved. "Oh, sure," he said snapping his fingers. "Only trouble is, I don't want someone like that last guy I had. Could never find him. Sent the dogs out one day, hired a private detective agency. To this day I don't know what he looked like, and I know he didn't know what I looked like because one day he handed me his suit to have pressed."

"YOU'LL HAVE no trouble finding this guy or recognizing him," the doc assured him. "He's 40 per cent hair, he wears out two combs a week, and he'll even sleep downstairs in the maid's room. Only thing is, I don't know how good a coach he is."

"Oh," Dan said airily. "That doesn't matter. The last guy I had was a great coach for all the good it did him — or us."

Abernathy Back With The Cubs

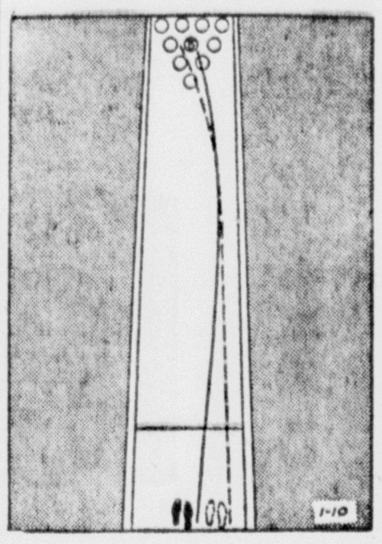
CHICAGO (AP)—Relief pitcher Ted Abernathy returned to the Chicago Cubs yesterday in a deal that sent three players to the Cincinnati Reds.

Going to the Reds are a pair of rookies, catcher Bill Plummer and Pitcher Ken Myett plus infielder-outfielder Clarence Jones.

Abernathy, with the Cubs in 1965, had a 10-7 record for the Reds last season. He was credited with 11 saves and posted a 2.74 earned run average in 78 games.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



The 5-pin may look like the headpin when it is standing alone on the lane, but don't be taken in by this illusion. You should move your starting position several boards to the left when aiming at the 5-pin, for it is some 18 inches farther away. Your ball can do a lot of hooking in that distance.

MARIN BOWLING

Treadway Rolls Year's First 700

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Dick Treadway of Corte Madera whacked out the first 700 series of 1969 Marin County Bowling when he rolled a 724 series in the 910 Travel League at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Treadway, veteran secretary of the Marin County Men's Bowling Association, started off the night with a 238, followed with a 208, and then strung out a lot of strikes for a 278.

NEXT WEEK will be the last week bowlers can enter the month-long Meals for Millions high series tournament which has been going on at all three Marin County bowling houses.

Entry cards can be purchased for $1 week nights from 6:30 to 9:30 at the Meals for Millions table near the main desks at Greenbrae Lanes, Nave Lanes near Ignacio and Country Club Bowl.

"Overall, it looks like the tournament will be a success," says tournament chairman William G. Thompson. Proceeds of the tourney go to underprivleged people throughout the world.

THIS AND THAT — Big scores were the rule at Country Club Bowl this past week, with nine bowlers going 643 or better. After Treadway's 724, it was Lou Eastland, 264-687; Ed Henry, 685; Jerry Lile, 682; Phil Wallace, 256-659; Bill Henderson, 246-665; Bill Rhodes, 660; Walt Silva, 652, and George Wigner, 643 . . . Jon Vissman has a 134 average, it says in small print, but don't tell the other bowlers in the Post Office League after his 232 game . . also in the P.O. league, George Choice, 149 avg., rolled a 228 . . . Country Club's Women's honor roll this week included Peggy Quezada, 225-589; Kay Brem, 570; Anne Baccei, 226-567; Sylvia Knutson, 557, and Joan Curristan, 547.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Secretary Ruth Soldavini of the Lutheran Early League reports a bowling milestone for Drake High School basketball-football coach Carl "Red" Brown, his first over 200 (a 216), and first over 500 (552) . . . In the same league, Bill Costello led all with a 247 . . . Nancy Cottrell of the St. Isabella's Women's League at Nave Lanes had a first, too, a 202 . . . In the Merry Mixers League at Country Club, George Wigner (168 avg.) rolled a 236 game and 643 series to be top gun, while Harlan Averill, (160 avg.) rolled 236, Larry Lansdowne (141 avg.) tossed a 223, and Maggie Giubbini made good on the 6-7-10 . . . Jim Madsen rolled a triplicate 127 series at Nave Lanes' Thursday Late Mixed session . . . Ken Holzwarth picked up the 6-7-10 split in the Friday Nite Leftovers at Nave Lanes . . . Craig Parrish and Don Roqui were big bantam bowlers at Country Club, Craig going 54 pins over his average with a 143 game, and a good pickup on the 5-6, and Don rolling games of 155 and 153.

Burglars Steal Champ's Medals

ANTIBES, France (AP)—Burglars broke into the home of France's Olympic skiing champion, Marielle Goitschel, and stole her medals and trophies as well as some household goods, police reported last night.

The ski champion, retired from competition, was in Switzerland when the burglary took place at Biot, near this Riviera town.

Thousands of spectators were milling through a Cow Palace packed with wondrous boats of all sizes and shapes, and camping and traveling odds and ends today as the 27th annual San Francisco National Sports and Boats Show was unveiled for a 10-day period through Jan. 19.

The Coot, Sno-Jet, Clodhopper, Ski Doo T'NT and the Toyota Land Cruiser are just a few of the more exotic land and sea and snow vehicles to be exhibited specifically for fishermen, hunters and ski enthusiasts.

In addition to literally hundreds of boats in the main arena, there will also be scores of new sporting items, from log cabins, to underwater vehicles to boat loaders and radar.

The Coot is a positive traction, four-wheel drive, an amphibious vehicle with an all-steel hull—ideal for the fisherman or hunter to get into the back country fast.

The Sno-Jet is suited for competition racing, snow-rallying, winter hunting or fishing.

Among the log cabins will be a pre-cut colonial model by Pan-Abode, a do-it-yourself package.

Showtimes will be 2 to 11 p.m. weekdays, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturdays and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sundays.

Rick DeMont Leads Marin Swim Times

Rich DeMont led eight members of the Marin Swim Club by placing in three national top five times among age group swimmers as tabulated by the Jantzen division for the Amateur Athletic Union.

DeMont was second best nationally in the boys 11-12, 200-meter freestyle (2:17.8); fifth in the 200-yard individual medley (2:28.2), and second in the Junior Olympic 200-meter freestyle (2:18.5).

Ken DeMont was fifth nationally in boys 9-10, 50-yard butterfly (31.6) and Cookie Arrighi was fifth in girls 11-12, 50-yard butterly (29.9).

The girls 13-14 relay team of Denise Ham, Ann Engel, Robin Bachrach and Sue Secondo took third in the 200-yard medley relay, fourth in the 200-yard medley relay and second in Junior Olympics 400-yard medley relay. The Misses Ham, Engle and Bachrach teamed up with Nanette Guthrie to take two national best times in the 400-yard freestyle and the 400-meter medley relay plus fifth in the 200-yard freestyle.

Rick DeMont scored heavily at the Colorado Invitational Meet last week, winning all six events in which he was entered.

Stirling Moss

"I can't recall a car in which the seats afford such an astonishing degree of luxury. Correction. The Mercedes-Benz 600 does—but it will cost you 10 times as much as this one. Covered in leather-cloth, the Renault 16's seats are filled with thick foam cushions and give full support where you need it..." "The front ones are fully reclining and are adjustable through a multitude of positions..."

"The rear bench seat is also adjustable: in fact, you can take the whole thing out if you want to."

(So said Stirling Moss in QUEEN Magazine, a British publication. He was talking about the Renault 16 Sedan-Wagon. The sedan that changes into a station wagon. And back again, whenever you want.)
